GERMANS IN RETREAT ALL ALONG RUSSIAN FRONT

Allied Artillery in New Positions is Pouring Annihilating Fire on German Defenses in France.

Today's War News Given in Summary

A German retreat all along the line of the front in Russia from Riga to Volhynia is reported today. The unofficial news to this effect comes from Petrograd through Rome. It declares that a triple defeat for the Germans in the Riga, Kolki and Baranovichi sectors caused them to begin a movement of their whole front westward. Petrograd has recently announced successes in regions mentioned in the Rome advice. The last report from the vicinity of Kolki in the crucial Volhynia sector, recorded the capture by the Russians of more than 7,500 prisoners, half a dozen cannon and 23 machine guns.

A great battle is raging along virtually the entire front of the British offensive in northern France. At daybreak the British launched a new drive east of Albert. Important tactical successes were gained in several sectors, London announces.

The Germans simultaneously attacked in force near the River Ancre and north of Fricourt. They succeeded in temporarily occupying two or three hundred yards of ground lost in the earlier British drives. The chief advantage gained by the British were in the vicinity of Ovillers, Contalmaison and La Boisselle. Near the last named place in an engagement last night a German trench more than a half mile in length was captured.

Meanwhile the French, both north and south of the Somme in the field of the great allied offensive, are resting on the ground won in their notable advances of the last week. Efforts of the Germans to break the line now held by the French before Peronne, at one point within two and one-half miles of that city, have been futile, according to Paris.

There is a comparative lull in the fighting about Verdun, but artillery actions on the right bank of the Meuse, north of the citadel, are still violent.

London, July 7.—The second phase of the great battle on the western front has now begun. The artillery has been brought up to new positions and is again battering the German defenses. The bombardment extends as far northward as La Bassee, and according to the latest unofficial advices, is particularly intense.

British long range guns are shelling the German positions and the roads in their rear and until the infantry again leaves the trenches it will be uncertain where the next attacks are to be launched.

See Relief for Verdun.

In addition to inflicting losses on the Germans in men, guns and territory, the Anglo-French offensive is reported to have compelled them to withdraw some of their forces from the Verdun front. Consequently it is expected in London that the army which for nearly five months withstood the German attacks in that region will have some relief from continual fighting.

On the eastern front the Russians, who now apparently have even a better supply of guns and ammunition than their adversaries, seem to pass from one phase to the next without intermission. Gen. Letchitzky's army, which conquered Bukowina and cut the railway between Delatyn and Korosmezo, is advancing in an effort completely to overcome the Austrian forces on that front. Gen. Kaledines is continuing to deliver heavy strokes against the Austrians and Germans who are endeavoring to keep him from Kovel.

Russia Strikes New Blow.

With these operations in full swing the Russians to the north have inaugurated an offensive from Riga to Baranovichi. Along the northern end of the line from Riga to Dvinsk a great bombardment has begun, while from a point east of Vilna to Baranovichi artillery preparation was followed by infantry attacks in which the Russians report they made many prisoners, repulsing German counter-attacks. Near Smorgon the Russians and Germans also are engaged in a severe struggle.

Rumania, it is said here, is awaiting some move by the entente forces at Saloniki. The near east is interested in the battles throughout the Caucasus and Mesopotamia. The Russian army which was advancing toward Bagdad has fallen back some eighty miles under pressure from the Turkish forces which were brought against it, but elsewhere from the Black sea to the Persian frontier the Russians, according to their statements, are more than holding their own. No news has been received recently from the British army in Mesopotamia, but it is believed inactivity has been enforced by the great heat.

GERMAN PRESS COMMENT.

Too Early for Final Verdict on Present Situation.

Berlin, July 6.—6 p. m., Via London, July 7.—9:05 a. m.)—The military correspondent of the Zeitung Am Mitta, commenting on the war situation, writes:

"The fighting on all fronts is increasing in extent and violence. The enemy everywhere is attempting to throw fresh troops into the struggle, which seems to be approaching nearer and nearer its maximum intensity. The mightiest exertions are being made on all sides to force a decision and the tension can scarcely become higher."

After summarizing the official reports from the various theatres of war, the correspondent continues:

"It is still too early for a final verdict upon the situation as the struggle on the principal fronts still are in progress. The Germans have hitherto been able to hold the enemy's advance on the west as well as on the south and east. Neither British, French, Russians nor Italians have attained large or decisive successes while, in places where the central powers have assumed the offensive, as in Volhynia and south of the Dneister, the operations have been conducted with success.

HAY HERE, HAY THERE AND HAY EVERYWHERE

It sure was hay time at the corner of West Main and Broadway Friday morning when a big load tipped over, scattering itself everywhere. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock when a farmer tried to turn the corner, catching the wheels of his rack in the car tracks, throwing the load to the winds. The young man driving the rack refused to give his name. The city cars were delayed a few minutes while the load was being taken out of the way and there prevailed for a short time not a little excitement.

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., July 7.—According to an unofficial report forty members of Company E have failed to pass the physical examination and will return home within the next day or two. The Fort Wayne company is expected to leave Monday for the Mexican border. At what point it will be stationed has not been divulged.

The boys are busy packing equipment and getting things in readiness for leaving. Several of the members of the company are ill from vaccine injection.

Although only five feet and a half inch tall, "Kid" Crawford, a well known Fort Wayne pugilist, succeeded in passing the examination. He put one over on the examining officer by standing on his toes and as a result succeeded in increasing his height to five feet and four inches, which is the minimum.

TWENTY-TWO MORE DEATHS RECORDED

Hot Weather of the Past Few Days Has Done Wonders to Growing Crops

Harvesting has commenced in Allen county. The hot sun of a week has added a deeper yellow to the gold of the fields and the big grain laden heads have begun to bow, making ready for the final stroke that will send them to the mill to be converted into flour. The wheat yield promises to be most satisfactory and of splendid quality.

The hot days have also done wonders to the growing corn, much of it now being waist high. The fields are clean and free from weeds except in some low spots where the dampness made it impossible to cultivate it. Oats are also looking good and a good crop is assured. The yellow weed which is the bane of the raiser of oats is somewhat troublesome especially in fields that have been recently tiled. On the whole, the outlook for oats is up to the standard.

The moist weather of the spring has brought a very heavy growth of grass and the hay fields have yielded an abundant crop. Before many more days much timothy will be put up.

REALTY DEALERS WILL HEAR CIVIC DIRECTOR

At a meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate Exchange at the Commercial club on next Tuesday night, John E. Lathrope, director of the city planning department of the American Civic Bureau of New York, will speak. Mr. Lathrope is an authority on city planning and the meeting at which he will speak is given great interest as a result. Mrs. Josephine L. Nesbitt, director of Fort Wayne's city health and beautification campaign, will show slides illustrative of Fort Wayne scenes. Many attractive residences are included in these scenes.

Mr. Lathrope is in Fort Wayne preliminary to a plan to bring the New York exhibit of the civic bureau to this city. He announces that the exhibit closed June 9 in Lancaster, Pa. It has been in many of the larger cities of the country. The exhibit represents work done in 200 cities of the country.

Garrett Has One Case; See Little Danger Here

One of the first cases of infantile paralysis, which is playing havoc in New York and Brooklyn, in Indiana in many weeks, is reported at Garrett, where Margaret Bloedel, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. Bloedel, 14 months old, is suffering from the disease. The child is said to be in a serious condition.

Since the outbreak of the disease in New York, where many deaths have occurred, much interest has been aroused throughout the entire country and Fort Wayne physicians have been besieged with questions concerning it. According to Dr. L. P. Drayer, however, there is little danger of an epidemic in Fort Wayne. There have been a few occasional cases in the past, however.

The greatest danger lies in Fort Wayne people, who have been living in infected areas, returning home. It is possible for them to bring the disease with them.

Nature of the Disease.

Infantile paralysis virus is supposed to enter the body through the mucus membrane and there is no way of diagnosing the disease early, except, possibly through laboratory findings in the spinal fluid. First there is a high fever without any apparent cause and after the fever has run its course paralysis develops.

The disease may manifest itself in spinal infection or brain infection and very often will cause impairment of the mental faculties, as well as the physical parts of the body. So far as is known the disease has never been universally prevalent, although there have been epidemics in various cities throughout the country.

No Cases in Fort Wayne.

So far as is known there is not a single case of the disease in Fort Wayne at the present time, and, according to local physicians, there is no occasion for undue alarm. As precautionary measures, however, it is well to avoid crowds and public places; keep the nose, throat and mouth clear; abide by the rules for general health and cleanliness and avoid over exertion, constipation and fatigue. While children are more subject to attack, grown-ups are sometimes stricken, the disease being no respector of age.

ANOTHER NEAR TERRE HAUTE.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 7.—The first case of infantile paralysis in this vicinity was reported today by Dr. W. F. Roberts, county health officer. A small child was stricken in Honey Creek township, seven miles west.

ART SMITH SAYS HE'S IMPROVING RAPIDLY

Art Smith, the nervy Fort Wayne bird man whose fame has extended around the world, is recovering radily from his late injury and is the idol of all Japan because of his brilliant flights before the royalty of that country according to messages received by Fort Wayne friends.

George Rowland, a missionry in Japan, in a letter to friends tells of the accident several days ago in which Smith fell 150 feet.

"Several of us Americans were at the grounds when the accident occurred. Two of us helped to carry him to the hospital. Some of us are with him all the time to interpret and to help the nurses. Smith says this will be an excellent time to learn the Japanese language, during his confinement.

"Smith is getting along nicely. There is no fever to speak of and seems to be no internal injury. The worst of it is a fracture of the right leg between the knee and hip. It is knitting rapidly, his physician says.

"The young flyer captivated our city of Sapporo and the whole nation. Our governor general, Mr. Tawara, and the mayor, Mr. Abe, have been to see him since he has been layed up. His gentility has done more to win the hearts of the natives than his skill in the air. He is literally surrounded by the pomp of the land.

"Smith has been outspoken on the temperance question and when a banquet was given for him recently in Sapporo no intoxicating liquors were served out of respect for his principles. That incident had quite an effect on people of Sapporo and was widely heralded."

In a letter to his mother, who lives just west of Fort Wayne, Smith, the noted flyer, tells in a mild way of his laurels and impressions of Japan.

"We have been met with lots of enthusiasg. Their interest here is expressed in medals. I have six medals now and have received notice of ten more that are being made. Kushi, my manager, says he expects at least one from each of the places yet to fly. That means about eight more if he does. Talk about a Russian general. Gee! they won't be in it.

"After a good flight we went up to Toyama, another city on the western coast. It is one of the fine old cities and used to be a capital. It is fragrant with lotus and tea trees. It rained there for three days. I could only make one flight. They gave Kushi 3,500 yen. (In American money this is $1,750).

"At Gifu, another beautiful harbor town, backed up by mountains, we could not fly at all because of storms for three days. When I did start out I made two dandy turns. In the afternoon I almost put the city to sleep. I hovered over the top of one of the thousand foot high mountains, which sticks up out of the sea, and then I dove behind it. I was hid from the crowds standing on the field. I let my engine stop while I coasted down the back side of the slope. They thought I was a goner. Women fainted. Then I flew around the side of the mountain and landed. They went crazy.

"Before I flew there they took us out to see bird fishing at night. This is the only place in the world where this sort of fishing is carried on. They take six or seven boats and float down the river. There is an iron basket at the end of the boat with a fire blazing from it.

"They have fifteen or twenty birds on a boat. The birds look like wild geese. The fishermen tie a string around their necks. Another string is tied to their leg. The birds dive down and catch the fish and try to swallow them. The fish go down just as far as the string. The necks of the birds are pretty well swelled up when they are hauled in.

"The fish are landed by squeezing the necks of the birds and making them cough up their catch. Some birds bring in fifteen or twenty small fish at a time. The fish are about the size of sardines, but once in a while you find them a foot long.

"It is a wonderful sight to a stranger, watching the birds dive down and soon be pulled up with fish kicking in their mouths. The gold medal I have from Gifu has a picture of this fishing on it. I had the honor of going out in the first boat and thereby officially open the season this year. It is considered quite an affair here.

"From Gifu we went to Kanazawa. Two days here with cloudy weather, I flew through the clouds. I received a beautiful Kagaware vase from the governor of the province. This province is world famous for this kind of china. The vase is hand painted by one of the best national artists. It is splendid. It is in gold and all colors, bearing clusters of chrysanthemums and bamboo. Kushi said in New York it would be worth $600. It is not for sale. It stands eighteen inches high.

"I think it will be fine in the front window there on rural route 5, Fort Wayne, Indiana, U. S. A."

MARKS TRIAL SET FOR NEXT TUESDAY

July 11 Date for Hearing of Case Against Head of Molders' Union.

Merle Marks, president of the moulder's union, is held under $500 bond for trial on July 11, after a preliminary hearing Friday morning in the municipal court on a charge of resisting an officer. Marks struck at Officer Petgen and "fought like a wild man," according to testimony in court, when Petgen tried to induce him to move away from the entrance to the foundry room of the Western Gas Construction plant last Wednesday.

Attorney William Freuchtenicht, representing Marks, argued that Marks had a right to be near the plant as there is no law against a man going where he pleases along the streets of Fort Wayne.

Police Chief Lenz said that it was necessary to keep strikers from the plant because of the phyisical danger in case of an outbreak. J. J. Griffin, who came to the assistance of Officer Petgen, when he was struggling with Marks, testified as to the resistance put up by Marks. He said Marks tried several times to hit Petgen.

Marks and his friends have filed a petition with the board of safety asking for the removal of Officer Petgen for his action in this case.

Quartet Fined

An elaborate beer party, ending in a row, caused Edward Wilson, Fred Marquardt, Mrs. Fred Marquardt and Mrs. Bertha Johnson, colored, to be fined $10 and costs each in municipal court Friday morning. The party had been staged Thursday night at the Marquardt home, Lillie street and the Wabash railroad. Police were called near midnight to settle a fight there. Neighbors were gathered about the house. Wilson and the Johnson woman were swearing. They were all hauled to the station.

Other Police Court Cases.

Mrs. Lizzie Guebard, charged with being intoxicated on the street, was allowed to go free after promising to quit drinking.

George Weighmaster, convicted last week of beating his wife and who has been held in the county jail for a week was granted his freedom. He was ordered to support his small child and to quit getting drunk.

Trial of Roy Katterhenry, charged with assault and battery because his automobile struck and injured a girl at the corner of Tenth and Washington streets, centennial week, was postponed for the fourth time. It is set for hearing July 14. It is expected that the case will be dropped, as the girl is recovering.

Trial of Henry Meyer, charged with striking a nine-year-old boy, was postponed for another week.

JOSEPH RAMSEY, JR., EXPIRES SUDDENLY

Former Wabash Railroad President Victim of Apoplexy.

East Orange, N. J., July 7.—Joseph Ramsey, jr., prominent as a railroad builder and engineer, and former president of the Wabash railroad, died suddenly of apoplexy at his home here today.

Mr. Ramsey was born in Pittsburg

sixty-six years ago and begun his railroad career as a level man for the Pennsylvania. He advanced in the engineering department rapidly and within a few years had built several small lines in the vicinity of his native city. These roads were absorbed by the Pennsylvania and other big companies.

Mr. Ramsey, in 1886, became chief engineer for the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad and later general manager of the Big Four. He filled a similar position for the St. Louis Terminal, and was elected president of the Wabash in 1901, serving until 1905.

This position he left to build the Lorain, Ashland and Southern railroad, of which he was president at the time of his death. He made his offices in New York.

WILL SEEK TO AMEND SILENCE ZONE LAW

Seventh Ward Councilman to Propose Certain Exemptions.

Proposal to amend the city ordinance providing silence zones in the vicinity of the hospitals will come before the city council at its meeting next Tuesday evening. Councilman Ofenloch, of the Seventh ward, will ask that the ordinance be amended to exempt hospital locations when they are adjacent to city parks and public schools.

The movement is the outcome of opposition by Seventh ward citizens to the proposed new location for Hope hospital facing Reservoir park at Clinton and Suttenfield streets, and in the rear of the Hamilton school. It seems practically assured that the hospital will be placed on the new location, although trustees of the institution will meet Friday evening to take final action.

Seventh ward folk have objected to the hospital on the ground that it would prevent the full and free public use of the park for band concerts, for skating in winter and for other public purposes. Councilmen as a whole are said to be favorably inclined to the Ofenloch plan.

CANNON GIVEN TO CITY

The cannon used by Commodore Perry in his victorious battle on Lake Erie, and which for years has stood in the yard at the Randall homestead, corner of East Berry and Lafayette streets, was removed to Hadyn park, Friday. The historic relic was given to the city by the Randall heirs recently.

CITY HALL NOTES

The board of public works has decided that automatic signals must be installed by the Fort Wayne and Northwestern traction company at the North Harrison street crossing where C. A. Hepker and his son were critically injured, when their automobile was demolished by a car, Wednesday morning.

Several car loads of creosote blocks, to be used in the paving of Packard avenue arrived Thursday. This will be the first Fort Wayne street paved with treated wood blocks.

ALL PROSPECT OF AGREEMENT FADES

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Democratic and republican members of the senate commerce committee came to a parting of the ways today in so far as any prospect of an agreement over the government shipping bill is concerned. Democratic senators declared it would be impossible to draft a bill to build up the merchant marine which republicans would accept without sacrificing every principle in the house bill and for which the administration stands.

The problem of the democrats is now to frame a measure commanding unanimous party support and to force a vote on it despite the determined republican opposition. Such a course will lead, leaders realize to prolongation of the session. Democratic senators will caucus again tonight on the bill.

Amendments being considered by the cimmittee includes a resolution excluding the secretaries of the navy and commerce from the proposed shipping board, modifying the government ownership and operation feature of the house measure, and a plan to make the naval auxiliary scheme the dominant feature of the bill.

DYE DECLINES TO GIVE LETTERS OUT

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—William Holton Dye, progressive national committeeman from Indiana, refused today to disclose the contents of letters he has received from members of the national committee replying to his communication informing him that the Indiana state committee is in favor of reconvening the national convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate for president to take the place of Theodore Roosevelt, who refused to run. He said he would make his report to the state committee at its next meeting.

Edwin M. Lee, state chairman, said he expects a meeting of the state committee will be held within the next ten days. Progressives are said to doubt the probability of the national convention being held.

CITY IS SUED FOR DEATH OF W. KEMPH

Damages in Sum of $10,000 Asked as Result of Accident.

Damages of $10,000 are asked in suit filed in superior court Friday by Arthur Kemph, administrator of the estate of the late William Kemph, against the city of Fort Wayne, alleging five children of the decedent are damaged in that amount as a result of the death of their father when dragged on the streets of Fort Wayne after a wagon in which he was riding was driven into a street hole, throwing him from his seat in the wagon to the street, his feet becoming tangled in the harness of the horses he drove, which subsequently dragged him to his death on his face.

The accident occurred, the complaint says, February 28, 1916, as Kemph drove to his home and was crossing the intersection of Beaver and Federal avenues. There was no safeguard, or lights around the place of danger, it is alleged, and the hole was of eighteen inch depth. A front wheel of the wagon sunk into the hole causing the wagon to topple, throwing him to the street. Phil B. Colerick is attorney for the plaintiff.

Divorce Is Asked.

Carrie P. Breman has filed suit in superior court against Charles Breman for a divorce and an order restraining Breman from drawing his funds from the Wildwood Builders company, and enjoining that company from paying him any salary due. The Bremans have six children, ranging in age from 7 to 16 years and the plaintiff asks the court to order her husband to pay $20 a week for the support of herself and children. Breman's earning power is placed at $28 a week. Emrick &, Emrick are attorneys for plaintiff.

Suit for Damages.

William Dothage has filed suit in the superior court for $1,500 damages against Henry Sandkuhler, alleging he was assaulted by the defendant July 1 last and knocked to the floor, having his hearing impaired. The complaint says the plaintiff is aged 60 and now a cripple. Phil B. Colerick is attorney for the plaintiff.

Judgment Is Rendered.

Judge Carl Yaple, of the superior court, has rendered judgment for $134 in the case of Ernest H. Leffler, 8, by next friend, Adam L. Leffler, against the Fort Wayne Municipal Electric Light and Power works, to collect $200 damages for injuries to the boy when he picked up a wire charged with electricity and alleged found lying in the street by the negligence of the defendant company. The accident occurred June 6, last, the boy, it was charged, being knocked down a 12-foot embankment and sustaining injuries for which he went to St. Joseph's hospital to be treated. The suit was filed Thursday.

Divorce Suit Filed.

Taken to Wells County.

Suit for $5,000 damages brought by Mrs. Florence A. Thomas against the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, has been filed in the Wells circuit court on change of venue from Allen county. Mrs. Thomas' claim is based on an accident that occurred on Calhoun street on September 21, 1914, when a traction car ran over and instantly killed Mary Irene Thomas, a five-year-old daughter of the plaintiff. She alleges that the car was operated negligently by the crew, and at a greater speed than permitted by law.

WANTS PETGEN REMOVED.

Merle Marks Makes Charges Against Veteran Patrolman.

After twenty-two years of service as policeman, Patrolman Petgen will appear before the board of public safety Friday night to answer a petition asking the board to remove him from the force. Petgen is charged with brutal treatment in connection with the arrest of Merle Marks, president of the moulders' union at the Western Gas plant last Wednesday.

According to the petition asking for Petgen's removal he unlawfully took charge of Marks and brutally struck him several times. "Such treatment was unnecessary and uncalled for," the petition says.

Petgen is one of the oldest members of the police force now in service. Fellow officers say he has made a reputation for being a careful patrolman. He would be entitled to retirement in three more years. Police Chief Lenz says he believes there is little chance of Petgen being removed. There is no other matter slated for the board meeting this week.

BILIOUS ATTACKS, HEADACHES AND CONSTIPATION

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Stop Your Headache, Relieve Your Constipation in Half an Hour.

When for any reason the liver gets "loggy" and refuses to perform its natural functions, the bile tubes are clogged, the bile (Nature's only laxative) does not flow freely into the bowels, but is forced back into the system.

That is the reason why you awake with a bilious headache—heartburn—gas pains — bilious stomach — foul breath—bad taste in the mouth and other bilious symptoms.

To use calomel and other strong drugs at such a dangerous time brings only temporary relief—and quite frequently salivates and upsets the stomach.

You should use a more natural, easy, pleasant way of correcting the trouble. Give your liver a Tollo Water liver bath. This famous water is found at Dawson Springs, the Kentucy health resort. Its effect is to dissolve the obstructions in the bile tubes and cleanse, purify and re-energize the liver. You can prove its benefits for yourself—and do so in 30 minutes, for, although, its action is pleasant and natural, it is also quick.

Get a 15 cent bottle of Tollo Water at your druggists. Before breakfast take a little in a glass of drinking water. You can eat what you like without fear of indigestion—headache and constipation will be relieved—the sour waste will be expelled from the system in half an hour. Do this occasionally and you will find your whole health improved.—Advertisement.

LITTLE GIRL WANTS TO BE SOLDIERETTE

San Francisco, July 7—Eight-year-old Lillian Tarpey thinks "I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier" is mere twaddle.

She is raising herself to be a soldierette—and doing a good job of it, too—at the Presidio here, where older girls of the national training service school are going through the paces learning to become Red Cross nurses.

LILLIAN TARPEY.

She is studying, she says, to become a soldierette when she grows up. "And," she adds, "I am the only soldierette around here, big or little, who is wearing comfortable bloomers."

The girls of the training camp call her "The Mascot." The little girl studies carefully every movement and drill evolution that the soldierettes accomplish, that she may pattern after them.

IS NOW ORGANIZED IN TWELVE STATES

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The first woman's party in the world, which made its debut when a great body of suffragists attended the recent Chicago convention, is now planning a model political organization.

Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, was made chairman of the party at the Chicago meeting.

Whether the woman's party will nominate a presidential candidate of its own has not yet been determined. It all depends.

The woman's party is sticking to just one plank for a platform. It is out for a federal amendment on suffrage.

If congress will pass the Anthony amendment the woman's party may be robbed of its first important issue.

"But we believe in preparedness," Miss Martin announces. "We are to have a conference at Colorado Springs, August 10. Then we will decide whether we will select our own candidates, or what we will do.

"The conference will consist of delegates sent by the voting women of the 12 suffrage states. Before the middle of August, we expect to have every county in each of the 12 states in perfect cooperation. Permanent headquarters will be established.

"We expect to reach every woman who is qualified to vote for president. Our literature campaign is a feature of our preparedness plans. Our speakers will tour the states continuously from the opening of the campaign. Mrs. Belmont has agreed to contribute $500,000 to our financial aid.

"We are getting ready to surprise voters with the quality and quantity of our political equipment. We will appeal to 4,000,000 enfranchised women.

"And we will use our power as voting women for one purpose only—to get suffrage for all the women of all the states through a federal amendment."

Constipation and Indigestion.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and must say they are the best I have ever used for constipation and indigestion. My wife also used them for indigestion and they did her good," writes Eugene S. Knight, Wilmington, N. C. Chamberlain's Tablets are mild and gentle in their action. Give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with this agreeable laxative effect which they produce. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

ALONG THE MEXICAN BORDER

nowadays curio dealers are selling a whole handful of paper currency, issued by one or another of the Mexican factions, for just one American dollar bill.

There's no real intrinsic value in either form of paper currency. Both Mexican and American banknotes are merely promises to pay so much real money on demand. But the difference lies in the fact that Uncle Sam has established a reputation, extending over 140 years, of meeting his obligations and the various Mexican aspirants to power, have proved merely good at promising.

The same situation exists in the Optical business. When you buy glasses you rely upon the guarantee of the man who made them. If he proves merely a good promiser, you stand to lose cash and eyesight.

It pays to buy known values. The conservative guarantee of a long established house with a reputation to sustain has a greater market value than the eloquent promise with nothing behind it. C. A. Meigs, Lyric Theater Bldg., has made glasses for nearly 25,000 of your friends and neighbors in and about Fort Wayne.

DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

II Thessalonians 3:6-15

6. Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7. For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8. Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9. Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11. For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.

12. Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13. But ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing.

14. And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15. Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

If we have any doubts about folks having been better than they now are, we have the answer in our reading for today. Can we find a community where they have no busybodies—no one who feels called upon to let Mrs. B. know what she happened to hear Mrs. A. say about her? This is just another variation of Satan's hindrance of the spread of the gospel.

Making the Best of It.

The continued movement of the national guardsmen to the Mexican border in view of the lessened tension which now gives hope that intervention in Mexico may be avoided, will occasion some surprise and no little regret among friends of the militiamen who responded to President Wilson's call at a moment when it seemed certain that nothing could avert open hostilities between the two countries. There was hope that in view of the changed situation there might be no occasion for further increasing the khaki-clad line along the Rio Grande.

Right along this line, however, comes a Washington dispatch which sheds some light. It says: "In case internal conditions in Mexico improve it will be the policy of the war department to place units of the regular army along with units of the national guard, in order that the national guardsmen may have the benefit of the experience of the regulars. The general expectation now is that during the months of August, September and October, and perhaps for a good deal longer period the United States will be conducting the greatest military camp in time of peace in the history of the country."

It is clear that Washington believes it has found a way to make the best of the bad situation which demanded the presence of the troops on the border. It is going to be expensive. It is going to be a positive harahip to many of the guardsmen. It is going to inconvenience their families and their employers. But we have been crying for preparedness in this country. Perhaps it will be worth it.

James A. Kelly, a street car motorman at New Albany, has set up a claim to a part of the estate of Hetty Green, asserting that a great-aunt of his father and an aunt of Mrs. Green, left to her a life estate in about $1,000,000 which was then to descend to nephews and nieces, of which his father was one. We wish Mr. Kelly well, but somehow, we haven't any great hopes of the fruition of his prospects. Getting money from the Hetty Green estate has never been an easy performance, and that thrifty woman doubtless did not fail to tie her purse-strings tightly before she went away.

Unless the city council provides a jitney-regulation ordinance that really regulates, it may as well save its time and its efforts. Any half-way law will be worse than useless. The public clearly has a right to expect the sort of enactment that will safeguard it against accident so far as possible and afford it proper means of redress when mishap does occur through wilfull act or contributory negligence on the part of the auto drivers. We have been delaying the matter too long already. Now that the thing is in hand, let it be done properly.

In his letter to William Dudley Foulke, of Richmond, State Chairman Lee calls Mr. Foulke's attention to the fact that the present instance is the second time within the current year that Mr. Foulke has withdrawn from the party—which may have been Mr. Lee's diplomatic and delicate way of informing Mr. Foulke that since he was already out, it is impossible to work up anything like a flood of scalding tears over the second retirement of the Richmond man.

Mayor Gossom, at Terre Haute, has now ordered the punch boards and similar gambling devices in that city cast into the junk heap, while the outside world has been presuming that civic regeneration at Terre Haute was already so complete that not a tinge of grime marred its immaculate whiteness. Rejuvenation may be but relative, after all. Terre Haute is so much better than it formerly was that a discovery like that of the presence of the punch boards now makes a noise like a dynamite blast.

Maine is once more coming into the limelight as an indicator of the direction in which the political wind is going to blow this fall and political workers are getting up steam for the contest in the state elections to be held on the second Monday in September. Speakers in large numbers from both parties will descend upon the Pine Tree state this month and next, but only Maine voters possess the sort of patience that will stand that sort of thing in the heat of midsummer.

The promotion of Captain Glenn VanAuken, of Auburn, to be brigadier-adjutant with the rank of major in the Indiana national guard will be immensely pleasing to the countless friends of the officer in northeastern Indiana. Major VanAuken has earned his promotion. He has given many years of active service to the state militia in various capacities, and has demonstrated his ability in all of them.

All Indiana health officers have been warned to be especially vigilant in watching for indications of infantile paralysis which in New York City has gotten beyond control and has reached the distressing proportions of an epidemic. The state board of health has acted promptly, and the people may confidently expect that every possible measure of precaution will be taken.

End of the Line

A MYSTERIOUS MALADY

(Indianapolis Star).

Some time ago it was reported that scientists of the Rockefeller institute had discovered the germ of infantile paralysis, but the story was evidently erroneous, for the sudden outbreak of the disease in New York shows that physicians are as much in dark as ever concerning its causes and cure.

It is a terrifying ailment because of this lack of knowledge. Parents become panic-stricken and medical men can only apply experimental remedies. Yet it is likely that the secret of the malady, when disclosed, will open the way to a cure or to an adequate means of prevention. It has been this way with other diseases. Smallpox has ceased to be a scourge; typhoid fever may be warded off; diphtheria, once so dreaded, now has a remedy. It may be vaccination, it may be a serum administered at the onset of the ailment, it may be a drug which will act as a specific; sooner or later, certainly, the mysterious disease will be mastered, for the most learned of medical scientists have it under observation.

Meanwhile, with the precautions being taken in all quarters by health authorities, the malady is not likely to spread far outside of New York. Its spread is greatest in crowded tenement houses and there it seems usually to have its origin. If parents will duly co-operate with health officers and keep their children from crowds, danger of infection will be of the slightest.

CONCERNING "KICKERS"

(Muncie Press)

The best cities and towns in the United States today are not the ones which are satisfied and believe themselves perfect, but the ones which are progressively and reasonbly discontented with the things about them which are not just right and can be improved. The community which is sublimely content is the stagnant community and it is very apt to be stagnant morally as well as commercially.

It is because cities are not content to live and suffer in typhoid and malaria that they have cleaned themselves up and given their citizens better sanitary conditions, and it is because they do not desire to waste away with immoral fever that they express their dissatisfaction, with temporary conditions in a civic cleaning up.

And so, although the chronic kicker, whom nothing pleases—is a pest to the earth, it will not do to confuse him with the man who, appreciative of what he has that is good, yet will not sit still in slothful content when he sees a chance to better himself or his community. There are two kinds of kickers.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Meyer Bros .Drug Co., Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, The Family Drug Store and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results, in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advertisement.

THROWN FROM "GIANT DIP."

South Bend, Ind., July 7.—Leroy Ross was thrown from the top of a "giant dip" at Springbrook park, when the car in which he was riding was going at full speed, and suffered only a few bruises about his knees. Ross was riding in the front end of the car when his foot slipped off the rail and his leg struck a heavy post beside the track. Te was jerked out of the car and thrown to the ground fifty feet below. It is believed the heavy grass in which Ross fell, saved him from injury.

THE SOUPHOUND.

Turkish towel and we'll go over and examine it.

What's the matter, is it mad at the soup? Just look at the way it bends over it and gets a half-nelson on the bowl, and listen to it gargle!

It ought to take the soup on the lawn but then too much watering isn't good for grass. Did you ever see or hear a horse that had lost it's back molars drink out of a trough Delightful sound, isn't it? Just like wringing the starch out of a tablecloth, well, the souphound has it faded three weeks from Sunday when it comes to the Niagara.

Besides soup it renders the vocal stuff with mush, soft boiled eggs and coffee. It's the same cookoo that pours its coffee in a saucer and takes a shower bath with each inhale.

Gosh, Al, take me away quick before I go down for the third time. I can't swim.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. FOUR NEW TEACHERS WILL BE EMPLOYED

Four new teachers will be employed in the Fort Wayne high school with the beginning of the fall term, according to announcement made by Louis C. Ward, principal. Employment of new teachers is necessary by reason of an increase of 25 per cent. in school attendance, during the past year, the enrollment jumping from 838 to 1,051 students during the year. Prof. M. H. Northrup, head of the commercial department of the Kendallville high school, has already been employed as one of the four new teachers, and names of the others will be known by ...st 1. The other three teachers wil... ...ployed for the mathematical, his... ...l English departments.

Certain Departments Heavy.

Mathematics and English, being required, are always heavy departments in high school during the first two years, enrolling many students, and since the state board of education has required United States history and civics for graduation, the history department now has increased its enrollment from among those students who passed the subjects by on the elective plan. Prof. Ward expects an enrolling freshman class this fall of 275 pupils, including 220 pupils from the grammar grades of the city schools and 50 to 75 students on transfer from the country.

Attendance to Grow.

Prof. Ward expects still larger attendance at high school with the completion of the plant of the Electric works. Employes of such concerns always have children of high school age, as a rule, he asserts. During the summer many pupils come to the city with parents who are taking positions in industrial plants.

The Fort Wayne high school building is being repaired in monor ways during the summer vacation.

The library is also being rearranged. More tables are being installed as the history work, which will be added, will require more reference work.

School Bonds Sold.

To cover expense of real estate to be purchased in the south part of the city and in Bloomingdale costing $50,000, and for the erection of an addition to the Hamilton school, with equipment to cost about $50,000, school improvement bonds were sold Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the school board in the office of J. N. Study, school superintendent, in the sum of $100,000. The premium on the bonds was $1,711.50, it being the bid of the Fletcher American bank, of Indianapolis.

MUCH OPPOSITION TO PASTOR AS HEAD

Chicago, July 7.—The contest over the presidency of the Baptist Young People's Union of America grew warmer when the twenty-fifth annual international convention opened for the morning session at the Coliseum here today. The opposition to a pastor-president became more pronounced as the advocates of the lay-president plan in the nominating committee declared a growing conviction that the highest denominational efficiency would be induced only under the executive guidance o fthe laiety.

Opposition to the program of the nominating committee clearly was apparent. It is understood to have been fostered by the board of managers which takes the position that since the pastor is the spiritual director of the congregations he also should be the spiritual head of the Young People's union, with executive authority. Before nominations were called for it appeared probable that the committee's report would favor some layman for the office of president.

More than 3,000 delegates to the convention had arrived today from virtually every state in the union and Canada. It is expected that 12,000 delegates will be here to attend the jubilee celebration in the Coliseum Sunday afternoon.

SHIP'S CARGO HAS GROWN TO MILLION

New York, July 7.—The German sailing ship Indra began to discharge here today a cargo of nitrate from Chile, valued at $1,000,000. When she arrived here, bringing the cargo in September, 1914, it was worth only $125,000, but the demand for the chemical for the manufacture of explosives has greatly increased its price since then. The result that while lying in this port for nearly two years the value of the cargo has increased ... $875,000.

The Indra was bound from a Chilean port to Dunkirk, France, when the European war began. The captain headed for New York on learning that war was declared. Consignees of the cargo began litigation to compel him to carry it to Dunkirk but he declined to take his ship to sea where she might be captured by British or French warships.

CITIES CLASH WITH PURCHASING BUREAU

German Municipalities Rebel at Tactics of Governmental Body.

The Hague, July 7.—(10:49 a. m.)—Information reached The Hague that for several weeks there has been continuous friction between the authorities of various large German cities and the central purchasing bureau. The municipalities claim the right to buy their own food and household articles without asking permission of the central bureau.

There was an outburst last week in the Hanover city council, several members of which accused the central bureau of boycotting the city, which was unable to procure butter, sausages and hams, notwithstanding the fact that some places in the vicinity were sufficiently supplied. It was argued that it was physically impossible for one bureau to control all municipalities.

Cologne, Dresden, Chemitz and other cities already are purchasing supplies independently, having representatives in Holland for that purpose.

As potatoes are scarce in Germany, while the supply of rye is sufficient, Adolph von Hagen, head of the food regulation board, has decided it will not be necessary to mix potato meal in war bread.

A census of rubber stocks has revealed large quantities in the frontier districts, which are supposed to have been smuggled into the country. The central bureau has seized all this rubber, paying for it at the rate of five marks a kilogram.

A bureau for the protection of German mercantile credits abroad has issued lists of certified German claims on foreign debtors and admitted foreign claims on German firms for the adjusting settlements of balances. These lists are free to approved neutral firms.

REGULAR RESERVE TO BE CALLED OUT SOON

Former Army Men to Assist in Organization of New Units.

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The war department announced last night that it would call to the colors within a few days the regular army reserve, consisting of between 4,000 and 5,000 men who have served in the army in order to hasten the organization of new units provided by the army reorganization act. Those who will be affected by the order are enlisted men who have been furloughed into the reserve since November 1, 1915, after having been in active service for three years.

The reserve may be called into active service under the law.

About 20,000 men are needed for the additional units authorized for this year by the reorganization act. The war department is determined to develop these without breaking up the existing units any more than necessary and it is understood the decision to issue a call to the colors grew out of this desire rather than from any further need of troops in the Mexican emergency. Officials believe the call also will furnish a fair working test of the reserve system.

This will be the first time the reserve has been called out since it was created by the act of November 1, 1912, and an actual reserve force has been available only since last November 1, when the minimum three year period of active service ended. The army act of 1912 provides an enlistment term of seven years, four of which are in active service and three in reserve. It is provided, however, that men may be furloughed into the reserve on their request after three years of active service.

JITNEY ORDINANCE WILL BE MADE OVER

A new jitney ordinance will be drawn up by a committee composed of five councilmen and conferring with Mayor Hosey and the city attorney. The council members to frame the new law will be Kinder, Mills, Smith, Bayer and Deitschel. They will meet Monday evening and expect to report to the council Tuesday night.

A motion to draw up a new code to govern taxi traffic was introduced by P. P. Kinder after the council, assembled as a committee of a whole, Thursday night, was unable to reach an agreement on the present proposed ordinance. A few members objected to the bond of $2,000 for jitney drivers. They said it would be prohibitive.

Several jitney drivers attended the ... meeting, which was in the form of free discussion. The representatives from the taxi operators said they wanted a protective law but could not pay the amount asked for a bond. They asked for high license instead of a bond for drivers.

The matter of track elevation was not brought before the council because certain officials could not be present. It is promised for the council session on Tuesday night.

LIVELY FIGHT OVER MILITARY TRAINING

Educators in National Session Badly Divided on the Issue.

New York, July 7.—Election of officers and taking of a vote defining the attitude of the National Education association on compulsory military training in public and private schools, were the features of today's final sessions of the annual convention of that association.

Dr. R. J. Aley, president of the University of Maine, has been named by the nominating committee for the presidency.

The military training question, which has been one of the outstanding issues of the convention, is expected to come before the members in the form of a resolution presented by a committee.

Advocates of military training received encouragement on the eve of the vote from an adddress delivered last night by Major General Leonard Wood. Criticising the assertion that "a million men would spring to arms between sunrise and sunset," General Wood said: "We have been sitting up nights for three weeks to see 30,000 men spring, and it is a very heavy spring;" denying that the army or navy wanted war, he declared, "we want training commenced in the minds of children so that they will realize they owe everything to their country. We do not want to make them braggarts or swashbucklers but we want them ready to discharge the military side of their obligation."

Indianapolis, July 7.—Philip Lewis, of Indianapolis, who is serving in the American ambulance corps of the French army, has been awarded the famous French medal, the Roix De Guerre, for bravery under fire, according to a copy of the official citation received here today by relatives. General Gadel, who signed the order, pinned the medal on Lewis' coat. Lewis left Harvard university where he was a student, to join the ambulance corps.

MACHINES WRECKED; OCCUPANTS ESCAPE

Occupants of the touring car driven by Clem Miller, 208 East DeWald street, were bruised when the automobile was wrecked by striking the machine driven by Dr. R. S. Viberg, at the corner of Fairfield avenue near Kinnaird avenue, Thursday night. In the machine with Miller were Ada and Margaret Epert, 2707 South Calhoun street, and Frank Breen, West DeWald street.

The girls were rushed into the home of Dr. E. H. Krause, nearby, because it was thought that they were severely injured. Their arms were badly bruised and they suffered from nervous shock. Both automobiles were wrecked. Both front wheels were torn from the Miller machine. Miller claims a tire blew up causing him to loose control of his car.

Miss Jennie Baird, 1622 Fletcher avenue, had a rib broken Thursday afternoon when the machine of D. C. Brown, 1123 Wall street, collided with the automobile driven by H. E. Lampkin, 1021 Columbia avenue. The accident happened at the corner of Washington and Lafayette streets. Miss Baird was thrown against the front seat with violence when the machines met.

GOVERNMENT LOSES CAN COMPANY SUIT

Baltimore, July 7.—Judge John C. Rose in the United States district court here today signed a final decree in the government's anti-trust suit against the American Can company. He refused the motion of the government to dissolve the company and also dismissed the defendant's motion for dismissal of the case.

Judge Rose stated that he will retain jurisdiction in the case and permit the Can company continue as it is unless by its actions it injures the public and makes necessary a decree of dissolution.

NEW MILK ORDINANCE WINS AFTER 2 YEARS

Indianapolis Health Commissioner Has Waged a Sturdy Fight.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—The new milk ordinance of Indianapolis, after a two year campaign had been conducted by Dr. Herman G. Norgan, city health commissioner, and other public health agencies, was passed by the city council. The pasteurization and cleanly handling of the city milk supply is now assured. The law also provides tuberculin testing of the milk herds from which the city is supplied. Since practically one-tenth of the dairy herds in this country are found to be infected with tuberculosis, this forward step will make Indianapolis a much safer place in which to live, especially safer for children.

The Women's Health Culture club of Frankfort, and the Clinton County Anti-Tuberculosis society, within the year, conducted an unsuccessful campaign for cleaning up the milk supply of Frankfort. With the increased understanding of the close relation existing between a clear city milk supply and the infant illness and death rates, especially the close relation between the milk supply and bovine tuberculosis in children, it is thought that this and similar campaigns will soon be universally successful.

A new code for Kendallville contains a provision for the tuberculin testing of all milk cattle from which milk is provided for that city. This ordinance is being strictly enforced by the city health officer, Dr. H. O. Williams, who is also causing medical examinations to be made of all those engaged in the handling of food supplies. Dairymen, who at first complained that it cost too much to keep healthy cattle, find that healthy herds, once secured, are more profitable to them as well as more advantageous to the consumer.

HOUSING REFORMER GETS IN HIS WORK

Attacks Amsterdam Ghetto That Has Existed for Three Centuries.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, June 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The inexorable housing reformer has reached the famous Amsterdam Ghetto, and is making a first assault on the miniature Jewish state that has existed for more than three centuries in Holland's capital on the Zuyder Zee and has constituted for the modern tourist one of the sights of the city. One of the most thickly populated quarters, the part known as the "island" of Uilenburg, has been condemned and is gradually being cleared of its several thousand inhabitants, for whom new homes are to be erected elsewhere by means of a state loan.

The big settlement of Jews at Amsterdam dates from 1590. The first Portugese Jews arrived in 1593, and the Polish Jews followed in 1654, each and all being driven from less enlightened parts of Europe by persecution and being attracted to the little Dutch republic by the religious toleration there enjoyed. In Amsterdam their fortunes have ebbed and flowed, but on the whole the wealth of the Jewish community was such as to render it one of the most influential classes of Amsterdam. Today there are ten synagogues in the city, and the fact that they are situated in the old Jewish quarter is one of the difficulties of the removal.

Despite the deplorable housing conditions obtaining in the ghetto, the city fathers have long spared it, doubtless influenced by the fact that, while the birth rate was very high, namely 33 to 30 per thousand, the mortality was very low, 13 to 16 per thousand, which compares with 24 in other poor quarters in the city. The population thereof has been less subject to infectious diseases and tuberculosis, while infant mortality was always lower than in neighboring quarters.

Nevertheless, sufficient ground for drastic action was at length found in the narrow streets of the ghetto, with their one-roomed tenements and the badly-smelling pools or "canals." Trachoma raged there for years. On one site of less than 100 feet square there stood 62 dwellings inhabited by large families. A ladder led from one tenement to the other. The only light side of this condition of affairs was the low rent, low as 15 American cents a week on the top floor.

Nine hundred houses have now been condemned, of which the expropriation cost is put at $400,000, while the state has been asked for another loan of $600,00 for the new housing scheme. The idea of again making Uilenburg a residential quarter has had to be abandoned and it is now to be turned into an industrial district. Plans have been drawn up for the erection of 360 new dwellings in another quarter of the city, half of which number will be let at below $1.20 a week, the commune of the state adding 20 to 30 cents in some cases.

Because of the war, chicory is selling high in England—at from $125 to $140 a ton, whereas in normal times it can be bought for $35 to $40 a ton.

AT THE PALACE

"WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?"

Tragic Sermon on Birth Control at New Palace Next Week.

A delicate subject for the hypermodest mind, is birth-control, the pressing social problem confronting America today, which is treated in a drama, "Where Are My Children?" which is to be projected at the New Palace for five days next week, starting on Tuesday evening. To the thinking mind birth control is just as proper a subject for educational propaganda as the subject of eugenics, better babies, pure food, etc., since all are striving toward the same end the betterment of the physical and mental health of the nation.

There is not a trace of sensationalism in the treatment of the subject in this Universal release the story being just sufficient to fix firmly the doctrine the picture of promulgating, intimate of course but at the same time clean moderate forceful and interesting this screen drama is one of unusual appeal to the intelligent mind.

Special Performance Monday.

A special performance will be given Monday evening when all the clergy of Fort Wayne' physicians, judges, attorneys and other professional men will be asked to enjoy a private exhibition of the film. Some of the greatest minds in the world's clergy have enthusiastically endorsed the drama as being just what it pretends to be, a striking sermon on the subject of child slaughter.

1916 IS PROVING A BIG YEAR FOR MINES

Washington, July 6.—"The accomplishment of the mining industry in the six-month period just completed warrants the forecast that 1916 is to be a record-breaking year." With this statement the director of the United States geological survey sums up his official mid-year review of the mineral industry as reported to him by the government geologists and statisticians covering the different subjects. "Active demands and good prices have furnished the mine operators with full opportunity for success in working developed properties, and this in turn has given added incentive and available funds for exploration, prospecting, and experimentation with new processes. The mining man is having his innings."

The returns for six months furnish a basis for the belief that 1916 will set up a new record for the soft-coal mines. Every coal-mining state is sharing in this prosperity and of course this demand for coal is to be traced back to the increased business of the railroads and of the steel and other large industries.

Drilling activity throughout the oil-producing states has brought about a gratifying increase in production of crude oil that promises to make 1916 a record year for marketed petroleum. Already production and consumption are reported by the survey's specialist as essentially in balance east of the Rocky Mountains, with a tendency to lower prices.

The Portland cement industry has had a busy six months and the manufacturers are optimistic. It is predicted that in both production and shipments of cement this year will show a gain over last year, if indeed it does not establish a new record for cement.

Among the metals copper is continuing the steady increase in production which began early last year, and the forecast for 1916 indicates not only the largest output ever known but also the largest profits.

Shipments of iron ore from Lake Superior points for five months of 1916 exceeded by more than 80 per cent. those for the same months in 1915, and the indications for the year are favorable for a new high record on iron-ore production, and of pig iron as well. Higher prices with a steady demand are stimulating the mining of manganese, with the result that this year's output of ore is expected to surpass the large production of last year.

The lead and zinc mines are producing ore at a rate even exceeding that of last year and the prevailing prices have made possible the working of large quantities of low-grade ore.

Most precious-metal mines are operating at full capacity. The gold production will probably fall below the high yield of last year, but silver, the one metal last to benefit by the general domestic prosperity, is expected this year to break all previous records.

Nigeria has been added to the lands in which valuable deposits of coal have been discovered in recent years.

SOME NIPPERISMS IN TABLOID FORM

A lot of people regard the knocking of God at the door of their hearts as they do an agent they do not want to see.

The caller for a railroad company is provoked to anger for the same reason that God is—because people go back to sleep.

God is knocking at the door of the hearts of people here tonight just the same as he was knocking at the door of the church at Laodicia.

There have been a lot of people aroused from their sin, but the trouble is they have gone back to sleep.

Too many people sit down to a fine chicken dinner and never thank God for it, but when they give the bones to the dog he wags his tail as much as to say, "Thank you."

"A lot of people have come to me and told me I was hurting the misison because I was talking too plain," declared Rev. J. A. Nipper, in the course of his sermon at the big tent, Ewing and Main streets, Thursday evening. "I don't believe it." Shouts of amen from all parts of the tent greeted this statement.

"The church of Jesus Christ ought to be on the job in the summer time," he continued. "Why, do you know that the devil puts on the greatest attractions in the summer time."

There was a good sized audience and there was no lack of enthusiasm. Rev. D. H. Guild, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, announced that on next Sunday afternoon and evening a collection would be taken for Messrs. Nipper and Jones and that everybody would be given an opportunity to show their appreciation of the good work that these two men have been doing in Fort Wayne during the past few weeks. He urged everybody to donate liberally.

Four More Services.

"There will be four more services and, personally, I would be glad to see these meetings continue all summer," he said. "They have been a great pleasure to me. Hearts have been wonderfully stirred and helped." On next Sunday afternoon Rev. Nipper will speak on the "Second Coming of Christ," instead of in the evening, as has been previously announced.

Loren G. Jones sang a solo and a trio of young girls from the Simpson M. E. church also sang a selection. Both numbers were highly appreciated.

A large delegation of members of the Associated Christian Workers attended the services and were greeted by tremendous applause as they marched into the tent. Mr. Jones had the audience sing, "Show Your Colors."

Rev. Nipper did not mince words in his sermon Thursday evening. He spoke straight from the shoulder and in language that those who heard him could not misunderstand.

Rev. Nipper's Sermon

John, when banished on the Isle of Patmos, was told to speak these words to the church at Laodicia, a church that had become luke warm, lazy and drowsy, and God wanted to get in and wake it up, but did not receive any response from his knocking. I believe that as sure as God was knocking at the door of that church, he is knocking at the hearts of people here tonight, and you, like that church, will not let him in. Did you ever go up to any one's door and knock, and you were sure that they were at home, and after you had knocked and knocked, and was in the act of going away, you saw someone look out between the curtains. Do you remember how you felt? Well, that is just the way you have been treating God. He has been knocking and knocking for a long time, and he knew you were at home all the time, and my friends, you are grieving Him when you pay no heed to his knocking. We provoke God to anger, by our careless attitude toward Him. My experience as a railroad man, gives me this illustration. When the call boy comes for the first time to call a man he doesn't make very much noise, but he just gets the man awake enough to answer the call, and when the man goes back to sleep he goes again and this time he knocks a little harder, and when the man goes to sleep again he does the third time, and this is the time that he almost knocks the house down. But he has been provoked to do the very thing he does, and sometimes I believe that we provoke the Heavenly Caller in the same way. He never knocks very hard the first time, it may be in the hearing of a testimony, or a Gospel song, anything that makes you shed tears, but you go back to sleep in your sin again, and then He knocks a little harder the next time; it may be affliction, and again you are aroused about your soul salvation, but again you go to sleep in your sin, and then God knocks a little harder, and this time it may be death. I tell you we can provoke the Heavenly Caller to anger, and the trouble after we have done it by our own attitude toward Him, we want to say that He is not just.

It took Lazarus at a low state to start Martha toward Jesus; it took the daughter of Jarius at a low ebb to start the father toward Jesus, and I know a young man in a Michigan town that him and his wife together made their surrender to God at the casket of the only child that God had given them, and I tell you it takes a hard knock sometimes to awaken some people to make the greatest decision of their life. God always lets us know that he is outside knocking. Notice the words, "Behold I," or as much as to say "I am outside knocking," letting you know that He knows you are at home. So you see you will be without excuse when you come before the judgment bar of God. Why, he says if we will open the door he will come in and sup with us, and we shall sup with him. You know we should be as grateful as the animals for the things of this life. For instance, when you go into the barn to feed the horse you no sooner get inside till he begins to make a noise, and when you put the corn in the manger he will rub his nose up against you, as much as to say, "Thank you, master." Why, even the hog grunts, and when you put a saucer of milk down for the cat, she will sing and sing, as much as to say, "Thank you," and after you have enjoyed a nice chicken dinner, and there is nothing left but the bones, you put them on a plate and give them to the dog and he will wag his tail as much as to say, "Thank you, I so grateful to you for this." There are a lot of people who sit down and devour the good things that God has given them and never express a word of appreciation.

Picture of Jesus.

I have a picture in my mind tonight of Jesus going up to a boy and saying, "John, if you will let me come in I will make a great man of you," but John says: "I am not worthy to let you in," but Jesus says, "All I want you to do is to let me come in," and that little boy lets him and made of John Wesley a great man and the founder of the Methodist church. Again, I see him approach a man in the city of Chicago and says, "If you will let me come into your life I will make of you a great man, and we will walk together, and we will talk together, and we will pray together, and I will make of you a great man," but this man says, "It's no use: I might as well go to the river and end it all," but he was finally persuaded to let him in, and today Melvin E. Trotter is one of the greatest men in this world all because he let Jesus come into his life, and what he has done for others he will do for you. He is knocking at the door of your heart tonight and I pray that you let him come in.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL WILL ADD COURSES

Enlargement of courses in the Fort Wayne Vocational school, under direction of Walter E. Gordon, will be made, starting in September, to include courses in machine shop work, auto repairing and sanitary engineering. A total of $6,280 has been received in state aid for the operation of this school and this sum will make it possible to add departmental work and employ a new teacher.

500 in Night School.

The day school, during the last year, had enrolled 65 boys and 42 girls and the night school gave instructions to 500 pupils, 300 of which were women and 200 men. Besides the new courses, which will be offered, the courses of printing, carpentry and electricity, now offered, will be maintained. The vocational school is not operated during the summer months because all persons who would be enrolled are engaged in industrial pursuits in the city of Fort Wayne. "We could not secure enough students in the summer to make the school pay," declared Mr. Gordon.

Gets State Aid.

The state has reimbursed the Fort Wayne vocational school for two-thirds of the cost of instruction. This city received twice the amount in state aid which Evansville obtained, Mr. Gordon says. Terre Haute was given $6,500, and Indianapolis was reimbursed $14,000. According to the school director it cost $10,000 to operate the school the past year. An all year school could not be maintained in Fort Wayne at this time and Mr. Gordon predicts it will be many years before such a school can operate the year through in this city. "Times are too prosperous and the enrollment in the school would be too small," asserted the vocational school director.

In Both Divisions.

The courses offered in the new departments will be taught in both the day and evening classes. The board of education has leased the Kerr Murray plant for two years at a yearly rental of $2,500. It is located in the center of the city and is easily accessible. Many young men from the county have availed themselves of work in the school. Attendance at the high school has been increased, not lessened by the operation of the school.

Girls Are Enrolled.

Girls and women enrolled in the school are taught cooking, home making, millinery and dressmaking. During the past year a total of 20 students was enrolled in classes for printing were enrolled in classes for printing for apprentices. The construtcion and auto repair department, which is to be enlarged, had 60 pupils, and oters were mathematics, mechanics and draftsmen, 70; carpentry and arcihtectural drawing, 24; air brake, conhtruction and repair, 45. Many of the men come from the Pennsylvania railway shops, Fort Wayne Electrical works and the Bass foundry.

WILL MUSTER IN NEW BATTERY TONIGHT

Members of Battery D, who have been examined and accepted for enlistment, will be mustered into service this evening by Captain John C. Scheffer at the armory in the Flick building on West Berry street.

Captain Scheffer returned late Thursday afternoon from Indianapolis, where he was in conference with Adjutant General Frank L. Bridges, and was also mustered in so that he might be authorized to muster into service the members of the new battery, thus eliminating the necessity of sending a mustering officer here from Fort Benjamin Harrison for that purpose.

Lieutenant Luther Mertz and James Buckles, both of Columbia City, who have recruited seventy-three men for the Fort Wayne battery, were here Friday in consultation with Captain Scheffer. Every possible effort will be made to get the battery into readiness at once as the call to Fort Harrison is expected within the next three or four days.

The following order restoring Scheffer to duty from the retired list was issued by the adjutant general Thursday:

"First Lieutenant John C. Scheffer, field artillery, retired, Fort Wayne, Indiana, is hereby returned to the active list, and appointed mustering officer and recruiting officer for the purpose of mustering into the Indiana national guard, the battery of field artillery organized at Fort Wayne, after a minimum of 138 men have passed the physical examinations.

In the reorganization of the local battery, formerly known as Battery B, Lieutenant Scheffer is deserving of much credit. He has had a long and honorable military career and at the outbreak of hostilities with Spain joined the Twenty-eighth Indiana battery, being promoted to corporal. When it was mustered out he joined Battery B and later was made lieutenant of that organization.

Both Dr. Charles R. Dancer and Dr. J. H. Gilpin have been appointed physical examiners for the Indiana national guard. Word has also been received that Dr. Charles E. Barnett, of this city, has been called to active service with the Indiana troops on the medical staff with the rank of captain.

ARGUMENTS ON JULY 11.

Attorney T. E. Ellison, who is in Washington, D. C., in the interest of the Lake Erie and Michigan Deep Waterways association, has telegraphed that the oral argument on the appeal from the adverse decision of the board of army engineers on the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago canal would be made on July 11. He suggests that Fort Wayne men interested in the movement be there on that date. The briefs on the argument, the message says, will be filed on July 25.

WHAT WE BUY FROM MEXICAN NEIGHBORS

U. S. Takes Three-Fourths of All the Products Sold Abroad.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—"Any interruption of friendly relations between the United States and Mexico vitally affect the trade of the southern republic," says today's war geography bulletin of the National Geographic society, "for the larger nation buys three-fourths of all the farm and forest products, minerals and manufactures which the smaller country offers for sale to the outside world.

"On the other hand, Mexico reciprocates by purchasing less than half her total imports from us, and if we lost all the custom of our neighbor it would represent less than one and a quarter per cent of the goods which we sell annually to the world at large.

"The first industry to feel the effect of any interruption of trade relations between the two countries will be the sisal grass plantations and mills, for the United States buys from Mexico nearly 95 per cent of all this vegetable fibre used in America for cordage, bags and hammocks. Last year we bought nearly four hundred million pounds of this product from Mexico, at a cost of more than $19,000,000.

"Coffee is also an important item in our trade with Mexico, our purchases of this commodity increasing from twenty-six million pounds in 1913 to twice that amount in 1915. There are no figures from Mexico to determine what percentage of her coffee crop our fifty-two million pound purchase represented last year, but if the same amount was exported last year as in 1913 the United States bought all except two million pounds. And yet this enormous quantity of aromatic beans was less than one-twentieth of the amount needed to fill the American coffee cup for twelve months.

"Our imports of Mexican india rubber amounted to more than three quarters of a million dollars.

"Seventeen per cent of our mahogany, more than 7,000,000 feet, came from Mexican forests in 1915. Thirteen per cent of all the cattle hides brought into this country last year, 43,000,000 pounds, came from Mexican ranches, also more than five per cent of the goat skins, 3,500,000 pounds.

"In 1914 Mexico spent most of her shopping money with the following nations, in the order of their sales: the United States, Germany, Great Britain, France, Belgium and Spain.

"The three farm products for which Mexico spent the largest sums in the United States last year were corn, wheat and lard, the amounts in that order being $1,388,000; $380,000, and $365,000. Twenty million pounds of cotton were also bought from us, for although Mexico raises a large crop of this staple in the famous Laguna district, it is not sufficient to keep her textile mills going, so she takes one half of one per cent of that which we have for sale to foreign countries. The 31,000,000 feet of lumber which the southern republic bought from us last year, about three per cent of our total exports, was only one-fourth as much as was bought two years before. Firearms, textiles, explosives, chemicals, machinery and carriages are important items on the Mexican nation's market list when she has money to spend with us."

For the eight months ending with last February the oversea trade of Australia showed a gain of $88,145,525, when contrasted with the commonwealth's foreign commerce of the previocs year.

OLD SAWMILL IS RAIDED.

Petersburg, Ind., July 7.—Sheriff Peter R. Miller, Thomas Whitney, city marshall, and Smith Williams, deputy sheriff, raided a sawmill on the Patoka river near the Hartwell mines, fourteen miles south of here, having heard that arrangements were being made for a big Fourth of July "celebration" there, and that the old sawmill had been converted into a "blind tiger." When the officers entered the mill several women were there.

John Lance was arrested as one of the operators and Clifton James ,who had gone to Hartwell for more beer and whisky, the officers said, was arrested on his return. He had two cases of beer with him and had left four cases and two jugs of whisky at the Hartwell junction. All was confiscated, but in the excitement the visitors at the place got one jug of whisky and some beer. The officers brought the two prisoners and all the rest of the liquor here.

LABORERS RECEIVE INCREASE IN WAGES

Effective July 1 the section men and the freight handlers in the warehouses of the Pennsylvania company began working under a new wage schedule which is an increase of 5 to 10 per cent. Prior to that date the laborers at the freight house received 19.2 cents per hour. Hereafter the wage will be twenty-one cents an hour. The section men who, prior to July 1, received 19 cents per hour, are now receiving twenty cents per hour. There will be 287 freight handlers in Fort Wayne effected by the increase and 1,013 section men on the western division affected by it. The increase was voluntary and comes as a surprise to the men affected by it.

READY TO RECEIVE DONATIONS

The officers of the Fort Wayne Rifles' club, who have inaugurated a movement looking towards furnishing Company E boys out in the field with the articles of comfort that cannot be supplied by the government. The following resolution, which explains the objects and aims of the movement, was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the members of Company E, First Infantry, I. N. G., have been called to active service by the government, and

Whereas, In the even of the necessity of the men in this command being called to active service on the border, they will probably have need of certain assistance from the citizen friends in this community, and

Whereas, The Fort Wayne Rifle & Revolver club is the most closely associated body organized in Fort Wayne with the militia company, and will be in a position to appreciate the wants of these men, there

Be it resolved, by the executive committee of the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club, that this organization take steps to collect funds for the purpose of supplying various necessities to the men of Company E, or any of its own members who are enlisted in any other commands during the time of their service on the border or in foreign countries, such funds to be collected by the secretary of the organization and separately accounted for, and reports duly made to the executive committee.

And that copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the club and to each of the Fort Wayne daily papers.

E. A. BARNES, president.
E. A. Wagner, vice president.
Geo. R. Gawahn, secertary.
C. B. Reuss, treasurer.

Foster Houck, the executive officer of the Rifles' club, is away with Company E and could not sign the resolution, but it is known that he heartily approves the movement.

WESTERN GAS TO PICNIC.

The Office Force Will Enjoy Annual Outing Sunday.

The employes of the office of the Western Gas works will enjoy a big time next Sunday when they will hold their annual picnic and outing at Horner's grove, southeast of the city, on the Wayne trace. It will be an all day affair and basket lunches will be taken along to appease the hunger of the picnickers. One of the features of the day will be a ball game between the office force and the drawing room. This outing is to be exclusively for the office and drawing room forces, as the shop will have a picnic independent of the rest of the works in a few weeks.

EXCURSION ABANDONED.

L. E. & W. Will Not Run One to Indianapolis.

Because of the fact that many of the troops at Camp Ralston have already started to entrain for the border, with the probability that many more will be leaving within the next few days, the officials of the L. E. & W. deesed it advisable to cancel the excursion which was scheduled for next Sunday to Indianapolis and Fort Benjamin Harrison. It is believed that by Sunday most of the soldiers will have left, and since that was the main attraction it was thought that the patronage would hardly justify a special train.

TAKES JOB AT PORT HURON.

Benj. D. Reiman Resigns Position at the 'Lights.

Tomorrow marks the close of service as a meter inspector at the General Electric works of Benjamin D. Reiman. He has accepted a position as meter inspector with the Port Huron Gas and Electric Light company, at Port Huron, Mich., and assumes the duties of the office next Monday. CROP PROSPECTS IMPROVING.

The weekly crop bulletin issued by W. C. Maxwell, vice-president of the Wabash, shows a greatly improved condition in the prospects in Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. Under hot and dry weather, wheat is ripening fast and heads are well filled and harvesting will commence within a week. There is every indication of a splendid crop of oats. The grain has headed out and is making rapid growth. Some fields are ripening. Corn prospects are fine, the past week of hot and dry weather having greatly improved it. With continued favorable weather there should be a heavy crop. The hay harvest is now in progress and the outturn is excellent. Sugar beets continue to show progress and there is every indication of a good crop. It should greatly exceed previous years because of the increased acreage.

AGAIN A WABASH EMPLOYE.

R. B. Copestick, for many years employed in the freight department of the Wabash, is again an employe, after being engaged in other work for a year or two. This morning he began work in the yard office as a clerk. Mr. Copestick was employed with the Fort Wayne Audit company several months.

Mrs. Gus Grosh, wife of the Wabash erecting shop foreman, and her children, are the guests of friends in Defiance, Ohio, today.

SOLDIERS GO SWIMMING.

While the train stopped several hours in Peru yesterday morning, the members of the Seventy-fourth New York infantry took a bath in the Wabash river, marching in companies from the train to the river and creating a good deal of excitement for the residents of Peru. It was the first opportunity given the boys to go "swimin'" since they left New York and nearly everyone took advantage of it.

WILL KEEP UP SOLDIERS' DUES.

At the meeting of the Mutual Benefit association of the General Electric works last night it was decided to keep the members of the society who are in the army in good standing and provision will be made to pay their dues until they return home. There are about fifteen of the members in the army. Until they have been honorably discharged and resume their work in the shop, they will receive the full benefits of the society.

Lankenau, of the hand screw department of the General Electric works, is here for a two weeks' visit with her son, before going to her home in Chicago. HARRISON HILL
The Heart of New South Wayne

A Now Proposition

The twelve homes already completed in Harrison Hill, together with the ten homes now under construction, take this addition out of the speculation class and place it in the investment class.

The man who buys a lot in Harrison Hill today is getting an excellent investment.

The man who builds in Harrison Hill today is getting a perfect investment and an ideal home as well—a double winner.

Harrison Hill, because it is a NOW proposition—because you can get in on the ground floor as far as the price of lots is concerned without any element of speculation as to the future of this addition—is the logical place for men to invest their monthly savings or their accumulated thousands.

ready to respond to the call of their country and declared "it is with intense pride in the young manhood of our state that I look upon these splendid soldiers." He added that the Indiana troop will have his deepest concern while away from Indiana.

Cheers and Popular Airs.

Relatives and friends—all anxious, some tearful—crowded about the soldiers and bade them farewell. Soldiers remaining behind sent up cheer after cheer, while the bands played "Turkey in the Straw," "The Gal I Left Behind Me" and other popular airs. The Purdue boys sang various university songs, but most frequently "Oh, the Moon Is Shining Bright Tonight Along the Wabash."

Each section was labeled, the soldiers printing with white chalk the name of the battery on the sides of the cars. Other inscriptions were also printed on the cars, including "Mexico or bust," "Good-by, girls," "Battery A, we're strong for you," and "Battery C, of Lafayette, last to start but we'll get there yet."

The five physicians who conducted the physical examinations were said by Lieut. Col. Bannister to have established a record in the speed with which they accomplished their work.

Many Mascots Chosen.

Choosing mascots, receiving tobacco, cigarettes and other presents, being tatooed and subscribing funds for various purposes are among the incidents that have become daily routine among the Indiana troops here.

Snappy, an eight inch snapping turtle, which is the mascot of B battery, of Purdue university, is enroute to the border on the second troop train which left last night. The turtle has been identified by cutting "B battery" in the back of its shell.

A list of soldiers whose families are dependent on them, has been requested of the commanding officers of the different units by the Indianapolis auxiliary to the Indiana national guard. The auxiliary purposes to assist these men of the three companies of the first infantry, the field hospital, A battery and A company of the signal corps.

Van Auken Now Major.

An order issued yesterday by Adjutant General Franklin L. Bridges, promoting Captain Glenn Van Auken, of Auburn, to brigadier adjutant with the rank of major. Van Auken heretofore has been a captain in the Third regiment and regimental adjutant, but the promotion carries with it more important duties and gives him the rank of adjutant for the entire brigade.

Major Van Auken is a state senator. He has won considerable honors as an expert rifleman. In the same order Adjutant General Bridges announces the promotion of Lieutenant Boggs, of Warsaw, to the rank of captain adjutant in the Third regiment to fill the vacancy made by the promotion of Major Van Auken.

Official announcement was made in the order of the naming of Lieutenant Colonel Edward M. Lewis, United States infantry as commander of the brigade with the rank of brigadier general. Governor Ralston received official information today from the war department that his selection of Lieutenant Colonel Lewis to head the Indiana national guard had been approved. It is expected Lewis will arrive here tomorrow.

Scheffer on Active List.

Announcement also was made that Major Orville B. Kilmer, retired, was placed on the active list with the rank of captain in the commissary department. General Bridges also placed Lieutenant John C. Scheffer of the field artillery, retired, on the active list and appointed him mustering officer and recruiting officer for the new battery which has been organized at Fort Wayne, but which has not yet been mustered.

New Major Named.

Captain Joseph C. Clark, of Spencer, was today promoted a major by Governor Ralston and was assigned to command of a battalion of the Second regiment. He succeeds Captain Jesse T. Johnson, who had been promoted to the place, but who was rejected because of defective vision. He had been in command of D company, Second regiment, which was recruited at Spencer.

NOTE MAKES FACT CLEAR

next month. Secretary Lansing leaves today to spend his vacation at Watertown, N. Y. He will keep in close touch with the department by telephone and telegraph, advising with Mr. Polk while the conversations are in progress.

While high officials have admitted that the Washington government in all probability would do what it could to encourage American bankers to go to the aid of the de facto government if General Carranza would furnish proper guarantees, Counsellor Polk took occasion today to state that his conference yesterday with Henry T. Fletcher, ambassador designate to Mexico, and Paul M. Warburg, of the federal reserve board, had nothing to do with this aspect of the situation. The fact that his visitors came together, he said, was merely a coincidence and without significance.

Too Early to Forecast.

Department officials made it plain that it was as yet too early to forecast clearly what might be evolved from the more favorable aspects of the Mexican situation presented by General Carranza's recent amicable note. Everything depends, it was pointed out, upon the degree to which suspicions previously entertained by the first chief as to the motives of the United States have been overcome.

No detailed plan as to the form of guarantees the United States may seek for the safety of its own and other foreign interests in Mexico has not been formulated, so far as known.

It was stated authoritatively, however, that the loyalty of Mexican civil as well as military officials to the central government must be insured in some way.

VILLA SOUTH OF PARRAL.

Rumor of Bandit Chief's Activities Reported by Pershing.

San Antonio, Texas., July 7.—General Pershing reported to General Funston today that a rumor has reached him of Francisco Villa's reappearance south of Parral. The report placed the estimate of Villa's men at from 800 to 2,000.

Trains bearing guardsmen to border stations were moving in fewer numbers today. The greater part of the national guard that was prepared to respond to the call for service already has reached the border.

VILLA FORCES QUIT JIMINEZ.

Railway Communication to Mexico City is Restored.

El Paso, Texas, July 7.—The Villa forces have evacuated Jiminez and railway communication has been restored at Mexico City, according to a message received today by General Gonzales, at Juarez, from Gen. Trevino, at Chihuahua City. Gen. Trevino reported that Carranza cavalry is in pursuit of the bandits.

NEW TROOP OF CAVALRY

Rushville, Ind., July 7.—John Kiplinger has been notified by Adjutant Gen. F. L. Bridges that he can organize a troop of cavalry in Rush county under the terms of Governor Ralston's authorization for a new regiment to be added to the Indiana national guard.

HOLDING OWN, SAYS BERLIN.

Heavy Engagements During Night Not Unfavorable to Germans.

Berlin, July 7.—(Via London, 5:12 p. m.)—The result of heavy engagements that were in progress all last night both north and south of the river Somme was not unfavorable to the Germans, the war office announced today.

A salient of the German line in Volhynia, projecting towards Czarto has been abandoned under superior pressure by the Russians and a new line of defense selected, it was announced today by the war office.

REPORT GERMANS IN RETREAT.

Russians Launching Terrific Blows on Riga Front.

London, July 7.—(10:35 a. m.)—The Russians have begun a tremendous offensive on the Riga front, where their artillery is destroying the German trenches, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Vienna, via Copenhagen.

The bombardment, the dispatch adds, lasted twenty-four hours and the Germans were helpless before the Russian artillery, which can now fire fifty shells as against one in 1914.

Germans Moving to West.

A wireless dispatch from Rome says word has been received there from Petrograd that in consequence of their triple defeat in the sectors of Riga, Kolki and Baranovichi the Germans have begun to move their whole front toward the west.

Capture by the British of a German trench on a front of 1,000 yards east of La Boisselle, in the Somme region, was announced officially today.

The British resumed the offensive on certain sectors east of Albert at dawn today. At the same time the Germans launched heavy attacks on the British trenches near Ancre. Violent fighting is now in progress. In the vicinity of Ovillers and Contalmaison, as well as near La Boisselle, the British made progress. In the region of Thiepval the Germans regained a section of lost ground.

NOW ABLE TO HOLD THEM.

French Claim Successful Showing on Defensive Fighting.

Paris, July 7.—Yesterday's defensive fighting has given almost as much satisfaction to the French as the previous day's captures for, they say, it was clearly shown that the entente allies not only are able to take positions from the Germans wherever they like, but also are able to hold those positions when won.

The first German counter-attack was launched in the night in the Hem section, north of the canalized Somme river. The Germans succeeded in carrying two small works situated south of the Clery-Mericourt road, a few hundred yards from the sugar works bordering that road.

The French troops there, being more or less in the air, fell back on the village and swinging their left wing slightly captured another small wood at the northeastern end of the village close to the Hem brick field and along the edge of the road from Clery to Hem and Curlu. This was the only change in the situation throughout the twenty-four hours during which the counter-offensive lasted.

At the beginning of the battle there were behind the front assigned to the French attack twenty-seven German battalions drawn from the 121st division and from regiments of the Seventeenth army corps.

Between July 1 and July 5 the German commanders sent up to the Peronne front four reserve divisions, of which two already are declared to be virtually out of commission. The other reserves brought up from different points between Rheims and the Somme were of a most heterogeneous nature. One battalion of the guard which was annihilated had been formed of companies from several different battalions.

The French officers say there can be no doubt that the rapidity of the French advance, if not the advance itself, took the Germans by surprise. This, they assert, is shown by their not having provided an adequate supply of reserves for such a contingency.

The solidity of the French conquest in Picardy at last has been put to the test and military men here say it has come out of the ordeal with flying keys, thus again demonstrating the soundness of the Brussiloff method.

The Germans who managed to gather considerable forces partly apparently from the British front where the pressure was lessened during the day, and partly from depots, delivered a series of violent attacks on two points. The first of these was between Hem and Maricourt on the Clery road. The second was on the extreme right between Estrees and Belloy, their object being to drive a wedge between the French center and right where the French line crosses the Somme river from Hem to Feuilleres and between the extreme right and the rest of the French front.

The success of these manuevers would have forced the eventual retirement of the whole French line.

The German reaction, however, came too late.

The French had time thoroughly to strengthen their line, to advance and place in position heavy artillery and to bring up plentiful stocks of munitions. Consequently the attacking wave was caught in a whirlwind of machine gun fire from the trenches and was shot to pieces by the "Seventy Fives," while the German supports following and reserves far in the rear were shattered by salvos from medium and heavy batteries.

The German infantry plodded forward again and again but no where. French reports say, made any impression upon the French lines. Rarely even did they get to grips with the occupants of the trenches which accounts for the small number of prisoners taken. The Germans, say the reports, had striven the whole day without effecting the slightest modification of the situation.

The French remain two and a half miles from Peronne on the south side of the Somme and four miles from that city on the north side of the river, and there are no formidable natural obstacles in the way of their occupation of the city, when the French commander judges that time is ripe to do so.

BAD SALOONS GET ULTIMATUM.

State Health Board After Unsanitary Places at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, July 7.—An ultimatum to "clean up" their premises has been issued to a number of Indianapolis saloon men by H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner. He has assigned six inspectors to the duty of investigating the sanitary conditions of local barrooms, and, according to reports they have made some of the places are in such condition they can be closed under the law. Mr. Barnard says no saloon man will be allowed to keep his place open unless he keeps it clean. Free lunch counters have been particularly criticised by the inspectors.

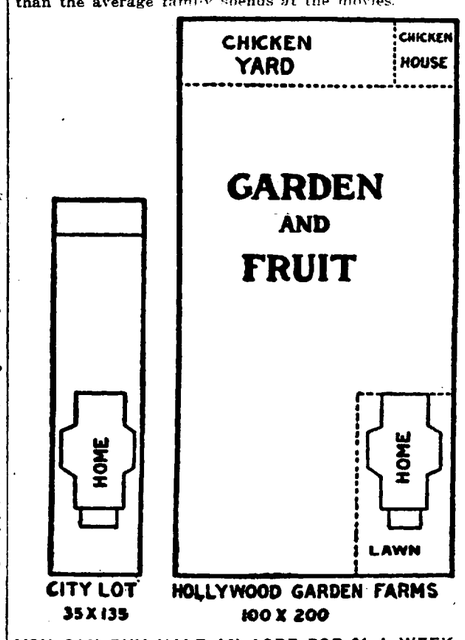
One of these little suburban estates is yours for only two dollars down, then only 75c a week, which is less than the average family spends at the movies.



YOU CAN BUY HALF AN ACRE FOR $1 A WEEK.

There is no interest and no taxes for two years and only five per cent. interest on deferred payments thereafter.

Payments are suspended during illness or loss of employment.

This land was secured at a bargain and you get the benefit of the same.

These little garden farms contain four times the land in a city lot and are offered at prices of $148 to $198, which is about one-third the cost of the average city lot.

One of these little estates will easily pay for itself in garden fruit, and chickens, and you will not be burdened with high city taxes and assessments.

The title to Hollywood Gardens is perfect, and there is no mortgage or lien of any kind against the property.

The Tri-State Loan and Trust Co. is trustee for this fine property and signs all contracts and deeds.

All your payments are made at this bank, except the first $2, which is paid on the ground.

Purchasers should bring their five dollars with them to avoid disappointment, as no land is reserved without a deposit.

Hollywood Gardens are located on the Kendallville trolley, with a fifteen minute ride to business.

The service is convenient and you have all the advantages of city and country life combined.

Bring your family out of the smoke zone into the ozone.

The owners intend Hollywood to always be a desirable suburban property and will encourage the building of bungalows or neat cottage homes of four rooms or over, but no shanties or saloons will ever be allowed.

Land will be sold only to white American citizens who can read English or German.

Few rent payers realize that they make their landlord a present of their house every ten years.

Rent is a debt that is never paid.

At Hollywood Gardens any one who is able to work can easily secure a home site of their own and make it pay for itself in garden, fruit and chickens.

Fifteen minutes on the trolley is a quicker ride to business than on some of the city lines.

There are only seventy of these country estate to offer and they will go quickly on these easy terms and bargain prices.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 7.—Unwelcome rains in the crop region tended today to advance wheat values here. Higher prices at Liverpool counted also against the bears.

The opening, which ranged from ⅜c to ½c higher, with July at $1.03½ to $1.03⅝, and September at $1.06⅛ to $1.06¼, was followed by some gains and then a moderate reaction.

Corn rose with wheat but failed to maintain strength. After opening a shade to ⅞@1c higher, the market sagged to below yesterday's finish.

Oats paralleled the action of corn. Changes, however, were relatively narrow.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 7.—Irregular price changes at the opening of today's market were mostly within very narrow limits, the principal copper issues being fairly active at nominal gains and declines. Rails also manifested an uncertain trend, Union Pacific, New York Central and Erie recording fractional gains, with a slight setback for St. Paul and Baltimore and Ohio. Reading was unchanged but showed marked firmness later. United States Steel yielded a fraction but soon recovered while the prominent munitions were again under pressure with the sinc isues and marine preferred. Mexicans were in moderate demand but the movement elsewhere was variable.
Encouraged at the lack of demand, traders made a series of drives against specialties, particularly issues like Baldwin, Crucible and Industrial Alcohol, which made extreme losses of two to three points before midday. Greater heaviness was shown by the shipping issues, United Fruit losing three points. Zinc shares made new low prices for the year, probably in consequence of another break in base metal in the London market. Rails and United States Steel withstood pressure but Mexican Petroleum yielded with other specialties. Bonds were steady.

LIFE LOSS IS LESSENED.

Railroads Make Fine Showing for Safety With Heavier Traffic.

Chicago, July 7.—Railroads of the United States handled more traffic with less loss of life in the July-September quarter of 1915 than in any previous quarter, since reports have been made, according to a bulletin issued today by the bureau of railway news.
According to the accidental reports which were begun in 1901, only 127 lives were lost in train accidents during the July-September quarter last year.
The smallest total in any similar quarter was 181 in 1914, when traffic was at low ebb.
The reports include passengers, employes, trespassers and others.

Interest Helps Buy More Baby Bonds

Six per cent interest is regarded as a very fair return upon investment in these days, and, especially so upon small amounts. At that rate the interest accumulates rapidly and many local people are investing more in baby bonds today with the intention of letting the interest help out their future savings in order to purchase larger holdings of this security.

Baby Bonds come in $10 denominations, are secured by first mortgages on local real estate and bear 6 per cent interest. There are also some $500 bonds with the same security and the same rate of interest. For further details see the Wildwood Sales company, Shoaff building.

CHALLENGES RIGHT OF THE COMMISSION

Rail Man Believes Probe Into Political Work Unwarranted.

Washington, July 7.—The right of the interstate commerce commission to investigate political activities of railroads was challenged today by Milton H. Smith, president of the L. and N. railroad, in his answer to the commission's petition requesting the district of Columbia supreme court to compel him to give testimony regarding its alleged campaign contributions.

The answer declared the commission's investigation was entirely the result of personal animus of Senator Luke of Tennessee, and of an old controversy between the senator and the railroad.

The commission's petition was filed several months ago when Mr. Smith, testifying in an inquiry instituted as a result of a resolution introduced by Senator Lea in 1913, refused to answer questions as to the road's political relations. Hearing on the commission's request to compel Smith to testify has been set for August 11.

The answer says that at the time the senate resolution under which Mr Smith was questioned was introduced three years ago, Senator Lea, through his Nashville newspaper, was engaged in an attack on the railroad, "due to the fact that railroad and its officials had declined to do for him what he had requested." The resolution was adopted, Mr. Smith told the court, when only 14 members of the senate were present.

The commission reported to the senate after an investigation by its examiners, going into many details concerning alleged political activities. "Two years and four months later, after Lea had been defeated for re-election to the senate the question which had lain dormant so long was revived and a public hearing ordered." The answer says "at which the first question ... knew of any funds of the railroad company expended in Tennessee for political campaign purposes during the year 1915, Tennessee being the state and 1915 the year in which Senator Lea made his unsuccessful campaign for re-election."

It was the refusal to answer this question that resulted in the suit. Whichever way the district court decides, it said, the case will be taken to the supreme court.

I, Jacob Warner, of 812 Anthony boulevard, will explain about my cancer of my left eye. Commenced six years ago and lost the use of my eye. Treating for it by some of our best physicians, but no relief, and my other eye became very weak, almost sightless. A friend of mine advised me to consult Dr. J. W. Coblentz, of 328 West DeWald St. He sent his nurse to treat me, and in four weeks he had it healed and am now well again, and feel fine for my age, which is 60 years.

SHRINERS LEAVE SUNDAY EVENING

Members of Mizpah temple will leave Fort Wayne at 9 o'clock, Sunday evening, over the Nickel Plate railroad, for Buffalo, New York, where they will attend the Imperial council of Shriners. There will be thirty members of the patrol and thirty members of the band, who will make the trip, besides the representatives and other Shriners.

The last trip taken by the Mizpah patrol was to Los Angeles, California, and, although the boys had never drilled on the ground and the only practice they had was the drilling that Captain Edgar H. Kilbourne gave them in towns where the train stopped for any length of time, first honors were won on both the field and on the floor. There were eighty-four patrols contesting for honors.

This year the local patrol is expecting to duplicate that record, notwithstanding the fact that all of the members of the present patrol with the exception of three are new men. However, they have been practicing hard. More than one hundred patrols will participate in the grand parade around Meadow's park, Buffalo, after which the competitive drills will take place, four patrols drilling at a time. The Mizpah patrol will present two hundred and forty-seven movements without command.

The officers of Mizpah patrol are: Captain, E. H. Kilbourne; first lieutenant, R. B. Garmire; second lieutenant, Robert Klaehn; first sergeant, S. W. Newell and second sergeant, W. E. Ehle.

A prize for the most efficient junior class was awarded for the second time to the Temple Baptist church of Baltimore; for the most efficient work in the missionary field to the Conquest Mission of Esterville, Ohio; for the most intelligent reading of the Bible to the bible class of Picture Rock, Pa., and for the best course in sacred literature to the class in Toronto.

STRIKE BREAKERS ARRESTED.

Plead Not Guilty to Assault and Give Bond for Hearing.

Armed with two affidavits bearing the names "John Doe" and "Richard Roe," Constable Davis went to the plant of the Western Gas Construction company, on Summer street, late Thursday night and arrested two men who had assisted Patrolman Petgen in arresting Merle Marks, president of the striking moulders, last Wednesday.

The two men, who were J. J. Griffin, leader of the strike breakers, and one of his men, furnished bond in the sum of $50. At the preliminary hearing Friday afternoon they pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting Marks, when they were called to assist in his arrest. Griffin is accused of striking Marks in the face several times. He says he did not hit Marks.

Martin Reits, age seventy-seven, of North Point, Pa., is still following the plow on his farm, and one of the teams of horses that he is using is thirty years old and still doing good service.

KISSING DIVORCED WIFE NOT ASSAULT

Vincennes, Ind., July 7.—Kissing one's divorced wife does not constitute a case of assault and battery, according to a decision of the court here who discharged John Everhart, of Sullivan county, in the trial of a case brought by Mrs. Everhart. She alleged her former husband called her to his buggy and kissed her twice. The Everharts, who are the parents of eight children, were divorced recently after having been married for thirty-five years.

GERMAN HIGH SEAS FLEET STILL BUSY

British Steamship Seized Near English Coast as a Prize.

Berlin, July 7.—(Via London 3:03 p. m.)—Official announcement was made today that the British steamship Lestris was held up by German warships near the English coast and seized as a prize.

The report says the Lestris was held up "by a portion of the German high sea forces." The announcement follows:

"The British steamship Lestris, from Liverpool has been held up by a portion of the German high sea forces not far from the English coast and seized as a prize."

The wording of the German statement indicates that a part, at least, of the German high sea fleet was near the British coast at the time the Lestris was seized.

The Lestris is a steamship of 1,384 tons gross, owned in Cork.

RICH IN PAPER MONEY BUT GO WITHOUT PAY

El Paso, July 7.—During their raid on Jiminez, the Villa troops captured the Carranza pay train, which was on its way north from Mexico City, filled with paper money for the army and civil government of northern Mexico, said a mining man, arriving from Chihuahua. While the Villa followers are rich in the new "uncounterfeitable paper," the military and civil employes must go without their June pay, he said.

"Paper money is an important factor in the present Villa campaign," he continued. "The peons of Chihuahua hold large sums of Villa paper, which they hope Villa will redeem, therefore they pray for his success.

"No doubt now remains among the people of Chihuahua that Villa is directing operations. That he should fall on the strongest section of the Carranza cordon and destroy it, killing its leader, General Ramos, before the various sections could effectively join it, is regarded as typical Villa strategy.

UNDECIDED AS TO PACKING INQUIRY

Washington, July 7.—Members of the house judiciary sub-committee were considering informally today whether they shall recommend a federal inquiry into the meat-packing industry.

The committeemen had before them a mass of testimony taken during hearing which began in March and ended yesterday on Representative Borland's resolution for an investigation by the federal trade commission. Representatives of the cattle producers favored such an inquiry, while the packers opposed it on the ground that it would be detrimental to their business. Cattlemen argued that the action was necessary to insure reasonable meat prices to consumers.

The sub-committee will hasten its deliberations in an attempt to report to the full committee which meets next Tuesday. It is considered doubtful, however, whether its work can be finished by that time.

The markings on a graduated measuring glass invented in Germany are made along a zigzag line instead of a vertical one, and, having wider spaces between, are said to be read more accurately.

Everybody Come

LUCIA ZORA, LION TAMER WITH SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS, HERE JULY 13.

Shortly you are going to have the pleasure of walking in a strange land, hearing an unknown but delightfully tantalizing tongue. The jargon of the sawdust and big top world has a never-failing delight, and it is that which will be in your ears.

For when the Sells-Floto circus, Buffalo Bill Wild West show, champion shows of the world, come to Fort Wayne July 13, it will be as if a foreign community had been plumped right down in the heart of our city.

To walk in such spicy places, smelling of sawdust, peanuts, animals and, well, just of "circus," is unalloyed delight. But when in the ears ring such names as "marquee," "punk," "cats" and a score more, there is a new tingle

Jargon of Sawdust Ring.

At the iront gate one may hear a circus man say something about the marquee. That is the entrance to the menagerie, where the tickets are taken. Passing through, the "big top"—main tent—is reached.

But on the way, the tourist in this strange land will observe the "punks," baby animals of all sorts; feed peanuts to the "bulls"—elephants; be hissed at by the "spots"—leopards. He will pass through the "connection"—the open space between the menagerie and the big show.

And in the big show will be "kinkers," "twisters," "Joeys," "menage riders" and scores more. The tourist may never learn the names—he knows them as performers, contortionists, iron jaw artists, equestrians and clowns.

Champions With Show.

So much for the jargon, the argot, of the circus. As to the stellar attractions, well! For one, there will be Jess Willard. For another, Frank Gotch. For a third, Mme. Zora, animal trainer. Willard and Gotch will take all comers. In addition, Willard will illustrate, with a sparring partner, the great Moran battle, round by round.

WILL COMPLETE SPY RUN RETAINING WALL

City Works Board Orders Plans Prepared for $10,000 Improvement

The retaining wall along Spy Run will be built twelve feet higher, according to the order of the city board of works in their meeting Thursday evening. The improvement will cost between $6,000 and $10,000, the board has been told. The wall is 550 feet long and stretches around a sharp bend of the St. Joseph river along Spy Run from State street to the Centlivre brewery.

The present wall is not as high as the street and at present is considered dangerous. The addition to the present wall will raise the structure four feet above the road and will safeguard traffic from a possible plunge down the embankment. There will be an iron railing along the top of the wall. City Engineer Randall was ordered to prepare plans, for the addition to the wall, as soon as possible. The wall will be completed this fall if possible.

Assessment rolls for the following paving improvements were adopted by the board: Harrison street, from Creighton avenue to Woodland avenue; Lillie street, from Maumee to Taylor street; Erie street from Francis to Hanover; Hanna street from Taber to McKee; Wayne Trace from Summer to Felican streets.

Resolutions for paving the following alleys were adopted:

Alley between Wayne and Washington from Monroe to Hanna streets; between Washington and Jefferson, from Monroe to Francis streets; between Jefferson and Madison, from Hanna to Division streets; between Lewis and Montgomery from Lafayette to Clay; between Calhoun and Harrison from Douglas to Breckenridge streets; between Douglas avenue and Breckenridge from Calhoun to Harrison streets; between Washington and Jefferson from Van Buren to Jackson; between Harrison and Webster from Suttenfield to Woodland; between Fairfield and Oakley from Taylor to Walnut; between Murray and Wallace from Calhoun to Clinton streets; between Calhoun and Clinton from Murray to Wallace; between Hanna and Weisser Park avenue from Pontiac to McKee streets; between Fairfield and South Wayne from Wildwood avenue to the first alley north; between Berry and Old Fort Place from Lafayette to Clay streets.

PLAN FOR EQUABLE GRAIN DISTRIBUTION

System Devised to Play Fair With All in Austria-Hungary.

Vienna, June 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—After lengthy conferences between the ministers of the interior and of agriculture for both Austria and Hungary, a system for the equable distribution of grain of all sorts throughout the monarchy for the year 1916-1917, beginning August 1, has been settled upon. It will differ from last year's method and will be accompanied by a rise in prices.

Under the new plan the distribution will be direct, and under no circumstances through associations, guilds or other bodies that in the past have been the equivalent of middlemen. The war grain association for the empire will be the only organization entitled to give mills orders on storage houses for the grain, and when the grain has been milled, it must be turned over to the individual municipalities for distribution equally among the people.

The rise in prices that is in prospect promises to be due to the mills rather than to the crops, which are far better than last year, if not record-breaking all around. The mills in Austria-Hungary want, this year, six kronen instead of 4.20 as last year for milling the same quantity of grain, and will get it unless the protests of the cities are made effective.

Reports from all over Austria-Hungary, especially along the lower Danube and from Bulgaria and Roumania, indicate that there will be a bumper crop. In sharp contrast to last year the weather has been almost ideal with about the right proportion of sunshine and rain, and with little or no late frost to nip early planting. The same conditions, according to reports, prevail in Germany, which this year not only will have a big crop on her own territory, but also will harvest an untold amount from the land in occupied regions—territory either that she did not occupy a year ago, or that was taken too late for cultivation and planting.

Experts here believe that the central powers will be almost the only countries now at war to benefit from this year's big crops, this because of the loss of territory on the one hand and the lack of workmen and laborers on the other. The crops in certain parts of Russia, it is claimed, are about 80 per cent. behind normal, while France and England, which never did raise enough for themselves, will be at a disadvantage in importing a sufficient quantity by reason of the growing scarcity of tonnage and the high freight and insurance rates.

SUMMONS HER LAWYER BEFORE ENDING LIFE

Indianapolis Widow Writes Letter and Then Turns on Gas in Home.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—A letter written by Mrs. Mattie May Short, widow of the late William N. Short, summoning John M. Wall, her attorney, to her home, No. 4 Willard apartments, 38 West St. Joseph street, resulted in the discovery of Mrs. Short's body by Mr. Wall and Detectives Woolley and Larsh in the bedroom of her apartment yesterday afternoon, where she had committed suicide with gas. Dr. Richard A. Poole, coroner, said that Mrs. Short had died some time Wednesday night. The woman lived alone, and the rank odor of gas did not lead to a discovery of the suicide as the other three apartments of the building are vacant.

Wall, who has looked after Mrs. Short's business interests, said that she had been frail and that financial worries have recently preyed on her mind causing her to become despondent. In a note she left detailed instructions for her funeral and the carrying out of her business affairs. Several other notes were addressed to relatives, but these were consolatory in tone and did not offer explanations.

Receives Letter at Noon.

The letter was received by Mr. Wall at his office in the Lombard building yesterday about noon. The door key to the apartment was inclosed. The letter read:

"When you receive this come to my house at once as there will probably be need of your services."

The attorney was nonplused by the note and after failing to get Mrs. Short's apartment over the telephone went to the police. Captain of Detectives Quigley at once scented suicide and detailed Detectives Woolley and Larsh to go with Wall to the woman's home. The odor of gas was strong throughout the building.

She was found lying on the bed with a rubber tube attached to a gas jet held under her head in order to keep the tube near her nose.

Burial Clothes Ready.

In an adjoining room was a gray silk dress and other articles of clothing, which she had evidently intended for her burial outfit, spread on a bed. Everything about the house indicated that the suicide had been carefully planned. The house was in scrupulous order and the window shades were drawn.

Mrs. Short's husband, who was a druggist at Illinois and Maryland street for many years, died suddenly in the same apartment about five years ago. He was afflicted with heart trouble. R. E. Bird, from whom Mrs. Short was divorced, was murdered, it is said, about one year ago near Kankakee, Ill. He was a railroad man and was thrown from a moving train by another man.

As far as Conorer Poole could learn yesterday all of the woman's relatives reside at Greensburg, Ind. She directed that personal effects be given to her sons, Russel and Ernest Bird. In a note to her father, Thomas Castor of Greensburg, she told him not to grieve and told him that her act was for the best.

FIRST HALF OF SHOP LEAGUE ENDS IN TIE

Four Teams in a Tie for First Place in the Shop League.

Saturday ends the first half of the Fort Wayne shop league schedule and with four teams in a tie for first place. In Saturday's contests there is likely to be a defeat of one of the league leaders, the Bowser and Electric works teams battling to stay in the first division,. One of the two teams will be dropped as a leader after the contest Saturday. The other two leaders of the league have selected easy games as the Turners have the Dudlos and the Western Gas have the Pennsylvania company. These games should result in win games for the leaders and with the winner of the Bowser-Electric works game, the league cannot fare better than a three-team tie.

A playoff of the tie will be necessary and after the games Saturday the officials will make arrangements for the games which will be held in League park a week from Saturday, July 15.

The shop leaguers will hold a meeting at the offices of Cleary & Bailey Monday night and there the plans for the championship games of the first half of the schedul ewill be discussed. Much interest has been shown by the fans since the race has developed into such a tight one. The schedule for Saturday's games is:

CLEARYITES GETTING IN SHAPE FOR GAME

Crows Will All Be in Fine Trim for the Game Sunday.

With all the near cripples back in the lineup Sunday, the dark ones under the guidance of Mart Cleary expect to wipe the league park grounds with the invading Payne bunch.

Word has been received from the Payne camp that Oestie Oestermeyer, late of the Southern league, will do the hurling for the visitors. Oestermeyer has always proved himself a pitcher of class in the semi-pro ranks and when he stacks up against the locals they will have to have their very best hitting eyes. White will be on the receiving end of the Payne battery.

Freese, the youth who has been pitching such fine ball for the Crows, will be in the box for the locals. Freese hurt his ankle in the game on the Fourth but says the hurt is past and he is feeling fine and in good shape for Sunday's game.

The Payne management sends word that they are bringing a large crowd than last time. When the Payne team played here before they brought 300 rooters and they say they will bring more this time. Sundays' game will be the third of the series, each team winning one game.

MEANS NEW CITY TERMINAL.

Purchase of Nickel Plate Will Advance Cleveland Plans.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 7.—The purchase of the Nickel Plate in New York today by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen marks a further step in a movement to provide a large railroad and traction terminal in the heart of Cleveland's downtown section, according to associates of the Van Sweringens. It was asserted that the Nickel Plate will be electrified between Lorain and Painesville and that section of it used as a rapid transit line. Clevelanders interested in the project besides the Van Sweringens are J. R. Nutt, of the Citizens Savings and Trust company; M. B. Johnson, attorney, and Warren S. Hayden, of Hayden, Miller & Co.

GILHOOLEY FIGHTS 3 YEARS FOR JOB IN MAJORS; LANDS IT, THEN BREAKS LEG.

Fate is against Frank Gilhooley, of the New York Yankees!

Just when the speedy lead-off man of the first place Broadway contingent seemed on the road to his first success in three trials with major league society misfortune overtook him. Sliding to third base in a game at Washington July 3 the midget right fielder broke a small bone in his leg, and according to Manager Donovan will probably be out of the lineup six weeks.

Turned down by the Cardinals in 1912 and by the Yankees in 1914, Gilhooley came back to make his third fight for a big league berth when the Gothamites went south last spring. In certain quarters it was freely predicted that the Irish lad, though a corking minor leaguer, wouldn't make good in the exclusive set. Some said he had a bad throwing arm.

How Gilhooley silenced his critics is a matter of much ribald comment. Instead of fizzling again he has developed into the best lead-off man in the junior circuit.

At least two expert hammer throwers who predicted he would not stick with the Yankees until July 4 already have paid off bets made with Capt. Huston, part owner of the club.

Gilhooley might have passed the summer a bench warmer but for the injury to Fritz Maisel, who broke his collar bone May 15. Entering the lineup that day the former International leaguer proceeded to shine with pronounced lustre and in addition to getting on bases oftener than any of his shipmates boosted his batting mark from .230 to .280, which is just about his proper speed.

As first hitter his only close rival is Bert Shotten, of the St. Louis Browns. Gilhooley has it on the westerner in that he gets on first oftener and is just as fleet as the Brownie. Bush, of the Tigers, always rated a wonderful lead-off man, is batting fifty points lower than the Yankee.

On one stretch of 34 games Gilhooley reached first base 68 times, hitting safely on 36 occasions and arriving there 32 times by either errors or passes and scoring 23 runs. In 16 combats on the recent trip through the west he batted .319.

Doctors attending the player say the injury will not leave Gilhooley with a weak ankle. The fracture was in the small bone of the leg and the X-ray photo showed the break had been clean.

With both Maisel and Gilhooley out of commission, Manager Donovan has taken steps to plug the gaps by signing Rube Oldring, veteran, who recently left the Philadelphia Athletics. Maisel is due to resume work in a few days.

HERZOG GOING TO CUBS, IS REPORT

Chicago, July 7.—Manager Herzog, manager and shortstop of the Cincinnati Reds, is to become a member of the Chicago National league team, according to a story published here today.

It is known that the Cubs have wanted a shortstop for some time, and it is said they will bring Herzog to Chicago. It is thought now that the deal will be closed within the next twenty-four hours.

The price which the Cubs are to pay for Herzog is not given but it is said to be a large amount of money and one or two ball players.

PITCHES 14 NO-HIT INNINGS.

Toledo, O., July 7.—The Mulberrys, a crack amateur team, had its winning streak broken Tuesday afternooon when they lost a close game to the Toledo Brews, 6 to 5. "Left" Dorbeck, their star pitcher, set a great record for himself. Relieving Powell in the fifth inning he held the winners without a hit the remainder of the game, and then pitched another no-hit game against the Gasorum A. C. He allowed the losers a run, however, the score in the second contest being 10 to 1. Dorbeck thus pitched fourteen innings without allowing a hit.

JOHNSON WOULD GIVE BATSMAN TWO BASES

Seeks to Discourage Plan of Some Pitchers to "Bean" Batters.

Chicago, July 7—That the batter, whenever hit on the head with a pitched ball, should receive two bases instead of one, is the suggestion President B. B. Johnson, of the American league, makes for future baseball legislation to deter pitchers from intimidating the batsmen.

He disagrees with President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn National league club, who would have the umpire empowered to grant the batsman his base any time the pitcher tries, in the opinion of the umpire, to hit the batter on the head with the ball.

The Ebbets plan, Mr. Johnson believes, would only add to the troubles of the umpire and would lead to more wrangling. He said he is loath to believe pitchers try to injure the batsmen, but he admitted there is a growing belief that they are throwing balls at the players' heads in order to drive them away from the plate or to intimidate.

OWNS FUNGO RECORD.

Winnipeg, Man., July 7.—Hank Miller, the big center fielder of the Winnipeg ball team, who was tried out last spring by the Brooklyn Dodgers, only to be sent back, set a new fungo hitting record when he drove the ball 438 feet in a field celebration here. Miller shot past the mark held by Ed Walsh, of the White Sox by almost nineteen feet. Like Walsh, the local slugger hits right-handed.

NEW INVASIONS MAY CHANGE MAJOR RACES

New York, July 7.—With the league leaders, Brooklyn and New York, just a little farther away from the pack than at the first of the week the western American league teams are invading the east today while the teams of the older circuit head for the setting sun.

The Yankees returned to the Polo grounds with a record of sixteen victories out of twenty games on the road and gained half a notch on Cleveland since Sunday, while the Dodgers, taking advantage of the slipping Giants, are now four full games ahead of the Phillies. Pat Moran's men have been having a merry battle with the Braves for second place, and hold the honors today through Rixey's twirling yesterday. The Cubs and the Red Sox were the big gainers, each team climbing from sixth to fourth place.

The coming invasion of eastern diamonds by the western American league teams will probably shake loose one or two of the seven pennant contenders in Ban Johnson's circuit. The trouble will start today, with Chicago at New York and the Indians at Boston. The Tigers down in the mire of the second division, have a fine chance to climb high at Connie Mack's expense, while the leaders cut each other's throats.

The western swing of the National league clubs will mean just as much to the leaders as the eastern invasion in the American and interest will center in whether Brooklyn can hold the pace they have set, and how the Giants succeed in shaking off their home jinx repeating their former success on the road.

One Minute Talks with Ballplayers

BENNY KAUFF, OF THE NEW YORK GIANTS:

"I don't know whether I am better off in baseball than I was when I was working in the mines. I suppose I am, but when you are a miner and making $4 to $8 a day you have nothing to worry about. In baseball you've got to get two or three hits a day or worry a lot.

"The National league isn't a bit faster than was the Federal league. I haven't got started yet; that's why my batting average isn't as big as the one I always had in the Federal league.

FRANK BAKER, OF THE NEW YORK YANKEES:

"I might never have been a professional baseball player but for Charley Herzog and a man named Preston Day. I was playing on an amateur team in Trappe, Md., my home town, with little idea of adopting baseball as a profession when Mr. Day saw me one day and recommended me to Herzog, who was managing the team at Ridgley, Md.

"Herzog sent for me. He offered me $5 a week and my board. That was in 1906 and I was 19 years old. I was an outfielder when I joined Ridgley, but later moved to third, where I have since played.

"I joined the Cambridge (Md.) team in 1907 and a year later went to the Reading Tri-State team, where Mack purchased me in June."

JIMMY JOHNSON, OF THE BROOKLYN NATIONALS:

"I've seen freak homers in the Southern, Pacific coast, American and National leagues, but I will take off my hat to a couple I saw on the Brooklyn grounds this season. George Cutshaw, of our club, made the first one, beating the Phillies in eleven innings, when his drive climbed up the right field wall and dropped into Bedford avenue back of the park.

"Betzel, of the Cardinals, made the second freak wallop, in a recent series with us. He hit a low line drive to left in the fourth inning. Wheat came tearing in for a shoestring catch but the ball squirted off his leg and into the bleachers, where it was grabbed by a fan. The latter shot it to Wheat, who held Betzel to second.

"It looked like an assist for the fan, but Umpire Rigler ruled the hit a homer, so the fan didn't get the assist and Betzel was credited with a circuit smash."

BUDAPEST STRONGLY OPPOSES NEW PLAN

Chilly Toward Proposed Closer Economic Union.

Vienna, June 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—German and Austrian aspirations for a closer economic union have received a setback at the hands of the Budapest chamber of commerce. In emphatically worded resolutions that body has declared that the new ausbleich with Austria shall be for only ten years, and has further expressed its conviction that Hungary must be independent of Austria in customs matters, and have her own tariffs.

The ausgleich is the working agreement between Austria and Hungary for carrying on the joint affairs of the dual monarchy, including provision for customs and finances. Originating in the compromise of 1867 the legal term of the agreement was fixed at ten years, but since the movement began for a closer economic union between Germany and Austria-Hungary it has been urged that the ausgleich, which expires next year, be extended to twenty or twenty-five years so as to make possible some of the readjustments that would not be possible in a shorter period. The leaders in the movement for the economic union, who have been meeting in Berlin, Vienna, Budapest, Munich, Dresden and Prague, have considered the extension of the ausgleich to be a most essential matter, and the action of the Budapest chamber of commerce in opposition to it has caused much irritation among those who hope that the new economic alliance will be perfected.

It is said that the Hungarian parliament, on the whole, is also opposed to the extension of the ausgleich. The negotiations every ten years for each new ausgleich have always been used by the politicians in Budapest to extract all sorts of compensation, political, financial and economic, from the government in Vienna, and the Hungarians will not readily sacrifice such a powerful weapon.

The determined stand by the Budapest chamber in the matter of a separation of the customs system of the monarchy has also opened up serious problems. While Hungary is chiefly an agricultural state, it has in the past few years been laboriously building up various industries with government subventions and all sorts of political assistance, to the point of competition with Austria, which is chiefly a manufacturing state. In Hungary it has been decreed that no official supplies are to be bought outside of Hungary, not even in Austria, if they can possibly be produced or bought in Hungary. Further, the leading industrial interests have insisted that a speedy development of home industry can only be brought about if Hungary has her own system of tariffs, so as to close her frontier against Austria, and make her own commercial treaties with other nations.

The agricultural interests, on the other hand, prefer the continuance of the common customs tariffs for the whole empire, as they desire to shut out the importation of foreign grain and cattle and meant in common with their Austrian associates, and then, too, they sell most of their produce in Austria.

Since the outbreak of the war the internal relations between Austria and Hungary had considerably improved and it was hoped that suffering under this common burden, the two nations would become still more closely united in the future.

But all the influences of the war and the necessity for showing an undivided front to the foe, have failed to make the Hungarian manufacturers recede from their demands for customs separation from Austria. It is true that the resolutions of the Chamber of Commerce admit that the time is not opportune for making such a tremendous change, but in the firm conviction is expressed that an independent customs territory is the only way of developing home industries. Even this statement of the situation was too mild for some of the speakers in the debate, who insisted that the separation should be pressed forward without delay and petitions sent to the parliament to this end.

With regard to Germany the resolutions demand that a new, reciprocal commercial treaty shall be entered into which shall pay the utmost possible regard to the interests of all the participants, without excluding foreign nations from the beinefits of the special concessions.

Biliousness and Stomach Trouble.

"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbryke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

INDIANA MAN DETAINED.

Reported Held in Canadian Hotel Because of German Name.

Washington, July 7.—J. H. Schroeder, a member of the Schroeder Headlight company, of Evansville, Ind., is being detained in a hotel in Canada.

Representative Lieb, who was appealed to for assistance, sent a letter to the state department in which he said: "I wish you would take immediate action toward providing the necessary papers for the safe return of Mr. Schroeder to his country."

Mr. Lieb was not informed as to the reasons the Canadian authorities advance for holding up Mr. Schroeder, but the state department suggests that his German name may have something to do with it, although he is an American citizen.

Taking Big Chances.

It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as this preparation cannot be obtained on the trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe, and everyone should go prepared for them. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

NEW DEVICE AIDS THE BLIND TO READ

Invention of Vienna Scientist Believed Vast Improvement.

Vienna, June 25.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Dr. Max Herz, a well known Vienna scientist, has invented a sort of combination of talking machine and telegraph which will enable the blind to "read" with far greater ease than the present cumbersome and costly Braile books.

The principle of the new device lies in the conveying of "Morse" or other telegraphic signs, to the blind through the sense of hearing. On the machine are placed small records, each of which may contain a whole story, written out in [illegible] instrument composed of two Morse keys and electric sounders is required; the sounders being connected with a needle which cuts into the prepared wax record. The records consist only of long and short sounds and they can be sold at extraordinarily low prices.

The annual report of the great Krupp works at Essen says that out of every 100 women employed there 77 claimed relief from the sick fund during the year, as compared with 62 men out of every 100.

The number of women employed by Krupps has risen more than ten-fold.

In August, 1914, just before the war broke out, the company's pay roll included 26,880 men and only 1,214 women. At the end of April last these figures had risen to 55,949 and 13,032 women.

Bertha Krupp, the "Cannon Queen," is credited with having received an income from the works last year of more than a hundred million marks, or $25,000,000.

WORK IS EASIER FOR FARMER NOW

Fred Blum Believes He Could Set a Record Since Taking Tanlac.

"I think I could do a bigger day's work today than I ever did in my life," Fred Blum, farmer, who lives on rural route No. 15, Fort Wayne, said recently, "And I think Tanlac will help others just as it did me," Mr. Blum added, indicating his present good condition is due to the Master Medicine's work.

"For fifteen years I suffered from kidney trouble and I also was bothered with muscular rheumatism," Mr. Blum continued. "Pains in the small of my back were so severe I had to walk stooped over. Often the pains prevented me from arising. The rheumatic pains also were very severe, especially in my knees and elbows.

"Since I've tried Tanlac the pains in my back have vanished completely. The rheumatic pains also are about gone. After the third day I could tell that Tanlac was helping me. The results I have gained are truly wonderful. I can do more work now than ever before and I believe Tanlac will help others just as it did me."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like and is a fine tonic.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Fort Wayne at Meyer's drug stores—Wayne and Calhoun, Calhoun and Columbia, 1420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor.—Advertisement.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

THE THESSALONIAN CHRISTIANS.

LESSON TEXT—I Thess. 2:17-20; 4:13-18; 5:14-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—If we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that are fallen asleep in Jesus will God bring with him.—I Thess. 4:14 R. V.

This epistle is probably one of the earliest of Paul's letters (A. D. 50-53?). It links itself closely with the seventeenth chapter of the Book of Acts. Driven from Berea, Paul goes to Athens and later to Corinth, while Timothy returns to Thessalonica and carries a report to Paul at Corinth. Whereupon, perhaps within six months, Paul writes his epistle. A study of the two letters addressed to this church teaches us how Paul advised and instructed his Gentile converts. The first is a particularly cheerful, positive and helpful exhortation.

I. Thanksgiving and Testimony (1: 1-90; 2:17-20). (1) Salutation (1:1) The phrase, "the church of the Thessalonians which is in God" is nowhere else used. Some think it to be unique because Paul had so little to condemn or to criticize. The deity of Jesus Christ and that grace and peace proceed from God is clearly set forth. (2) Thanksgiving (vv. 2 and 3) (a) For works of faith; (b) for their "labor of love," and (c) their "patience" (endurance). That these works were "in the sight of God" is evidence of their genuineness, and such spiritual fruitage awakened (3) Knowledge in Paul's mind (v. 4). They were "elected" to salvation, holiness and likeness to Jesus (vv. 5-9; I Pet 1:2; Eph. 1:4, 5; Rom. 8:29). (4) Testimony (vv. 6-10). Paul could appeal to the known conduct of himself and his friends to substantiate, to prove, the standing of those candidates for holiness who had been "elected." His words had not come to them in mere exhortation and eloquence but "also in power," which governed their conduct. This was not to win applause, but in his own case he labored for their sakes (v. 5) and in their case they had received the word "with joy" in the midst of affliction to the end that they became examples (patterns or types; literally, like the far echoing notes of a trumpet) (v. 7) to all that dwelt in the regions thereabout. Their obedience, consistency and missionary spirit (vv. 8-10) sounded forth everywhere and all that needed to be done was to say, "Behold the church of Thessalonica!" (5) Paul's glory and joy (2:17-20). Paul sets forth his character as a Christian worker (2:1-16). (a) His physical boldness (vv. 1, 2); (b) his faithful, impartial teaching (vv. 3-6), affectionately kind (7,8), unselfish, working for his own support (v. 9), holy and consistent (13-16). No one "had anything on him," and such a life dares to be bold, though it is not free from persecution (v. 15). (6) Paul's desire (2:17-20). He here sets forth why this letter was written. Separated from them by persecution, he desires to return and supply the things they were yet lacking and to see face to face those whom he loved. Satan prevented (v. 18) doubtless using the bitter persecution stirred up against him. He had therefore sent Timothy from Berea to comfort them (3:15), who had made such a good report (3:1-10) that it urged Paul to greater prayer (vv. 11-13) on their behalf.

II. Ignorance Illumined (4:13-18). Paul rebukes certain sins (4:1-12), exhorting them to godliness and to love one another. He then touches upon a doctrine which was one of his strongest reasons for writing to these Thessalonians. The imminent return of Christ had been strongly emphasized, but in the months of Paul's absence some of their number had died, died without seeing Christ's promised glory. Would those who remained have any advantage over the dead saints when Christ should come? It is to set their thinking aright that Paul writes. This he does by outlining the great and blessed hope of the church in its "rapture" at Christ's coming. This is more clearly set forth here than anywhere else in the New Testament. Those who mourned over departed loved ones are not to "sorrow as those who had no hope." Jesus the risen, everlasting Savior and king, is certainly coming again in his kingdom of glory, "with a shout, with the voice of the archangel." Their sorrow is not that of the world, for those departed are but "sleeping" and will come back with Jesus when he comes. Together they who sleep and we who are alive shall be caught up "to meet the Lord in the air," all to dwell together forevermore with the Lord.

Paul's description of the events of this second coming, this rapture of the church, has not yet been fulfilled, but he and the disciples were not mistaken as to its nearness, its imminence.

III. The Hope of Church and State (5:14-24). The letter closes with moral exhortations with reference to spiritual leaders, care of one another, the spirit of prayer; and he exhorts them not to "quench the Spirit" by despising prophesying, that preaching and testifying which can be exercised by the weakest, feebliest member of the church if he be Spirit-endued.

BELGIAN REFUGEE COLONY DWINDLES

Million Once in Holland Has Declined Now to About 65,000.

The Hague, Netherlands, June 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—From a million after the fall of Antwerp, the number of Belgian refugees in Holland has declined to about 65,000 today, according to official information given to the Associated Press. The rest of the terror-stricken throngs which poured over the Dutch frontier have returned to their homes in Belgium, or gone to England or France and, to some small extent, to America.

Numerous Belgians are still arriving from over the border, driven out by the hard conditions of existence there, but this accession is apparently counterbalanced by the overflow from Holland in various directions. Of the 65,000 still enjoying Dutch hospitality, 15,000 are now accommodated in the four refugee camps at Ede, Nunspeet, Gouda and Uden, while the remainder are scattered among private families.

Apart from several million dollars provided by voluntary donations, the country's hospitality had up to the end of last year cost the Dutch government some $5,000,000, while a sum of $2,000,000 has been voted for the current year that will, unless peace arrives meantime, have to be raised to probably $3,000,000. The Belgian government's offer of reinforcement was generously declined.

Any needy Belgians are free to enter the refugee villages, or if private families care to keep them, and there is no objection on the part of the local authorities, the burgomaster is empowered to allow fourteen American cents a day per adult towards their maintenance and 8 cents per child, while the silent sufferers belonging to the better classes, socalled "pauvres honteux," of whom there are something under 2,000 receive 28 cents a day per person through a special committee.

Excellent arrangements have been made in the matter of education. Under the direction of a Dutch-Belgian commission, as many as 48 primary schools have been established, with 4,500 scholars, in which instruction is given by certificated Belgian teachers. Secondary schools have also been set up at The Hague, Amsterdam and Middelburg, while an "atheneum" established at Flushing numbers 125 pupils. There are, in addition, technical schools destined for both interned Belgian soldiers and refugees. Grants are made to these various institutions by the Dutch and Belgian governments.

The entire work of relief promises to be a lasting honor to Holland and its traditional hospitality.

Chilly Toward Proposed Closer Economic Union.

Vienna, June 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—German and Austrian aspirations for a closer economic union have received a setback at the hands of the Budapest chamber of commerce. In emphatically worded resolutions that body has declared that the new ausbleich with Austria shall be for only ten years, and has further expressed its conviction that Hungary must be independent of Austria in customs matters, and have her own tariffs.

The ausgleich is the working agreement between Austria and Hungary for carrying on the joint affairs of the dual monarchy, including provision for customs and finances. Originating in the compromise of 1867 the legal term of the agreement was fixed at ten years, but since the movement began for a closer economic union between Germany and Austria-Hungary it has been urged that the ausgleich, which expires next year, be extended to twenty or twenty-five years so as to make possible some of the readjustments that would not be possible in a shorter period. The leaders in the movement for the economic union, who have been meeting in Berlin, Vienna, Budapest, Munich, Dresden and Prague, have considered the extension of the ausgleich to be a most essential matter, and the action of the Budapest chamber of commerce in opposition to it has caused much irritation among those who hope that the new economic alliance will be perfected.

It is said that the Hungarian parliament, on the whole, is also opposed to the extension of the ausgleich. The negotiations every ten years for each new ausgleich have always been used by the politicians in Budapest to extract all sorts of compensation, political, financial and economic, from the government in Vienna, and the Hungarians will not readily sacrifice such a powerful weapon.

The determined stand by the Budapest chamber in the matter of a separation of the customs system of the monarchy has also opened up serious problems. While Hungary is chiefly an agricultural state, it has in the past few years been laboriously building up various industries with government subventions and all sorts of political assistance, to the point of competition with Austria, which is chiefly a manufacturing state. In Hungary it has been decreed that no official supplies are to be bought outside of Hungary, not even in Austria, if they can possibly be produced or bought in Hungary. Further, the leading industrial interests have insisted that a speedy development of home industry can only be brought about if Hungary has her own system of tariffs, so as to close her frontier against Austria, and make her own commercial treaties with other nations.

The agricultural interests, on the other hand, prefer the continuance of the common customs tariffs for the whole empire, as they desire to shut out the importation of foreign grain and cattle and meant in common with their Austrian associates, and then, too, they sell most of their produce in Austria.

Since the outbreak of the war the internal relations between Austria and Hungary had considerably improved and it was hoped that suffering under this common burden, the two nations would become still more closely united in the future.

But all the influences of the war and the necessity for showing an undivided front to the foe, have failed to make the Hungarian manufacturers recede from their demands for customs separation from Austria. It is true that the resolutions of the Chamber of Commerce admit that the time is not opportune for making such a tremendous change, but in the firm conviction is expressed that an independent customs territory is the only way of developing home industries. Even this statement of the situation was too mild for some of the speakers in the debate, who insisted that the separation should be pressed forward without delay and petitions sent to the parliament to this end.

With regard to Germany the resolutions demand that a new, reciprocal commercial treaty shall be entered into which shall pay the utmost possible regard to the interests of all the participants, without excluding foreign nations from the beinefits of the special concessions.

Biliousness and Stomach Trouble.

"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbryke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

INDIANA MAN DETAINED.

Reported Held in Canadian Hotel Because of German Name.

Washington, July 7.—J. H. Schroeder, a member of the Schroeder Headlight company, of Evansville, Ind., is being detained in a hotel in Canada.

Representative Lieb, who was appealed to for assistance, sent a letter to the state department in which he said: "I wish you would take immediate action toward providing the necessary papers for the safe return of Mr. Schroeder to his country."

Mr. Lieb was not informed as to the reasons the Canadian authorities advance for holding up Mr. Schroeder, but the state department suggests that his German name may have something to do with it, although he is an American citizen.

Taking Big Chances.

It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as this preparation cannot be obtained on the trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe, and everyone should go prepared for them. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

NEW DEVICE AIDS THE BLIND TO READ

Invention of Vienna Scientist Believed Vast Improvement.

Vienna, June 25.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Dr. Max Herz, a well known Vienna scientist, has invented a sort of combination of talking machine and telegraph which will enable the blind to "read" with far greater ease than the present cumbersome and costly Braile books.

The principle of the new device lies in the conveying of "Morse" or other telegraphic signs, to the blind through the sense of hearing. On the machine are placed small records, each of which may contain a whole story, written out in [illegible] instrument composed of two Morse keys and electric sounders is required; the sounders being connected with a needle which cuts into the prepared wax record. The records consist only of long and short sounds and they can be sold at extraordinarily low prices.

The annual report of the great Krupp works at Essen says that out of every 100 women employed there 77 claimed relief from the sick fund during the year, as compared with 62 men out of every 100.

The number of women employed by Krupps has risen more than ten-fold.

In August, 1914, just before the war broke out, the company's pay roll included 26,880 men and only 1,214 women. At the end of April last these figures had risen to 55,949 and 13,032 women.

Bertha Krupp, the "Cannon Queen," is credited with having received an income from the works last year of more than a hundred million marks, or $25,000,000.

DOWN THE STREET BUT IT PAYS TO WALK

Will Chain Wife-Beaters to Post on Street Corner

wife beaters' post for you" will be the sentence to wife beaters found guilty in Judge J. H. Brady's court hereafter, according to the judge.

Aroused by the number of wife beating cases that came before him, Judge Brady asked Mayor Green for permission to erect a post at one of the busiest corners in the city. Permission was granted.

"It does no good to send wife beaters to the workhouse," Brady said. "Henceforth we will chain them tothe post in a prominent place so everyone who passes may see the sort of brute who uses his fists and feet on a woman. Maybe the humiliation will do more good than workhouse sentences. It is a shame the law does not allow whipping posts."

MORE THAN 500,000 MEXICANS IN U. S.

Majority Centered in Four Border States; Others Are Scattered.

Washington, July 7.—More than half a million Mexicans are residents of the United States!

When the census was taken in 1910 there were 394,115 persons of Mexican birth or Mexican parentage in the country. Of these, 221,915 were born in Mexico and 162,200 had one or both parents born in Mexico.

Just what the increase has been since is not know nexactly, but is rated at 50 per cent, which would mean 592,000 Mexicans are resident in the United States.

In 1890 there were only 77,853 persons of Mexican birth or parentage in the population of the United States. By 1900 this number had grown to 103,393, an increase of 32.8 per cent. Between 1900 and 1910 the increase was 114.6 per cent, but census officials say this large increase has not held good for the past six years.

As might be expected, the bulk of the Mexican population is in the four border states, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. But many Mexicans are scattered over the country, especially in the west. Some are to be found as far north as Wisconsin..

There are Mexicans in the United States army, too

The war department does not know how many because such information has never been compiled except in the classification of "white," "negro" and "Indians."

According to the 1910 census, there were at that time 232,920 persons of Mexican birth or parentage in Texas; 21,948 in New Mexico; 51,102 in Arizona, and 51,037 in California, a total of 357,007, or 91 per cent of all the Mexicans in the United States.

A special census taken in January, 1916, for El Paso, showed that of a total permanent population of 61,898 over half, 52.9 per cent, were Mexicans, who numbered 32,724.

In addition, and not included in the permanent population, there were then at El Paso 7,051 refugees, of whom 6,555 were Mexicans, making the total more than 39,000 of a total population of 71,000.

In 1910, the city of Laredo, Tex., had 7,081 citizens of Mexican birth, and an unknown number of Mexicans of Mexican parentage, in a total population of 14,855. San Antonio had 9,906 Mexicans of Mexican birth in a total population of 96,614.

In 1910, Yuma-co, Ariz., had 932 Mexican-born citizens in a total population of 7,733; Santa Cruz-co, in which the town of Nogales is situated, had 2,616 Mexican-born residents in a total population of 6,766; Cochise-co, in which are located Naco and Douglas, Ariz., had 5,512 Mexican-born residents in a total population of 34,591.

A large part of the Mexican population of the United States are laborers on construction work, on railroads and in mining. Some are engaged in ranching.

ELECTRICITY FOR THE POOR IS AIM OF WIZARD STEINMETZ.

Schenectady, N. Y., July 7.—Electricity to do the cooking, run the electric fan, the wireless telephone and the aeroplane for every man and woman is the hope of Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, the wizard inventor of Schenectady.

Dr. Steinmetz is bending every effort on plans to produce this electric power at a cost within the reach of rich and poor alike.

"To make electricity the universal driving power it must be cheaper than anything now used in its place," says Steinmetz.

"I am working on a system to generate more and more electricity at a lower and lower rate, instead of specializing on any particular invention."

Steinmetz has been consulting engineer for the General Electric company since 1893.

Throw Away Your Eye-Glasses!

A FREE PRESCRIPTION

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye-weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing, say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At times they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to the Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros. Co. or to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in ¼ glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid, bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

A prominent City Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations, I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."

HOW PUBLIC OPINION MADE A SLOGAN

By accident or chance some of the world's best known advertising phrases have been coined. Office boys often drop a word that is picked up and made famous where high salaried men have studied themselves gray headed to find a word or phrase that is "pat."

So many people have come to our office saying some friend told them "I could get better glasses at Meigs" that we decided we would advertise what we already knew and call our modern shop "the place to get better glasses." Find 1013 Calhoun street, the Lyric Theatre Building. Dr. [illegible]

Today's War News Given in Summary

A German retreat all along the line of the front in Russia from Riga to Volhynia is reported today. The unofficial news to this effect comes from Petrograd through Rome. It declares that a triple defeat for the Germans in the Riga, Kolki and Baranovichi sectors caused them to begin a movement of their whole front westward. Petrograd has recently announced successes in regions mentioned in the Rome advice. The last report from the vicinity of Kolki in the crucial Volhynia sector, recorded the capture by the Russians of more than 7,500 prisoners, half a dozen cannon and 23 machine guns.

A great battle is raging along virtually the entire front of the British offensive in northern France. At daybreak the British launched a new drive east of Albert. Important tactical successes were gained in several sectors, London announces.

The Germans simultaneously attacked in force near the River Ancre and north of Fricourt. They succeeded in temporarily occupying two or three hundred yards of ground lost in the earlier British drives. The chief advantage gained by the British were in the vicinity of Ovillers, Contalmaison and La Boisselle. Near the last named place in an engagement last night a German trench more than a half mile in length was captured.

Meanwhile the French, both north and south of the Somme in the field of the great allied offensive, are resting on the ground won in their notable advances of the last week. Efforts of the Germans to break the line now held by the French before Peronne, at one point within two and one-half miles of that city, have been futile, according to Paris.

There is a comparative lull in the fighting about Verdun, but artillery actions on the right bank of the Meuse, north of the citadel, are still violent.

London, July 7.—The second phase of the great battle on the western front has now begun. The artillery has been brought up to new positions and is again battering the German defenses. The bombardment extends as far northward as La Bassee, and according to the latest unofficial advices, is particularly intense.

British long range guns are shelling the German positions and the roads in their rear and until the infantry again leaves the trenches it will be uncertain where the next attacks are to be launched.

See Relief for Verdun.

In addition to inflicting losses on the Germans in men, guns and territory, the Anglo-French offensive is reported to have compelled them to withdraw some of their forces from the Verdun front. Consequently it is expected in London that the army which for nearly five months withstood the German attacks in that region will have some relief from continual fighting.

On the eastern front the Russians, who now apparently have even a better supply of guns and ammunition than their adversaries, seem to pass from one phase to the next without intermission. Gen. Letchitzky's army, which conquered Bukowina and cut the railway between Delatyn and Korosmezo, is advancing in an effort completely to overcome the Austrian forces on that front. Gen. Kaledines is continuing to deliver heavy strokes against the Austrians and Germans who are endeavoring to keep him from Kovel.

Russia Strikes New Blow.

With these operations in full swing the Russians to the north have inaugurated an offensive from Riga to Baranovichi. Along the northern end of the line from Riga to Dvinsk a great bombardment has begun, while from a point east of Vilna to Baranovichi artillery preparation was followed by infantry attacks in which the Russians report they made many prisoners, repulsing German counter-attacks. Near Smorgon the Russians and Germans also are engaged in a severe struggle.

Rumania, it is said here, is awaiting some move by the entente forces at Saloniki. The near east is interested in the battles throughout the Caucasus and Mesopotamia. The Russian army which was advancing toward Bagdad has fallen back some eighty miles under pressure from the Turkish forces which were brought against it, but elsewhere from the Black sea to the Persian frontier the Russians, according to their statements, are more than holding their own. No news has been received recently from the British army in Mesopotamia, but it is believed inactivity has been enforced by the great heat.

GERMAN PRESS COMMENT.

Too Early for Final Verdict on Present Situation.

Berlin, July 6.—6 p. m., Via London, July 7.—9:05 a. m.)—The military correspondent of the Zeitung Am Mitta, commenting on the war situation, writes:

"The fighting on all fronts is increasing in extent and violence. The enemy everywhere is attempting to throw fresh troops into the struggle, which seems to be approaching nearer and nearer its maximum intensity. The mightiest exertions are being made on all sides to force a decision and the tension can scarcely become higher."

After summarizing the official reports from the various theatres of war, the correspondent continues:

"It is still too early for a final verdict upon the situation as the struggle on the principal fronts still are in progress. The Germans have hitherto been able to hold the enemy's advance on the west as well as on the south and east. Neither British, French, Russians nor Italians have attained large or decisive successes while, in places where the central powers have assumed the offensive, as in Volhynia and south of the Dneister, the operations have been conducted with success.

It sure was hay time at the corner of West Main and Broadway Friday morning when a big load tipped over, scattering itself everywhere. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock when a farmer tried to turn the corner, catching the wheels of his rack in the car tracks, throwing the load to the winds. The young man driving the rack refused to give his name. The city cars were delayed a few minutes while the load was being taken out of the way and there prevailed for a short time not a little excitement.

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., July 7.—According to an unofficial report forty members of Company E have failed to pass the physical examination and will return home within the next day or two. The Fort Wayne company is expected to leave Monday for the Mexican border. At what point it will be stationed has not been divulged.

The boys are busy packing equipment and getting things in readiness for leaving. Several of the members of the company are ill from vaccine injection.

Although only five feet and a half inch tall, "Kid" Crawford, a well known Fort Wayne pugilist, succeeded in passing the examination. He put one over on the examining officer by standing on his toes and as a result succeeded in increasing his height to five feet and four inches, which is the minimum.

EXPECT TO GET AWAY TONIGHT

Major VanAuken Remains to Join the Staff of General Lewis.

Fort Banjamin Harrison, Ind., July 7.—The Third regiment, Colonel Aubrey L. Kuhlman, commanding, began early this morning to break camp and entrain for "somewhere in Texas." The Third regiment's troop train, like the artillery battalion, will run in three sections, but it is believed the first section will not get away from here before 7 o'clock tonight.

Details of men worked all morning building cook ranges in baggage cars. Sand boxes were placed on the floors of the cars and the iron ranges were placed in the sand. Long tables were built in the cars and the men will be fed en route in relays. Loading of the baggage and mess kits occupied most of the morning. Tentage will be loaded late this afternoon. The tents were left up late into the morning in order to dry them before being folded for loading.

Companies making up the third regiment are from the following cities: Angola, Kendallville, Portland, Auburn, Monticello, Plymouth, Valparaiso, Rensselaer, Albion, Elkhart, South Bend and Warsaw. The commander, Aubrey L. Kuhlman, lives at Auburn. The lieutenant colonel is George W. Freyermuth, of South Bend. Captain Glenn Van Auken, the regimental adjutant, was yesterday promoted to the rank of major and will be the brigade adjutant under Brigadier General Lewis. Van Auken will remain behind to join General Lewis when he arrives. Lieutenant Lester L. Boggs, of Warsaw, has been promoted to captain and made adjutant of the Third regiment.

Regarding Discharges.

Lieutenant Colonel Tuffey, chief mustering officer here, has received instructions from the war department relative to the discharge from the service of soldiers who have dependent families. Such men of the Indiana brigade may file applications for discharge through the colonel's of their regiments filing with the petition a statement from the postmaster or other public official of their locality a declaration that men are needed at home.

The war department will hold to account any soldier who misrepresents the actual condition. The ruling, however, will enable many married men of the Indiana troops to return home.

During the pendency of the application for discharge, the man that is receiving military training in the field. The time required to obtain a discharge is expected to be brief.

Governor Sees Departure.

Governor Ralston witnessed the departure of A battery, of Indianapolis, B battery of Purdue university and C battery of LaFayette, that were the first to entrain for the border. A battery was the first to entrain, the section leaving the fort at 7:40 o'clock last evening, followed by B battery an hour later and C battery shortly after 9 o'clock.

"Good-bye and God bless you," was the governor's concluding message to the batterymen. In a brief talk, the governor said that Indiana soldiers have ever been

COURT REFUSES TO CALL ORPET AGAIN

Waukegan, Ill., July 7.—The defense after introducing documentary evidence bearing on the Wisconsin statute governing the sale of poisons, rested today in the case of Will H. Orpet, the college student, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert.

Attorney David R. Joslyn, of the prosecution, said that he wanted Orpet recalled for further cross-examination with regard to Celestia Youker, the young woman to whom he was reported engaged.

James Wilkerson and Ralph E. Potter, of the defense, objected and Judge Donnelly ruled that the defendant could not be recalled.

It was predicted today that the case would be in the hands of the jury early next week.

U. S. SENDS SIX EXPERTS

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Six experts of the United States public health service were ordered to New York city today to co-operate with the state and city health authorities in suppressing the epidemic of infantile paralysis raging there.

This was the first step in a general campaign to aid the New York authorities and guard against the spread of the epidemic to other cities.

In response to a request for federal assistance after a conference held yesterday by Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury, with Mayor Mitchell and health officials of New York city and state, the general service board of the public health service met today to map out a plan of action.

In addition to the immediate dispatch of the six experts, steps were taken to organize a federal corps of surgeons and laboratory scientists and work out preventive measures. Telegrams were sent to all public health stations and officers throughout the country and to state health authorities asking them to make a careful investigation and report the presence of any case of the disease in their districts.

NO SIGNS OF ABATEMENT.

New York, July 7.—With city, state and federal authorities fighting the disease the epidemic of infantile paralysis showed little signs of abatement today. During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock this morning twenty-two more children died. Nineteen of this number succumbed in Brooklyn. There were eighty-seven new cases reported.

TWICE DEMAND SHOWN FOR LABOR IN CITY

There was double the demand for labor for June this year than there was last year, according to a report made by the state free employment bureau. During June, 1915, there were 230 calls for help and this year a total for the month reached 682. In June, 1915, a total of 333 persons applied for work and this year for the same month 609 persons made application. In June, 1915, the employment bureau placed 218 persons and this year 504 persons were given employment. This report goes forward to the government and shows plainly the present scarcity of labor.

Report for the Week.

For the week ending July 8, the free employment bureau shows there were 71 applications for work among men and that 66 of these were filled, 43 of the applicants taking work as laborers. Among the women there were 15 applications and 11 were given work. During the week a total of 101 persons asked the bureau to get them male help and 17 persons sought female help of the bureau.

Hot Weather of the Past Few Days Has Done Wonders to Growing Crops

Harvesting has commenced in Allen county. The hot sun of a week has added a deeper yellow to the gold of the fields and the big grain laden heads have begun to bow, making ready for the final stroke that will send them to the mill to be converted into flour. The wheat yield promises to be most satisfactory and of splendid quality.

The hot days have also done wonders to the growing corn, much of it now being waist high. The fields are clean and free from weeds except in some low spots where the dampness made it impossible to cultivate it. Oats are also looking good and a good crop is assured. The yellow weed which is the bane of the raiser of oats is somewhat troublesome especially in fields that have been recently tiled. On the whole, the outlook for oats is up to the standard.

The moist weather of the spring has brought a very heavy growth of grass and the hay fields have yielded an abundant crop. Before many more days much timothy will be put up.

REALTY DEALERS WILL HEAR CIVIC DIRECTOR

At a meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate Exchange at the Commercial club on next Tuesday night, John E. Lathrope, director of the city planning department of the American Civic Bureau of New York, will speak. Mr. Lathrope is an authority on city planning and the meeting at which he will speak is given great interest as a result. Mrs. Josephine L. Nesbitt, director of Fort Wayne's city health and beautification campaign, will show slides illustrative of Fort Wayne scenes. Many attractive residences are included in these scenes.

Mr. Lathrope is in Fort Wayne preliminary to a plan to bring the New York exhibit of the civic bureau to this city. He announces that the exhibit closed June 9 in Lancaster, Pa. It has been in many of the larger cities of the country. The exhibit represents work done in 200 cities of the country.

Garrett Has One Case; See Little Danger Here

One of the first cases of infantile paralysis, which is playing havoc in New York and Brooklyn, in Indiana in many weeks, is reported at Garrett, where Margaret Bloedel, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. Bloedel, 14 months old, is suffering from the disease. The child is said to be in a serious condition.

Since the outbreak of the disease in New York, where many deaths have occurred, much interest has been aroused throughout the entire country and Fort Wayne physicians have been besieged with questions concerning it. According to Dr. L. P. Drayer, however, there is little danger of an epidemic in Fort Wayne. There have been a few occasional cases in the past, however.

The greatest danger lies in Fort Wayne people, who have been living in infected areas, returning home. It is possible for them to bring the disease with them.

Nature of the Disease.

Infantile paralysis virus is supposed to enter the body through the mucus membrane and there is no way of diagnosing the disease early, except, possibly through laboratory findings in the spinal fluid. First there is a high fever without any apparent cause and after the fever has run its course paralysis develops.

The disease may manifest itself in spinal infection or brain infection and very often will cause impairment of the mental faculties, as well as the physical parts of the body. So far as is known the disease has never been universally prevalent, although there have been epidemics in various cities throughout the country.

No Cases in Fort Wayne.

So far as is known there is not a single case of the disease in Fort Wayne at the present time, and, according to local physicians, there is no occasion for undue alarm. As precautionary measures, however, it is well to avoid crowds and public places; keep the nose, throat and mouth clear; abide by the rules for general health and cleanliness and avoid over exertion, constipation and fatigue. While children are more subject to attack, grown-ups are sometimes stricken, the disease being no respector of age.

ANOTHER NEAR TERRE HAUTE.

ART SMITH SAYS HE'S IMPROVING RAPIDLY

Art Smith, the nervy Fort Wayne bird man whose fame has extended around the world, is recovering radily from his late injury and is the idol of all Japan because of his brilliant flights before the royalty of that country according to messages received by Fort Wayne friends.

George Rowland, a missionry in Japan, in a letter to friends tells of the accident several days ago in which Smith fell 150 feet.

"Several of us Americans were at the grounds when the accident occurred. Two of us helped to carry him to the hospital. Some of us are with him all the time to interpret and to help the nurses. Smith says this will be an excellent time to learn the Japanese language, during his confinement.

"Smith is getting along nicely. There is no fever to speak of and seems to be no internal injury. The worst of it is a fracture of the right leg between the knee and hip. It is knitting rapidly, his physician says.

"The young flyer captivated our city of Sapporo and the whole nation. Our governor general, Mr. Tawara, and the mayor, Mr. Abe, have been to see him since he has been layed up. His gentility has done more to win the hearts of the natives than his skill in the air. He is literally surrounded by the pomp of the land.

"Smith has been outspoken on the temperance question and when a banquet was given for him recently in Sapporo no intoxicating liquors were served out of respect for his principles. That incident had quite an effect on people of Sapporo and was widely heralded."

In a letter to his mother, who lives just west of Fort Wayne, Smith, the noted flyer, tells in a mild way of his laurels and impressions of Japan.

"We have been met with lots of enthusiasg. Their interest here is expressed in medals. I have six medals now and have received notice of ten more that are being made. Kushi, my manager, says he expects at least one from each of the places yet to fly. That means about eight more if he does. Talk about a Russian general. Gee! they won't be in it.

"After a good flight we went up to Toyama, another city on the western coast. It is one of the fine old cities and used to be a capital. It is fragrant with lotus and tea trees. It rained there for three days. I could only make one flight. They gave Kushi 3,500 yen. (In American money this is $1,750).

"At Gifu, another beautiful harbor town, backed up by mountains, we could not fly at all because of storms for three days. When I did start out I made two dandy turns. In the afternoon I almost put the city to sleep. I hovered over the top of one of the thousand foot high mountains, which sticks up out of the sea, and then I dove behind it. I was hid from the crowds standing on the field. I let my engine stop while I coasted down the back side of the slope. They thought I was a goner. Women fainted. Then I flew around the side of the mountain and landed. They went crazy.

"Before I flew there they took us out to see bird fishing at night. This is the only place in the world where this sort of fishing is carried on. They take six or seven boats and float down the river. There is an iron basket at the end of the boat with a fire blazing from it.

"They have fifteen or twenty birds on a boat. The birds look like wild geese. The fishermen tie a string around their necks. Another string is tied to their leg. The birds dive down and catch the fish and try to swallow them. The fish go down just as far as the string. The necks of the birds are pretty well swelled up when they are hauled in.

"The fish are landed by squeezing the necks of the birds and making them cough up their catch. Some birds bring in fifteen or twenty small fish at a time. The fish are about the size of sardines, but once in a while you find them a foot long.

"It is a wonderful sight to a stranger, watching the birds dive down and soon be pulled up with fish kicking in their mouths. The gold medal I have from Gifu has a picture of this fishing on it. I had the honor of going out in the first boat and thereby officially open the season this year. It is considered quite an affair here.

"From Gifu we went to Kanazawa. Two days here with cloudy weather, I flew through the clouds. I received a beautiful Kagaware vase from the governor of the province. This province is world famous for this kind of china. The vase is hand painted by one of the best national artists. It is splendid. It is in gold and all colors, bearing clusters of chrysanthemums and bamboo. Kushi said in New York it would be worth $600. It is not for sale. It stands eighteen inches high.

"I think it will be fine in the front window there on rural route 5, Fort Wayne, Indiana, U. S. A."

July 11 Date for Hearing of Case Against Head of Molders' Union.

Merle Marks, president of the moulder's union, is held under $500 bond for trial on July 11, after a preliminary hearing Friday morning in the municipal court on a charge of resisting an officer. Marks struck at Officer Petgen and "fought like a wild man," according to testimony in court, when Petgen tried to induce him to move away from the entrance to the foundry room of the Western Gas Construction plant last Wednesday.

Attorney William Freuchtenicht, representing Marks, argued that Marks had a right to be near the plant as there is no law against a man going where he pleases along the streets of Fort Wayne.

Police Chief Lenz said that it was necessary to keep strikers from the plant because of the physical danger in case of an outbreak. J. J. Griffin, who came to the assistance of Officer Petgen, when he was struggling with Marks, testified as to the resistance put up by Marks. He said Marks tried several times to hit Petgen.

Marks and his friends have filed a petition with the board of safety asking for the removal of Officer Petgen for his action in this case.

Quartet Fined

An elaborate beer party, ending in a row, caused Edward Wilson, Fred Marquardt, Mrs. Fred Marquardt and Mrs. Bertha Johnson, colored, to be fined $10 and costs each in municipal court Friday morning. The party had been staged Thursday night at the Marquardt home, Lillie street and the Wabash railroad. Police were called near midnight to settle a fight there. Neighbors were gathered about the house. Wilson and the Johnson woman were swearing. They were all hauled to the station.

Other Police Court Cases.

Mrs. Lizzie Guebard, charged with being intoxicated on the street, was allowed to go free after promising to quit drinking.

George Weighmaster, convicted last week of beating his wife and who has been held in the county jail for a week was granted his freedom. He was ordered to support his small child and to quit getting drunk.

Trial of Roy Katterhenry, charged with assault and battery because his automobile struck and injured a girl at the corner of Tenth and Washington streets, centennial week, was postponed for the fourth time. It is set for hearing July 14. It is expected that the case will be dropped, as the girl is recovering.

Trial of Henry Meyer, charged with striking a nine-year-old boy, was postponed for another week.

WILL SEEK TO AMEND SILENCE ZONE LAW

Seventh Ward Councilman to Propose Certain Exemptions.

Proposal to amend the city ordinance providing silence zones in the vicinity of the hospitals will come before the city council at its meeting next Tuesday evening. Councilman Ofenloch, of the Seventh ward, will ask that the ordinance be amended to exempt hospital locations when they are adjacent to city parks and public schools.

The movement is the outcome of opposition by Seventh ward citizens to the proposed new location for Hope hospital facing Reservoir park at Clinton and Suttenfield streets, and in the rear of the Hamilton school. It seems practically assured that the hospital will be placed on the new location, although trustees of the institution will meet Friday evening to take final action.

Seventh ward folk have objected to the hospital on the ground that it would prevent the full and free public use of the park for band concerts, for skating in winter and for other public purposes. Councilmen as a whole are said to be favorably inclined to the Ofenloch plan.

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Democratic and republican members of the senate commerce committee came to a parting of the ways today in so far as any prospect of an agreement over the government shipping bill is concerned. Democratic senators declared it would be impossible to draft a bill to build up the merchant marine which republicans would accept without sacrificing every principle in the house bill and for which the administration stands.

The problem of the democrats is now to frame a measure commanding unanimous party support and to force a vote on it despite the determined republican opposition. Such a course will lead, leaders realize to prolongation of the session. Democratic senators will caucus again tonight on the bill.

Amendments being considered by the committee includes a resolution excluding the secretaries of the navy and commerce from the proposed shipping board, modifying the government ownership and operation feature of the house measure, and a plan to make the naval auxiliary scheme the dominant feature of the bill.

DYE DECLINES TO GIVE LETTERS OUT

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—William Holton Dye, progressive national committeeman from Indiana, refused today to disclose the contents of letters he has received from members of the national committee replying to his communication informing him that the Indiana state committee is in favor of reconvening the national convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate for president to take the place of Theodore Roosevelt, who refused to run. He said he would make his report to the state committee at its next meeting.

Edwin M. Lee, state chairman, said he expects a meeting of the state committee will be held within the next ten days. Progressives are said to doubt the probability of the national convention being held.

Damages in Sum of $10,000 Asked as Result of Accident.

Damages of $10,000 are asked in suit filed in superior court Friday by Arthur Kemph, administrator of the estate of the late William Kemph, against the city of Fort Wayne, alleging five children of the decedent are damaged in that amount as a result of the death of their father when dragged on the streets of Fort Wayne after a wagon in which he was riding was driven into a street hole, throwing him from his seat in the wagon to the street, his feet becoming tangled in the harness of the horses he drove, which subsequently dragged him to his death on his face.

The accident occurred, the complaint says, February 28, 1916, as Kemph drove to his home and was crossing the intersection of Beaver and Federal avenues. There was no safeguard, or lights around the place of danger, it is alleged, and the hole was of eighteen inch depth. A front wheel of the wagon sunk into the hole causing the wagon to topple, throwing him to the street. Phil B. Colerick is attorney for the plaintiff.

Divorce Is Asked.

Carrie P. Breman has filed suit in superior court against Charles Breman for a divorce and an order restraining Breman from drawing his funds from the Wildwood Builders company, and enjoining that company from paying him any salary due. The Bremans have six children, ranging in age from 7 to 16 years and the plaintiff asks the court to order her husband to pay $20 a week for the support of herself and children. Breman's earning power is placed at $28 a week. Emrick & Emrick are attorneys for plaintiff.

Taken to Wells County.

Suit for $5,000 damages brought by Mrs. Florence A. Thomas against the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, has been filed in the Wells circuit court on change of venue from Allen county. Mrs. Thomas' claim is based on an accident that occurred on Calhoun street on September 21, 1914, when a traction car ran over and instantly killed Mary Irene Thomas, a five-year-old daughter of the plaintiff. She alleges that the car was operated negligently by the crew, and at a greater speed than permitted by law.

WANTS PETGEN REMOVED.

Merle Marks Makes Charges Against Veteran Patrolman.

After twenty-two years of service as policeman, Patrolman Petgen will appear before the board of public safety Friday night to answer a petition asking the board to remove him from the force. Petgen is charged with brutal treatment in connection with the arrest of Merle Marks, president of the moulders' union at the Western Gas plant last Wednesday.

According to the petition asking for Petgen's removal he unlawfully took charge of Marks and brutally struck him several times. "Such treatment was unnecessary and uncalled for," the petition says.

Petgen is one of the oldest members of the police force now in service. Fellow officers say he has made a reputation for being a careful patrolman. He would be entitled to retirement in three more years. Police Chief Lenz says he believes there is little chance of Petgen being removed. There is no other matter slated for the board meeting this week.

BILIOUS ATTACKS, HEADACHES AND CONSTIPATION

When for any reason the liver gets "loggy" and refuses to perform its natural functions, the bile tubes are clogged, the bile (Nature's only laxative) does not flow freely into the bowels, but is forced back into the system.

That is the reason why you awake with a bilious headache—heartburn—gas pains — bilious stomach — foul breath—bad taste in the mouth and other bilious symptoms.

To use calomel and other strong drugs at such a dangerous time brings only temporary relief—and quite frequently salivates and upsets the stomach.

You should use a more natural, easy, pleasant way of correcting the trouble. Give your liver a Tollo Water liver bath. This famous water is found at Dawson Springs, the Kentucy health resort. Its effect is to dissolve the obstructions in the bile tubes and cleanse, purify and re-energize the liver. You can prove its benefits for yourself—and do so in 30 minutes, for, although, its action is pleasant and natural, it is also quick.

Get a 15 cent bottle of Tollo Water at your druggists. Before breakfast take a little in a glass of drinking water. You can eat what you like without fear of indigestion—headache and constipation will be relieved—the sour waste will be expelled from the system in half an hour. Do this occasionally and you will find your whole health improved.—Advertisement.

San Francisco, July 7—Eight-year-old Lillian Tarpey thinks "I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier" is mere twaddle.

She is raising herself to be a soldierette—and doing a good job of it, too—at the Presidio here, where older girls of the national training service school are going through the paces learning to become Red Cross nurses.

LILLIAN TARPEY.

She is studying, she says, to become a soldierette when she grows up. "And," she adds, "I am the only soldierette around here, big or little, who is wearing comfortable bloomers."

The girls of the training camp call her "The Mascot." The little girl studies carefully every movement and drill evolution that the soldierettes accomplish, that she may pattern after them.

IS NOW ORGANIZED IN TWELVE STATES

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The first woman's party in the world, which made its debut when a great body of suffragists attended the recent Chicago convention, is now planning a model political organization.

Whether the woman's party will nominate a presidential candidate of its own has not yet been determined. It all depends.

If congress will pass the Anthony amendment the woman's party may be robbed of its first important issue.

"But we believe in preparedness," Miss Martin announces. "We are to have a conference at Colorado Springs, August 10. Then we will decide whether we will select our own candidates, or what we will do.

"The conference will consist of delegates sent by the voting women of the 12 suffrage states. Before the middle of August, we expect to have every county in each of the 12 states in perfect cooperation. Permanent headquarters will be established.

"We expect to reach every woman who is qualified to vote for president. Our literature campaign is a feature of our preparedness plans. Our speakers will tour the states continuously from the opening of the campaign. Mrs. Belmont has agreed to contribute $500,000 to our financial aid.

"We are getting ready to surprise voters with the quality and quantity of our political equipment. We will appeal to 4,000,000 enfranchised women.

"And we will use our power as voting women for one purpose only—to get suffrage for all the women of all the states through a federal amendment."

Constipation and Indigestion.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and must say they are the best I have ever used for constipation and indigestion. My wife also used them for indigestion and they did her good," writes Eugene S. Knight, Wilmington, N. C. Chamberlain's Tablets are mild and gentle in their action. Give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with this agreeable laxative effect which they produce. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

nowadays curio dealers are selling a whole handful of paper currency, issued by one or another of the Mexican factions, for just one American dollar bill.

There's no real intrinsic value in either form of paper currency. Both Mexican and American banknotes are merely promises to pay so much real money on demand. But the difference lies in the fact that Uncle Sam has established a reputation, extending over 140 years, of meeting his obligations and the various Mexican aspirants to power, have proved merely good at promising.

The same situation exists in the Optical business. When you buy glasses you rely upon the guarantee of the man who made them. If he proves merely a good promiser, you stand to lose cash and eyesight.

It pays to buy known values. The conservative guarantee of a long established house with a reputation to sustain has a greater market value than the eloquent promise with nothing behind it. C. A. Meigs, Lyric Theater Bldg., has made glasses for nearly 25,000 of your friends and neighbors in and about Fort Wayne.

II Thessalonians 3:6-15

6. Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7. For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8. Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9. Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11. For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.

12. Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13. But ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing.

14. And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15. Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

If we have any doubts about folks having been better than they now are, we have the answer in our reading for today. Can we find a community where they have no busybodies—no one who feels called upon to let Mrs. B. know what she happened to hear Mrs. A. say about her? This is just another variation of Satan's hindrance of the spread of the gospel.

Making the Best of It.

The continued movement of the national guardsmen to the Mexican border in view of the lessened tension which now gives hope that intervention in Mexico may be avoided, will occasion some surprise and no little regret among friends of the militiamen who responded to President Wilson's call at a moment when it seemed certain that nothing could avert open hostilities between the two countries. There was hope that in view of the changed situation there might be no occasion for further increasing the khaki-clad line along the Rio Grande.

Right along this line, however, comes a Washington dispatch which sheds some light. It says: "In case internal conditions in Mexico improve it will be the policy of the war department to place units of the regular army along with units of the national guard, in order that the national guardsmen may have the benefit of the experience of the regulars. The general expectation now is that during the months of August, September and October, and perhaps for a good deal longer period the United States will be conducting the greatest military camp in time of peace in the history of the country."

It is clear that Washington believes it has found a way to make the best of the bad situation which demanded the presence of the troops on the border. It is going to be expensive. It is going to be a positive hardship to many of the guardsmen. It is going to inconvenience their families and their employers. But we have been crying for preparedness in this country. Perhaps it will be worth it.

James A. Kelly, a street car motorman at New Albany, has set up a claim to a part of the estate of Hetty Green, asserting that a great-aunt of his father and an aunt of Mrs. Green, left to her a life estate in about $1,000,000 which was then to descend to nephews and nieces, of which his father was one. We wish Mr. Kelly well, but somehow, we haven't any great hopes of the fruition of his prospects. Getting money from the Hetty Green estate has never been an easy performance, and that thrifty woman doubtless did not fail to tie her purse-strings tightly before she went away.

Unless the city council provides a jitney-regulation ordinance that really regulates, it may as well save its time and its efforts. Any half-way law will be worse than useless. The public clearly has a right to expect the sort of enactment that will safeguard it against accident so far as possible and afford it proper means of redress when mishap does occur through wilfull act or contributory negligence on the part of the auto drivers. We have been delaying the matter too long already. Now that the thing is in hand, let it be done properly.

In his letter to William Dudley Foulke, of Richmond, State Chairman Lee calls Mr. Foulke's attention to the fact that the present instance is the second time within the current year that Mr. Foulke has withdrawn from the party—which may have been Mr. Lee's diplomatic and delicate way of informing Mr. Foulke that since he was already out, it is impossible to work up anything like a flood of scalding tears over the second retirement of the Richmond man.

Mayor Gossom, at Terre Haute, has now ordered the punch boards and similar gambling devices in that city cast into the junk heap, while the outside world has been presuming that civic regeneration at Terre Haute was already so complete that not a tinge of grime marred its immaculate whiteness. Rejuvenation may be but relative, after all. Terre Haute is so much better than it formerly was that a discovery like that of the presence of the punch boards now makes a noise like a dynamite blast.

Maine is once more coming into the limelight as an indicator of the direction in which the political wind is going to blow this fall and political workers are getting up steam for the contest in the state elections to be held on the second Monday in September. Speakers in large numbers from both parties will descend upon the Pine Tree state this month and next, but only Maine voters possess the sort of patience that will stand that sort of thing in the heat of midsummer.

The promotion of Captain Glenn VanAuken, of Auburn, to be brigadier-adjutant with the rank of major in the Indiana national guard will be immensely pleasihg to the countless friends of the officer in northeastern Indiana. Major VanAuken has earned his promotion. He has given many years of active service to the state militia in various capacities, and has demonstrated his ability in all of them.

All Indiana health officers have been warned to be especially vigilant in watching for indications of infantile paralysis which in New York City has gotten beyond control and has reached the distressing proportions of an epidemic. The state board of health has acted promptly, and the people may confidently expect that every possible measure of precaution will be taken.

Some time ago it was reported that scientists of the Rockefeller institute had discovered the germ of infantile paralysis, but the story was evidently erroneous, for the sudden outbreak of the disease in New York shows that physicians are as much in dark as ever concerning its causes and cure.

It is a terrifying ailment because of this lack of knowledge. Parents become panic-stricken and medical men can only apply experimental remedies. Yet it is likely that the secret of the malady, when disclosed, will open the way to a cure or to an adequate means of prevention. It has been this way with other diseases. Smallpox has ceased to be a scourge; typhoid fever may be warded off; diphtheria, once so dreaded, now has a remedy. It may be vaccination, it may be a serum administered at the onset of the ailment, it may be a drug which will act as a specific; sooner or later, certainly, the mysterious disease will be mastered, for the most learned of medical scientists have it under observation.

Meanwhile, with the precautions being taken in all quarters by health authorities, the malady is not likely to spread far outside of New York. Its spread is greatest in crowded tenement houses and there it seems usually to have its origin. If parents will duly co-operate with health officers and keep their children from crowds, danger of infection will be of the slightest.

(Muncie Press)

The best cities and towns in the United States today are not the ones which are satisfied and believe themselves perfect, but the ones which are progressively and reasonbly discontented with the things about them which are not just right and can be improved. The community which is sublimely content is the stagnant community and it is very apt to be stagnant morally as well as commercially.

It is because cities are not content to live and suffer in typhoid and malaria that they have cleaned themselves up and given their citizens better sanitary conditions, and it is because they do not desire to waste away with immoral fever that they express their dissatisfaction, with temporary conditions in a civic cleaning up.

And so, although the chronic kicker, whom nothing pleases—is a pest to the earth, it will not do to confuse him with the man who, appreciative of what he has that is good, yet will not sit still in slothful content when he sees a chance to better himself or his community. There are two kinds of kickers.

THROWN FROM "GIANT DIP."

South Bend, Ind., July 7.—Leroy Ross was thrown from the top of a "giant dip" at Springbrook park, when the car in which he was riding was going at full speed, and suffered only a few bruises about his knees. Ross was riding in the front end of the car when his foot slipped off the rail and his leg struck a heavy post beside the track. Te was jerked out of the car and thrown to the ground fifty feet below. It is believed the heavy grass in which Ross fell, saved him from injury.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly emobdies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Meyer Bros .Drug Co., Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy. The Family Drug Store and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advertisement.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Advertisement.

What's the matter, is it mad at the soup? Just look at the way it bends over it and gets a half-nelson on the bowl, and listen to it gargle!

It ought to take the soup on the lawn but then too much watering isn't good for grass. Did you ever see or hear a horse that had lost it's back molars drink out of a trough Delightful sound, isn't it? Just like wringing the starch out of a tablecloth, well, the souphound has it faded three weeks from Sunday when it comes to the Niagara.

Besides soup it renders the vocal stuff with mush, soft boiled eggs and coffee. It's the same cookoo that pours its coffee in a saucer and takes a shower bath with each inhale.

Gosh, Al, take me away quick before I go down for the third time. I can't swim.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

FOUR NEW TEACHERS WILL BE EMPLOYED

Four new teachers will be employed in the Fort Wayne high school with the beginning of the fall term, according to announcement made by Louis C. Ward, principal. Employment of new teachers is necessary by reason of an increase of 25 per cent. in school attendance during the past year, the enrollment jumping from 838 to 1,051 students during the year. Prof. M. H. Northrup, head of the commercial department of the Kendallville high school, has already been employed as one of the four new teachers, and names of the others will be known by ...st 1. The other three teachers wi... ...ployed for the mathematical, his... ...English departments.

Certain Departments Heavy.

Mathematics and English, being required, are always heavy departments in high school during the first two years, enrolling many students, and since the state board of education has required United States history and civics for graduation, the history department now has increased its enrollment from among those students who passed the subjects by on the elective plan. Prof. Ward expects an enrolling freshman class this fall of 275 pupils, including 220 pupils from the grammar grades of the city schools and 50 to 75 students on transfer from the country.

Attendance to Grow.

Prof. Ward expects still larger attendance at high school with the completion of the plant of the Electric works. Employes of such concerns always have children of high school age, as a rule, he asserts. During the summer many pupils come to the city with parents who are taking positions in industrial plants.

The library is also being rearranged. More tables are being installed as the history work, which will be added, will require more reference work.

School Bonds Sold.

To cover expense of real estate to be purchased in the south part of the city and in Bloomingdale costing $50,000, and for the erection of an addition to the Hamilton school, with equipment to cost about $50,000, school improvement bonds were sold Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the school board in the office of J. N. Study, school superintendent, in the sum of $100,000. The premium on the bonds was $1,711.50, it being the bid of the Fletcher American bank, of Indianapolis.

Chicago, July 7.—The contest over the presidency of the Baptist Young People's Union of America grew warmer when the twenty-fifth annual international convention opened for the morning session at the Coliseum here today. The opposition to a pastor-president became more pronounced as the advocates of the lay-president plan in the nominating committee declared a growing conviction that the highest denominational efficiency would be induced only under the executive guidance o fthe laiety.

Opposition to the program of the nominating committee clearly was apparent. It is understood to have been fostered by the board of managers which takes the position that since the pastor is the spiritual director of the congregations he also should be the spiritual head of the Young People's union, with executive authority. Before nominations were called for it appeared probable that the committee's report would favor some layman for the office of president.

More than 3,000 delegates to the convention had arrived today from virtually every state in the union and Canada. It is expected that 12,000 delegates will be here to attend the jubilee celebration in the Coliseum Sunday afternoon.

SHIP'S CARGO HAS GROWN TO MILLION

New York, July 7.—The German sailing ship Indra began to discharge here today a cargo of nitrate from Chile, valued at $1,000,000. When she arrived here, bringing the cargo in September, 1914, it was worth only $125,000, but the demand for the chemical for the manufacture of explosives has greatly increased its price since then. The result that while lying in this port for nearly two years the value of the cargo has increased ... $875,000.

The Indra was bound from a Chilean port to Dunkirk, France, when the European war began. The captain headed for New York on learning that war was declared. Consignees of the cargo began litigation to compel him to carry it to Dunkirk but he declined to take his ship to sea where she might be captured by British or French warships.

CITIES CLASH WITH PURCHASING BUREAU

The Hague, July 7.—(10:49 a. m.)—Information reached The Hague that for several weeks there has been continuous friction between the authorities of various large German cities and the central purchasing bureau. The municipalities claim the right to buy their own food and household articles without asking permission of the central bureau.

There was an outburst last week in the Hanover city council, several members of which accused the central bureau of boycotting the city, which was unable to procure butter, sausages and hams, notwithstanding the fact that some places in the vicinity were sufficiently supplied. It was argued that it was physically impossible for one bureau to control all municipalities.

Cologne, Dresden, Chemitz and other cities already are purchasing supplies independently, having representatives in Holland for that purpose.

As potatoes are scarce in Germany, while the supply of rye is sufficient, Adolph von Hagen, head of the food regulation board, has decided it will not be necessary to mix potato meal in war bread.

A census of rubber stocks has revealed large quantities in the frontier districts, which are supposed to have been smuggled into the country. The central bureau has seized all this rubber, paying for it at the rate of five marks a kilogram.

A bureau for the protection of German mercantile credits abroad has issued lists of certified German claims on foreign debtors and admitted foreign claims on German firms for the filling settlements of balances. These lists are free to approved neutral firms.

Second—In case the territorial rights of special interests in the far east of one of the contracting party, which are recognized by the other contracting party, are menaced, Japan and Russia will consult with each other on measures to adopt with a view to supporting or extending assistance for the safeguardian or defense of these rights and interests.

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The war department announced last night that it would call to the colors within a few days the regular army reserve, consisting of between 4,000 and 5,000 men who have served in the army in order to hasten the organization of new units provided by the army reorganization act. Those who will be affected by the order are enlisted men who have been furloughed into the reserve since November 1, 1915, after having been in active service for three years.

The reserve may be called into active service under the law.

About 20,000 men are needed for the additional units authorized for this year by the reorganization act. The war department is determined to develop these without breaking up the existing units any more than necessary and it is understood the decision to issue a call to the colors grew out of this desire rather than from any further need of troops in the Mexican emergency. Officials believe the call also will furnish a fair working test of the reserve system.

This will be the first time the reserve has been called out since it was created by the act of November 1, 1912, and an actual reserve force has been available only since last November 1, when the minimum three year period of active service ended. The army act of 1912 provides an enlistment term of seven years, four of which are in active service and three in reserve. It is provided, however, that men may be furloughed into the reserve on their request after three years of active service.

A new jitney ordinance will be drawn up by a committee composed of five councilmen and conferring with Mayor Hosey and the city attorney. The council members to frame the new law will be Kinder, Mills, Smith, Bayer and Deitschel. They will meet Monday evening and expect to report to the council Tuesday night.

A motion to draw up a new code to govern taxi traffic was introduced by P. P. Kinder after the council, assembled as a committee of a whole, Thursday night, was unable to reach an agreement on the present proposed ordinance. A few members objected to the bond of $2,000 for jitney drivers. They said it would be prohibitive.

Several jitney drivers attended the meeting, which was in the form of free discussion. The representatives from the taxi operators said they wanted a protective law but could not pay the amount asked for a bond. They asked for high license instead of a bond for drivers.

The matter of track elevation was not brought before the council because certain officials could not be present. It is promised for the council session on Tuesday night.

LIVELY FIGHT OVER MILITARY TRAINING

Educators in National Session Badly Divided on the Issue.

New York, July 7.—Election of officers and taking of a vote defining the attitude of the National Education association on compulsory military training in public and private schools, were the features of today's final sessions of the annual convention of that association.

Dr. R. J. Aley, president of the University of Maine, has been named by the nominating committee for the presidency.

The military training question, which has been one of the outstanding issues of the convention, is expected to come before the members in the form of a resolution presented by a committee.

Advocates of military training received encouragement on the eve of the vote from an adddress delivered last night by Major General Leonard Wood. Criticising the assertion that "a million men would spring to arms between sunrise and sunset," General Wood said: "We have been sitting up nights for three weeks to see 30,000 men spring, and it is a very heavy spring;" denying that the army or navy wanted war, he declared, "we want training commenced in the minds of children so that they will realize they owe everything to their country. We do not want to make them braggarts or swashbucklers but we want them ready to discharge the military side of their obligation."

AT LEAST THREE OR FOUR DEAD IN STORM

WINS MEDAL FOR BRAVERY.

Indianapolis, July 7.—Philip Lewis, of Indianapolis, who is serving in the American ambulance corps of the French army, has been awarded the famous French medal, the Roix De Guerre, for bravery under fire, according to a copy of the official citation received here today by relatives. General Gadel, who signed the order, pinned the medal on Lewis' coat. Lewis left Harvard university, where he was a student, to join the ambulance corps.

MACHINES WRECKED; OCCUPANTS ESCAPE

Occupants of the touring car driven by Clem Miller, 208 East DeWald street, were bruised when the automobile was wrecked by striking the machine driven by Dr. R. S. Viberg, at the corner of Fairfield avenue near Kinnaird avenue, Thursday night. In the machine with Miller were Ada and Margaret Epert, 2707 South Calhoun street, and Frank Breen, West DeWald street.

The girls were rushed into the home of Dr. E. H. Krause, nearby, because it was thought that they were severely injured. Their arms were badly bruised and they suffered from nervous shock. Both automobiles were wrecked. Both front wheels were torn from the Miller machine. Miller claims a tire blew up causing him to loose control of his car.

Miss Jennie Baird, 1622 Fletcher avenue, had a rib broken Thursday afternoon when the machine of D. C. Brown, 1123 Wall street, collided with the automobile driven by H. E. Lampkin, 1021 Columbia avenue. The accident happened at the corner of Washington and Lafayette streets. Miss Baird was thrown against the front seat with violence when the machines met.

Baltimore, July 7.—Judge John C. Rose in the United States district court here today signed a final decree in the government's anti-trust suit against the American Can company. He refused the motion of the government to dissolve the company and also dismissed the defendant's motion for dismissal of the case.

Judge Rose stated that he will retain jurisdiction in the case and permit the Can company continue as it is unless by its actions it injures the public and makes necessary a decree of dissolution.

NEW MILK ORDINANCE WINS AFTER 2 YEARS

Indianapolis Health Commissioner Has Waged a Sturdy Fight.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—The new milk ordinance of Indianapolis, after a two year campaign had been conducted by Dr. Herman G. Norgan, city health commissioner, and other public health agencies, was passed by the city council. The pasteurization and cleanly handling of the city milk supply is now assured. The law also provides tuberculin testing of the milk herds from which the city is supplied. Since practically one-tenth of the dairy herds in this country are found to be infected with tuberculosis, this forward step will make Indianapolis a much safer place in which to live, especially safer for children.

The Women's Health Culture club of Frankfort, and the Clinton County Anti-Tuberculosis society, within the year, conducted an unsuccessful campaign for cleaning up the milk supply of Frankfort. With the increased understanding of the close relation existing between a clear city milk supply and the infant illness and death rates, especially the close relation between the milk supply and bovine tuberculosis in children, it is thought that this and similar campaigns will soon be universally successful.

A new code for Kendallville contains a provision for the tuberculin testing of all milk cattle from which milk is provided for that city. This ordinance is being strictly enforced by the city health officer, Dr. H. O. Williams, who is also causing medical examinations to be made of all those engaged in the handling of food supplies. Dairymen, who at first complained that it cost too much to keep healthy cattle, find that healthy herds, once secured, are more profitable to them as well as more advantageous to the consumer.

HOUSING REFORMER GETS IN HIS WORK

Attacks Amsterdam Ghetto That Has Existed for Three Centuries.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, June 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The inexorable housing reformer has reached the famous Amsterdam Ghetto, and is making a first assault on the miniature Jewish state that has existed for more than three centuries in Holland's capital on the Zuyder Zee and has constituted for the modern tourist one of the sights of the city. One of the most thickly populated quarters, the part known as the "island" of Uilenburg, has been condemned and is gradually being cleared of its several thousand inhabitants, for whom new homes are to be erected elsewhere by means of a state loan.

The big settlement of Jews at Amsterdam dates from 1590. The first Portugese Jews arrived in 1593, and the Polish Jews followed in 1654, each and all being driven from less enlightened parts of Europe by persecution and being attracted to the little Dutch republic by the religious toleration there enjoyed. In Amsterdam their fortunes have ebbed and flowed, but on the whole the wealth of the Jewish community was such as to render it one of the most influential classes of Amsterdam. Today there are ten synagogues in the city, and the fact that they are situated in the old Jewish quarter is one of the difficulties of the removal.

Despite the deplorable housing conditions obtaining in the ghetto, the city fathers have long spared it, doubtless influenced by the fact that, while the birth rate was very high, namely 33 to 38 per thousand, the mortality was very low, 13 to 16 per thousand, which compares with 24 in other poor quarters in the city. The population thereof has been less subject to infectious diseases and tuberculosis, while infant mortality was always lower than in neighboring quarters.

Nevertheless, sufficient ground for drastic action was at length found in the narrow streets of the ghetto, with their one-roomed tenements and the badly-smelling pools or "canals." Trachoma raged there for years. On one site of less than 100 feet square there stood 62 dwellings inhabited by large families. A ladder led from one tenement to the other. The only light side of this condition of affairs was the low rent, low as 15 American cents a week on the top floor.

Nine hundred houses have now been condemned, of which the expropriation cost is put at $400,000, while the state has been asked for another loan of $600,00 for the new housing scheme. The idea of again making Uilenburg a residential quarter has had to be abandoned and it is now to be turned into an industrial district. Plans have been drawn up for the erection of 360 new dwellings in another quarter of the city, half of which number will be let at below $1.20 a week, the commune of the state adding 20 to 30 cents in some cases.

Because of the war, chicory is selling high in England—at from $125 to $140 a ton, whereas in normal times it can be bought for $35 to $40 a ton.

"WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?"

Tragic Sermon on Birth Control at New Palace Next Week.

A delicate subject for the hypermodest mind, is birth-control, the pressing social problem confronting America today, which is treated in a drama, "Where Are My Children?" which is to be projected at the New Palace for five days next week, starting on Tuesday evening. To the thinking mind birth control is just as proper a subject for educational propaganda as the subject of eugenics, better babies, pure food, etc., since all are striving toward the same end the betterment of the physical and mental health of the nation.

There is not a trace of sensationalism in the treatment of the subject in this Universal release the story being just sufficient to fix firmly the doctrine the picture of promulgating. Intimate of course but at the same time clean moderate forceful and interesting this screen drama is one of unusual appeal to the intelligent mind.

Special Performance Monday.

A special performance will be given Monday evening when all the clergy of Fort Wayne' physicians, judges, attorneys and other professional men will be asked to enjoy a private exhibition of the film. Some of the greatest minds in the world's clergy have enthusiastically endorsed the drama as being just what it pretends to be, a striking sermon on the subject of child slaughter.

Washington, July 6.—"The accomplishment of the mining industry in the six-month period just completed warrants the forecast that 1916 is to be a record-breaking year." With this statement the director of the United States geological survey sums up his official mid-year review of the mineral industry as reported to him by the government geologists and statisticians covering the different subjects. "Active demands and good prices have furnished the mine operators with full opportunity for success in working developed properties, and this in turn has given added incentive and available funds for exploration, prospecting, and experimentation with new processes. The mining man is having his innings."

The returns for six months furnish a basis for the belief that 1916 will set up a new record for the soft-coal mines. Every coal-mining state is sharing in this prosperity and of course this demand for coal is to be traced back to the increased business of the railroads and of the steel and other large industries.

Drilling activity throughout the oil-producing states has brought about a gratifying increase in production of crude oil that promises to make 1916 a record year for marketed petroleum. Already production and consumption are reported by the survey's specialist as essentially in balance east of the Rocky Mountains, with a tendency to lower prices.

The Portland cement industry has had a busy six months and the manufacturers are optimistic. It is predicted that in both production and shipments of cement this year will show a gain over last year, if indeed it does not establish a new record for cement.

Among the metals copper is continuing the steady increase in production which began early last year, and the forecast for 1916 indicates not only the largest output ever known but also the largest profits.

Shipments of iron ore from Lake Superior points for five months of 1916 exceeded by more than 80 per cent. those for the same months in 1915, and the indications for the year are favorable for a new high record on iron-ore production, and of pig iron as well. Higher prices with a steady demand are stimulating the mining of manganese, with the result that this year's output of ore is expected to surpass the large production of last year.

The lead and zinc mines are producing ore at a rate even exceeding that of last year and the prevailing prices have made possible the working of large quantities of low-grade ore.

Most precious-metal mines are operating at full capacity. The gold production will probably fall below the high yield of last year, but silver, the one metal last to benefit by the general domestic prosperity, is expected this year to break all previous records.

Nigeria has been added to the lands in which valuable deposits of coal have been discovered in recent years.

SOME NIPPERISMS IN TABLOID FORM

A lot of people regard the knocking of God at the door of their hearts as they do an agent they do not want to see.

The caller for a railroad company is provoked to anger for the same reason that God is—because people go back to sleep.

God is knocking at the door of the hearts of people here tonight just the same as he was knocking at the door of the church at Laodicia.

There have been a lot of people aroused from their sin, but the trouble is they have gone back to sleep.

Too many people sit down to a fine chicken dinner and never thank God for it, but when they give the bones to the dog he wags his tail as much as to say, "Thank you."

"A lot of people have come to me and told me I was hurting the mission because I was talking too plain," declared Rev. J. A. Nipper, in the course of his sermon at the big tent, Ewing and Main streets, Thursday evening. "I don't believe it." Shouts of amen from all parts of the tent greeted this statement.

"The church of Jesus Christ ought to be on the job in the summer time," he continued. "Why, do you know that the devil puts on the greatest attractions in the summer time."

There was a good sized audience and there was no lack of enthusiasm. Rev. D. H. Guild, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, announced that on next Sunday afternoon and evening a collection would be taken for Messrs. Nipper and Jones and that everybody would be given an opportunity to show their appreciation of the good work that these two men have been doing in Fort Wayne during the past few weeks. He urged everybody to donate liberally.

Four More Services.

"There will be four more services and, personally, I would be glad to see these meetings continue all summer," he said. "They have been a great pleasure to me. Hearts have been wonderfully stirred and helped." On next Sunday afternoon Rev. Nipper will speak on the "Second Coming of Christ," instead of in the evening, as has been previously announced.

Loren G. Jones sang a solo and a trio of young girls from the Simpson M. E. church also sang a selection. Both numbers were highly appreciated.

A large delegation of members of the Associated Christian Workers attended the services and were greeted by tremendous applause as they marched into the tent. Mr. Jones had the audience sing, "Show Your Colors."

Rev. Nipper did not mince words in his sermon Thursday evening. He spoke straight from the shoulder and in language that those who heard him could not misunderstand.

Rev. Nipper's Sermon

John, when banished on the Isle of Patmos, was told to speak these words to the church at Laodicia, a church that had become luke warm, lazy and drowsy, and God wanted to get in and wake it up, but did not receive any response from his knocking. I believe that as sure as God was knocking at the door of that church, he is knocking at the hearts of people here tonight, and you, like that church, will not let him in. Did you ever go up to any one's door and knock, and you were sure that they were at home, and after you had knocked and knocked, and was in the act of going away, you saw someone look out between the curtains. Do you remember how you felt? Well, that is just the way you have been treating God. He has been knocking and knocking for a long time, and he knew you were at home all the time, and my friends, you are grieving Him when you pay no heed to his knocking. We provoke God to anger, by our careless attitude toward Him. My experience as a railroad man, gives me this illustration. When the call boy comes for the first time to call a man he doesn't make very much noise, but he just gets the man awake enough to answer the call, and when the man goes back to sleep he goes again and this time he knocks a little harder, and when the man goes to sleep again he does the third time, and this is the time that he almost knocks the house down. But he has been provoked to do the very thing he does, and sometimes I believe that we provoke the Heavenly Caller in the same way. He never knocks very hard the first time, it may be in the hearing of a testimony, or a Gospel song, anything that makes you shed tears, but you go back to sleep in your sin again, and then He knocks a little harder the next time; it may be affliction, and again you are aroused about your soul salvation, but again you go to sleep in your sin, and then God knocks a little harder, and this time it may be death. I tell you we can provoke the Heavenly Caller to anger, and the trouble after we have done it by our own attitude toward Him, we want to say that He is not just.

It took Lazarus at a low state to start Martha toward Jesus; it took the daughter of Jarius at a low ebb to start the father toward Jesus, and I know a young man in a Michigan town that him and his wife together made their surrender to God at the casket of the only child that God had given them, and I tell you it takes a hard knock sometimes to awaken some people to make the greatest decision of their life. God always lets us know that he is outside knocking. Notice the words, "Behold I," or as much as to say "I am outside knocking," letting you know that He knows you are at home. So you see you will be without excuse when you come before the judgment bar of God. Why, he says if we will open the door he will come in and sup with us, and we shall sup with him. You know we should be as grateful as the animals for the things of this life. For instance, when you go into the barn to feed the horse you no sooner get inside till he begins to make a noise, and when you put the corn in the manger he will rub his nose up against you, as much as to say, "Thank you, master." Why, even the hog grunts, and when you put a saucer of milk down for the cat, she will sing and sing, as much as to say, "Thank you," and after you have enjoyed a nice chicken dinner, and there is nothing left but the bones, you put them on a plate and give them to the dog and he will wag his tail as much as to say, "Thank you, I so grateful to you for this." There are a lot of people who sit down and devour the good things that God has given them and never express a word of appreciation.

Picture of Jesus.

I have a picture in my mind tonight of Jesus going up to a boy and saying, "John, if you will let me come in I will make a great man of you," but John says: "I am not worthy to let you in," but Jesus says, "All I want you to do is to let me come in," and that little boy lets him and made of John Wesley a great man and the founder of the Methodist church. Again, I see him approach a man in the city of Chicago and says, "If you will let me come into your life I will make of you a great man, and we will walk together, and we will talk together, and we will pray together, and I will make of you a great man," but this man says, "It's no use; I might as well go to the river and end it all," but he was finally persuaded to let him in, and today Melvin E. Trotter is one of the greatest men in this world all because he let Jesus come into his life, and what he has done for others he will do for you. He is knocking at the door of your heart tonight and I pray that you let him come in.

Enlargement of courses in the Fort Wayne Vocational school, under direction of Walter E. Gordon, will be made, starting in September, to include courses in machine shop work, auto repairing and sanitary engineering. A total of $6,280 has been received in state aid for the operation of this school and this sum will make it possible to add departmental work and employ a new teacher.

The day school, during the last year, had enrolled 65 boys and 42 girls and the night school gave instructions to 500 pupils, 300 of which were women and 200 men. Besides the new courses, which will be offered, the courses of printing, carpentry and electricity, now offered, will be maintained. The vocational school is not operated during the summer months because all persons who would be enrolled are engaged in industrial pursuits in the city of Fort Wayne. "We could not secure enough students in the summer to make the school pay," declared Mr. Gordon.

Gets State Aid.

The state has reimbursed the Fort Wayne vocational school for two-thirds of the cost of instruction. This city received twice the amount in state aid which Evansville obtained, Mr. Gordon says. Terre Haute was given $6,500, and Indianapolis was reimbursed $14,000. According to the school director it cost $10,000 to operate the school the past year. An all year school could not be maintained in Fort Wayne at this time and Mr. Gordon predicts it will be many years before such a school can operate the year through in this city. "Times are too prosperous and the enrollment in the school would be too small," asserted the vocational school director.

In Both Divisions.

The courses offered in the new departments will be taught in both the day and evening classes. The board of education has leased the Kerr Murray plant for two years at a yearly rental of $2,500. It is located in the center of the city and is easily accessible. Many young men from the county have availed themselves of work in the school. Attendance at the high school has been increased, not lessened by the operation of the school.

Girls Are Enrolled.

Girls and women enrolled in the school are taught cooking, home making, millinery and dressmaking. During the past year a total of 20 students was enrolled in classes for printing were enrolled in classes for printing for apprentices. The construtcion and auto repair department, which is to be enlarged, had 60 pupils, and oters were mathematics, mechanics and draftsmen, 70; carpentry and architectural drawing, 24; air brake, conhtruction and repair, 45. Many of the men come from the Pennsylvania railway shops, Fort Wayne Electrical works and the Buss foundry.

Members of Battery D, who have been examined and accepted for enlistment, will be mustered into service this evening by Captain John C. Scheffer at the armory in the Flick building on West Berry street.

Captain Scheffer returned late Thursday afternoon from Indianapolis, where he was in conference with Adjutant General Frank L. Bridges, and was also mustered in so that he might be authorized to muster into service the members of the new battery, thus eliminating the necessity of sending a mustering officer here from Fort Benjamin Harrison for that purpose.

Lieutenant Luther Mertz and James Buckles, both of Columbia City, who have recruited seventy-three men for the Fort Wayne battery, were here Friday in consultation with Captain Scheffer. Every possible effort will be made to get the battery into readiness at once as the call to Fort Harrison is expected within the next three or four days.

"First Lieutenant John C. Scheffer, field artillery, retired, Fort Wayne, Indiana, is hereby returned to the active list, and appointed mustering officer and recruiting officer for the purpose of mustering into the Indiana national guard, the battery of field artillery organized at Fort Wayne, after a minimum of 138 men have passed the physical examinations.

In the reorganization of the local battery, formerly known as Battery B, Lieutenant Scheffer is deserving of much credit. He has had a long and honorable military career and at the outbreak of hostilities with Spain joined the Twenty-eighth Indiana battery, being promoted to corporal. When it was mustered out he joined Battery B and later was made lieutenant of that organization.

Both Dr. Charles R. Dancer and Dr. J. H. Gilpin have been appointed physical examiners for the Indiana national guard. Word has also been received that Dr. Charles E. Barnett, of this city, has been called to active service with the Indiana troops on the medical staff with the rank of captain.

Attorney T. E. Ehison, who is in Washington, D. C., in the interest of the Lake Erie and Michigan Deep Waterways association, has telegraphed that the oral argument on the appeal from the adverse decision of the board of army engineers on the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago canal would be made on July 11. He suggests that Fort Wayne men interested in the movement be there on that date. The briefs on the argument, the message says, will be filed on July 25.

WHAT WE BUY FROM MEXICAN NEIGHBORS

Washington, D. C., July 6.—"Any interruption of friendly relations between the United States and Mexico vitally affect the trade of the southern republic," says today's war geography bulletin of the National Geographic society. "for the larger nation buys three-fourths of all the farm and forest products, minerals and manufactures which the smaller country offers for sale to the outside world.

"On the other hand, Mexico reciprocates by purchasing less than half her total imports from us, and if we lost all the custom of our neighbor it would represent less than one and a quarter per cent of the goods which we sell annually to the world at large.

"The first industry to feel the effect of any interruption of trade relations between the two countries will be the sisal grass plantations and mills, for the United States buys from Mexico nearly 95 per cent of all this vegetable fibre used in America for cordage, bags and hammocks. Last year we bought nearly four hundred million pounds of this product from Mexico, at a cost of more than $19,000,000.

"Coffee is also an important item in our trade with Mexico, our purchases of this commodity increasing from twenty-six million pounds in 1913 to twice that amount in 1915. There are no figures from Mexico to determine what percentage of her coffee crop our fifty-two million pound purchase represented last year, but if the same amount was exported last year as in 1913 the United States bought all except two million pounds. And yet this enormous quantity of aromatic beans was less than one-twentieth of the amount needed to fill the American coffee cup for twelve months.

"Seventeen per cent of our mahogany, more than 7,000,000 feet, came from Mexican forests in 1915. Thirteen per cent of all the cattle hides brought into this country last year, 43,000,000 pounds, came from Mexican ranches, also more than five per cent of the goat skins, 3,500,000 pounds.

"In 1914 Mexico spent most of her shopping money with the following nations, in the order of their sales: the United States, Germany, Great Britain, France, Belgium and Spain.

"The three farm products for which Mexico spent the largest sums in the United States last year were corn, wheat and lard, the amounts in that order being $1,388,000; $380,000, and $365,000. Twenty million pounds of cotton were also bought from us, for although Mexico raises a large crop of this staple in the famous Laguna district, it is not sufficient to keep her textile mills going, so she takes one half of one per cent of that which we have for sale to foreign countries. The 31,000,000 feet of lumber which the southern republic bought from us last year, about three per cent of our total exports, was only one-fourth as much as was bought two years before. Firearms, textiles, explosives, chemicals, machinery and carriages are important items on the Mexican nation's market list when she has money to spend with us."

For the eight months ending with last February the oversea trade of Australia showed a gain of $88,145,525, when contrasted with the commonwealth's foreign commerce of the previos year.

Petersburg, Ind., July 7.—Sheriff Peter R. Miller, Thomas Whitney, city marshall, and Smith Williams, deputy sheriff, raided a sawmill on the Patoka river near the Hartwell mines, fourteen miles south of here, having heard that arrangements were being made for a big Fourth of July "celebration" there, and that the old sawmill had been converted into a "blind tiger." When the officers entered the mill several women were there.

John Lance was arrested as one of the operators and Clifton James ,who had gone to Hartwell for more beer and whisky, the officers said, was arrested on his return. He had two cases of beer with him and had left four cases and two jugs of whisky at the Hartwell junction. All was confiscated, but in the excitement the visitors at the place got one jug of whisky and some beer. The officers brought the two prisoners and all the rest of the liquor here.

Effective July 1 the section men and the freight handlers in the warehouses of the Pennsylvania company began working under a new wage schedule which is an increase of 5 to 10 per cent. Prior to that date the laborers at the freight house received 19.2 cents per hour. Hereafter the wage will be twenty-one cents an hour. The section men who, prior to July 1, received 10 cents per hour, are now receiving twenty cents per hour. There will be 287 freight handlers in Fort Wayne effected by the increase and 1,013 section men on the western division affected by it. The increase was voluntary and comes as a surprise to the men affected by it.

The officers of the Fort Wayne Rifles' club, who have inaugurated a movement looking towards furnishing Company E boys out in the field with the articles of comfort that cannot be supplied by the government. The following resolution, which explains the objects and aims of the movement, was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the members of Company E, First Infantry, I. N. G., have been called to active service by the government, and

Whereas, In the even of the necessity of the men in this command being called to active service on the border, they will probably have need of certain assistance from the citizen friends in this community, and

Whereas, The Fort Wayne Rifle & Revolver club is the most closely associated body organized in Fort Wayne with the militia company, and will be in a position to appreciate the wants of these men, there

Be it resolved, by the executive committee of the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club, that this organization take steps to collect funds for the purpose of supplying various necessities to the men of Company E, or any of its own members who are enlisted in any other commands during the time of their service on the border or in foreign countries, such funds to be collected by the secretary of the organization and separately accounted for, and reports duly made to the executive committee.

And that copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the club and to each of the Fort Wayne daily papers.

E. A. Wagner, vice president.
Geo. R. Gawahn, secretary.
C. B. Reuss, treasurer.

Foster Houck, the executive officer of the Rifles' club, is away with Company E and could not sign the resolution, but it is known that he heartily approves the movement.

WESTERN GAS TO PICNIC.

The Office Force Will Enjoy Annual Outing Sunday.

The employes of the office of the Western Gas works will enjoy a big time next Sunday when they will hold their annual picnic and outing at Horner's grove, southeast of the city, on the Wayne trace. It will be an all day affair and basket lunches will be taken along to appease the hunger of the picnickers. One of the features of the day will be a ball game between the office force and the drawing room. This outing is to be exclusively for the office and drawing room forces, as the shop will have a picnic independent of the rest of the works in a few weeks.

EXCURSION ABANDONED.

Because of the fact that many of the troops at Camp Ralston have already started to entrain for the border, with the probability that many more will be leaving within the next few days, the officials of the L. E. & W. deemed it advisable to cancel the excursion which was scheduled for next Sunday to Indianapolis and Fort Benjamin Harrison. It is believed that by Sunday most of the soldiers will have left, and since that was the main attraction it was thought that the patronage would hardly justify a special train.

TAKES JOB AT PORT HURON.

Tomorrow marks the close of service as a meter inspector at the General Electric works of Benjamin D. Reiman. He has accepted a position as meter inspector with the Port Huron Gas and Electric Light company, at Port Huron, Mich., and assumes the duties of the office next Monday. CROP PROSPECTS IMPROVING.

The weekly crop bulletin issued by W. C. Maxwell, vice-president of the Wabash, shows a greatly improved condition in the prospects in Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. Under hot and dry weather, wheat is ripening fast and heads are well filled and harvesting will commence within a week. There is every indication of a splendid crop of oats. The grain has headed out and is making rapid growth. Some fields are ripening. Corn prospects are fine, the past week of hot and dry weather having greatly improved it. With continued favorable weather there should be a heavy crop. The hay harvest is now in progress and the outturn is excellent. Sugar beets continue to show progress and there is every indication of a good crop. It should greatly exceed previous years because of the increased acreage.

AGAIN A WABASH EMPLOYE.

R. B. Copestick, for many years employed in the freight department of the Wabash, is again an employe, after being engaged in other work for a year or two. This morning he began work in the yard office as a clerk. Mr. Copestick was employed with the Fort Wayne Audit company several months.

SOLDIERS GO SWIMMING.

While the train stopped several hours in Peru yesterday morning, the members of the Seventy-fourth New York infantry took a bath in the Wabash river, marching in companies from the train to the river and creating a good deal of excitement for the residents of Peru. It was the first opportunity given the boys to go "swimin'" since they left New York and nearly everyone took advantage of it.

WILL KEEP UP SOLDIERS' DUES.

At the meeting of the Mutual Benefit association of the General Electric works last night it was decided to keep the members of the society who are in the army in good standing and provision will be made to pay their dues until they return home. There are about fifteen of the members in the army. Until they have been honorably discharged and resume their work in the shop, they will receive the full benefits of the society.

Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, of the Pennsylvania lines, and Foreman Trachsel, of the cost department, have gone to Pittsburg, Pa., on company business.

Paul Tittman, who resigned a position in the shipping department of the General Electric works, has accepted employment in the Overland works at Toledo.

W. H. Hull, wheel inspector for the New York Central lines, was in the city yesterday. He visited the Bass shops and inspected two hundred wheels and a lot of forgings.

Travel on the Nickel Plate is exceedingly heavy and westbound passenger train No. 1, which is the favored one with most travelers, has been carrying extra cars for several days.

Next Monday Foreman F. S. Waldrum, of the transformer department of the General Electric works, will begin a two weeks' vacation. He will spend a part of it at the lakes.

Milton Borchelt, son of John Borchelt, janitor at the G. R. & I. offices, will spend the summer months with relatives at St. Peters, Ill., and will leave for that place tomorrow.

P. Buzas and F. H. Hunter, who have been working as boilermaker helpers at the Pennsylvania shops, have resigned their positions and have accepted employment at the Dudlo works.

General Superintendent W. C. Downing, of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, who was here on business, will return to Pittsburg on train No. 8 tonight. He had been in Chicago.

New employes in the small motor department under Foreman P. A. Neuman, are the Misses Alice Boyce, Loretta Meyers, Alma Steinbacher and Gertrude Kistler, each commencing work this week.

Frank Thompson and E. Barr, of the automatic screw department of the General Electric works, came home from the lakes rather unexpectedly. They give as the reason the vast number and industrious methods of the mosquitoes, which they say made life miserable to them.

The wire department at the General Electric works today equipped all the offices of the first floor of the office building with buzzers and a hall boy has been installed to complete the system. This puts the first floor hall in the same class with the other halls, so far as messenger service is concerned.

Mrs. Katherine Lankenau, mother of Foreman E. W. Lankenau, of the hand screw department of the General Electric works, is here for a two weeks' visit with her son, before going to her home in Chicago. ready to respond to the call of their country and declared "it is with intense pride in the young manhood of our state that I look upon these splendid soldiers." He added that the Indiana troop will have his deepest concern while away from Indiana.

Cheers and Popular Airs.

Relatives and friends—all anxious, some tearful—crowded about the soldiers and bade them farewell. Soldiers remaining behind sent up cheer after cheer, while the bands played "Turkey in the Straw," "The Gal I Left Behind Me" and other popular airs. The Purdue boys sang various university songs, but most frequently "Oh, the Moon Is Shining Bright Tonight Along the Wabash."

Each section was labeled, the soldiers printing with white chalk the name of the battery on the sides of the cars. Other inscriptions were also printed on the cars, including "Mexico or bust," "Good-by, girls," "Battery A, we're strong for you," and "Battery C, of Lafayette, last to start but we'll get there yet."

The five physicians who conducted the physical examinations were said by Lieut. Col. Bannister to have established a record in the speed with which they accomplished their work.

Many Mascots Chosen.

Choosing mascots, receiving tobacco, cigarettes and other presents, being tatooed and subscribing funds for various purposes are among the incidents that have become daily routine among the Indiana troops here.

Snappy, an eight inch snapping turtle, which is the mascot of B battery, of Purdue university, is enroute to the border on the second troop train which left last night. The turtle has been identified by cutting "B battery" in the back of its shell.

A list of soldiers whose families are dependent on them, has been requested of the commanding officers of the different units by the Indianapolis auxiliary to the Indiana national guard. The auxiliary purposes to assist these men of the three companies of the first infantry, the field hospital, A battery and A company of the signal corps.

Van Auken Now Major.

An order issued yesterday by Adjutant General Franklin L. Bridges, promoting Captain Glenn Van Auken, of Auburn, to brigadier adjutant with the rank of major. Van Auken heretofore has been a captain in the Third regiment and regimental adjutant, but the promotion carries with it more important duties and gives him the rank of adjutant for the entire brigade.

Major Van Auken is a state senator. He has won considerable honors as an expert rifleman. In the same order Adjutant General Bridges announces the promotion of Lieutenant Boggs, of Warsaw, to the rank of captain adjutant in the Third regiment to fill the vacancy made by the promotion of Major Van Auken.

Official announcement was made in the order of the naming of Lieutenant Colonel Edward M. Lewis, United States infantry as commander of the brigade with the rank of brigadier general. Governor Ralston received official information today from the war department that his selection of Lieutenant Colonel Lewis to head the Indiana national guard had been approved. It is expected Lewis will arrive here tomorrow.

Scheffer on Active List.

Announcement also was made that Major Orville B. Kilmer, retired, was placed on the active list with the rank of captain in the commissary department. General Bridges also placed Lieutenant John C. Scheffer of the field artillery, retired, on the active list and appointed him mustering officer and recruiting officer for the new battery which has been organized at Fort Wayne, but which has not yet been mustered.

New Major Named.

Captain Joseph C. Clark, of Spencer, was today promoted a major by Governor Ralston and was assigned to command of a battalion of the Second regiment. He succeeds Captain Jesse T. Johnson, who had been promoted to the place, but who was rejected because of defective vision. He had been in command of D company, Second regiment, which was recruited at Spencer.

ternational boundry and the unreserved expression of the desire of your government to reach an adjustment of these difficulties on a broad and amicable basis. The same spirit of friendship and of solicitude for the continuance of cordial relations between our two countries inspires my government, which equally desires an immediate solution of the matter of differences which have long vexed both governments.

"It is especially pleasing to my government that the de facto government of Mexico is disposed to give quick, as well as practical consideration in a spirit of concord to the remedies which may be applied to the existing conditions. Reciprocating the same desire, the government of the United States is prepared immediately to exchange views as to a practical plan to remove finally and prevent a recurrence of the difficulties which have been the source of the controversy.

"Accept, Mr. Secretary, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

"I am, sir, yours very sincerely,
"ROBERT LANSING."

Assembling the Reserves.

The war department was today busy assembling for the first time in the history the United States regular army reserve of four thousand or five thousand enlisted men recently retired from active service, but still subject to call in case of "war or emergency."

Announcement was made last night that these would be summoned to assist in organizing additional regular army units about to be formed under the new national defense act.

On the other hand, a material diminution of national guard forces for border duty was in prospect as a result of Secretary Baker's order authorizing discharge from service of those guardsmen with dependent families.

Scope May Be Broad.

The series of conferences between Counsellor Polk, of the state department, and Elizo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, for which the forthcoming note doubtless prepares the way, may extend beyond the question of protecting the border against future bandit rids and go into the sore need of the Carranza government for financial support. This possibility created considerable interest among administration officials and diplomats today. It was argued as an indication that the United States wishes to assist the neighbor republic to bring order out of its internal turmoil. There was no thought, however, that the question of first importance in diplomatic discussions would be anything except protecting the border.

How Carried On.

The proposed exchange of views probably will be carried on through informal conversations by Mr. Arredondo and Counselor Polk, who will act as secretary of state during the next month. Secretary Lansing leaves today to spend his vacation at Watertown, N. Y. He will keep in close touch with the department by telephone and telegraph, advising with Mr. Polk while the conversations are in progress.

While high officials have admitted that the Washington government in all probability would do what it could to encourage American bankers to go to the aid of the de facto government if General Carranza would furnish proper guarantees, Counsellor Polk took occasion today to state that his conference yesterday with Henry T. Fletcher, ambassador designate to Mexico, and Paul M. Warburg, of the federal reserve board, had nothing to do with this aspect of the situation. The fact that his visitors came together, he said, was merely a coincidence and without significance.

Department officials made it plain that it was as yet too early to forecast clearly what might be evolved from the more favorable aspects of the Mexican situation presented by General Carranza's recent amicable note. Everything depends, it was pointed out, upon the degree to which suspicions previously entertained by the first chief as to the motives of the United States have been overcome.

No detailed plan as to the form of guarantees the United States may seek for the safety of its own and other foreign interests in Mexico has not been formulated, so far as known.

It was stated authoritatively, however, that the loyalty of Mexican civil as well as military officials to the central government must be insured in some way.

San Antonio, Texas, July 7.—General Pershing reported to General Funston today that a rumor has reached him of Francisco Villa's reappearance south of Parral. The report placed the estimate of Villa's men at from 800 to 2,000.

Trains bearing guardsmen to border stations were moving in fewer numbers today. The greater part of the national guard that was prepared to respond to the call for service already has reached the border.

VILLA FORCES QUIT JIMINEZ.

Railway Communication to Mexico City is Restored.

El Paso, Texas, July 7.—The Villa forces have evacuated Jiminez and railway communication has been restored at Mexico City, according to a message received today by General Gonzales, at Juarez, from Gen. Trevino, at Chihuahua City. Gen. Trevino reported that Carranza cavalry is in pursuit of the bandits.

Germans Moving to West.

A wireless dispatch from Rome says word has been received there from Petrograd that in consequence of their triple defeat in the sectors of Riga, Kolki and Baranovichi the Germans have begun to move their whole front toward the west.

Capture by the British of a German trench on a front of 1,000 yards east of La Boisselle, in the Somme region, was announced officially today.

The British resumed the offensive on certain sectors east of Albert at dawn today. At the same time the Germans launched heavy attacks on the British trenches near Ancre. Violent fighting is now in progress. In the vicinity of Ovillers and Contalmaison, as well as near La Boisselle, the British made progress. In the region of Thiepval the Germans regained a section of lost ground.

NOW ABLE TO HOLD THEM.

Paris, July 7.—Yesterday's defensive fighting has given almost as much satisfaction to the French as the previous day's captures for, they say, it was clearly shown that the entente allies not only are able to take positions from the Germans wherever they like, but also are able to hold those positions when won.

The first German counter-attack was launched in the night in the Hem section, north of the canalized Somme river. The Germans succeeded in carrying two small works situated south of the Clery-Mericourt road, a few hundred yards from the sugar works bordering that road.

The French troops there, being more or less in the air, fell back on the village and swinging their left wing slightly captured another small wood at the northeastern end of the village close to the Hem brick field and along the edge of the road from Clery to Hem and Curlu. This was the only change in the situation throughout the twenty-four hours during which the counter-offensive lasted.

At the beginning of the battle there were behind the front assigned to the French attack twenty-seven German battalions drawn from the 121st division and from regiments of the Seventeenth army corps.

Between July 1 and July 5 the German commanders sent up to the Peronne front four reserve divisions, of which two already are declared to be virtually out of commission. The other reserves brought up from different points between Rheims and the Somme were of a most helerogeneous nature. One battalion of the guard which was annihilated had been formed of companies from several different battalions.

The French officers say there can be no doubt that the rapidity of the French advance, if not the advance itself, took the Germans by surprise. This, they assert, is shown by their not having provided an adequate supply of reserves for such a contingency.

The solidity of the French conquest in Picardy at last has been put to the test and military men here say it has come out of the ordeal with flying keys, thus again demonstrating the soundness of the Brussiloff method.

The Germans who managed to gather considerable forces partly apparently from the British front where the pressure was lessened during the day, and partly from depots, delivered a series of violent attacks on two points. The first of these was between Hem and Maricourt on the Clery road. The second was on the extreme right between Estrees and Belloy, their object being to drive a wedge between the French center and right where the French line crosses the Somme river from Hem to Feuilleres and between the extreme right and the rest of the French front.

The success of these manuevers would have forced the eventual retirement of the whole French line.

The French had time thoroughly to strengthen their line, to advance and place in position heavy artillery and to bring up plentiful stocks of munitions. Consequently the attacking wave was caught in a whirlwind of machine gun fire from the trenches and was shot to pieces by the "Seventy Fives," while the German supports following and reserves far in the rear were shattered by salvos from medium and heavy batteries.

The German infantry plodded forward again and again but no where, French reports say, made any impression upon the French lines. Rarely even did they get to grips with the occupants of the trenches which accounts for the small number of prisoners taken. The Germans, say the reports, had striven the whole day without effecting the slightest modification of the situation.

The French remain two and a half miles from Peronne on the south side of the Somme and four miles from that city on the north side of the river, and there are no formidable natural obstacles in the way of their occupation of the city, when the French commander judges that time is ripe to do so.

BAD SALOONS GET ULTIMATUM.

State Health Board After Unsanitary Places at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, July 7.—An ultimatum to "clean up" their premises has been issued to a number of Indianapolis saloon men by H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner. He has assigned six inspectors to the duty of investigating the sanitary conditions of local barrooms, and, according to reports they have made some of the places are in such condition they can be closed under the law. Mr. Barnard says no saloon man will be allowed to keep his place open unless he keeps it clean. Free lunch counters have been paritcularly criticised by the inspectors.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 7.—Unwelcome rains in the crop region tended today to advance wheat values here. Higher prices at Liverpool counted also against the bears.

The opening, which ranged from ⅜c to ½c higher, with July at $1.03½ to $1.03⅝, and September at $1.06⅛ to $1.06¼, was followed by some gains and then a moderate reaction.

Oats paralleled the action of corn. Changes, however, were relatively narrow.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 7.—Irregular price changes at the opening of today's market were mostly within very narrow limits, the principal copper issues being fairly active at nominal gains and declines. Rails also manifested an uncertain trend. Union Pacific, New York Central and Erie recording fractional gains, with a slight setback for St. Paul and Baltimore and Ohio. Reading was unchanged but showed marked firmness later. United States Steel yielded a fraction but soon recovered while the prominent munitions were again under pressure with the zinc issues and marine preferred. Mexicans were in moderate demand but the movement elsewhere was variable.

Encouraged at the lack of demand, traders made a series of drives against specialties, particularly issues like Baldwin, Crucible and Industrial Alcohol, which made extreme losses of two to three points before midday. Greater heaviness was shown by the shipping issues, United Fruit losing three points. Zinc shares made new low prices for the year, probably in consequence of another break in base metal in the London market. Rails and United States Steel withstood pressure but Mexican Petroleum yielded with other specialties. Bonds were steady.

Railroads Make Fine Showing for Safety With Heavier Traffic.

Chicago, July 7.—Railroads of the United States handled more traffic with less loss of life in the July-September quarter of 1915 than in any previous quarter, since reports have been made, according to a bulletin issued today by the bureau of railway news.

According to the accidental reports which were begun in 1901, only 127 lives were lost in train accidents during the July-September quarter last year.

The smallest total in any similar quarter was 181 in 1914, when traffic was at low ebb.

The reports include passengers, employes, trespassers and others.

Interest Helps Buy More Baby Bonds

Six per cent interest is regarded as a very fair return upon investment in these days, and especially so upon small amounts. At that rate the interest accumulates rapidly and many local people are investing more in baby bonds today with the intention of letting the interest help out their future savings in order to purchase larger holdings of this security.

Baby Bonds come in $10 denominations, are secured by first mortgages on local real estate and bear 6 per cent interest. There are also some $500 bonds with the same security and the same rate of interest. For further details see the Wildwood Sales company, Shoaff building.

Members of Mizpah temple will leave Fort Wayne at 9 o'clock, Sunday evening, over the Nickel Plate railroad, for Buffalo, New York, where they will attend the Imperial council of Shriners. There will be thirty members of the patrol and thirty members of the band, who will make the trip, besides the representatives and other Shriners.

The last trip taken by the Mizpah patrol was to Los Angeles, California, and, although the boys had never drilled on the ground and the only practice they had was the drilling that Captain Edgar H. Kilbourne gave them in towns where the train stopped for any length of time, first honors were won on both the field and on the floor. There were eighty-four patrols contesting for honors.

This year the local patrol is expecting to duplicate that record, notwithstanding the fact that all of the members of the present patrol with the exception of three are new men. However, they have been practicing hard. More than one hundred patrols will participate in the grand parade around Meadow's park, Buffalo, after which the competitive drills will take place, four patrols drilling at a time. The Mizpah patrol will present two hundred and forty-seven movements without command.

The officers of Mizpah patrol are: Captain, E. H. Kilbourne; first lieutenant, R. B. Carmire; second lieutenant, Robert Klaehn; first sergeant, S. W. Newell and second sergeant, W. E. Ehle.

A prize for the most efficient junior class was awarded for the second time to the Temple Baptist church of Baltimore; for the most efficient work in the missionary field to the Conquest Mission of Esterville, Ohio; for the most intelligent reading of the Bible to the bible class of Picture Rock, Pa., and for the best course in sacred literature to the class in Toronto.

STRIKE BREAKERS ARRESTED.

Plead Not Guilty to Assault and Give Bond for Hearing.

Armed with two affidavits bearing the names "John Doe" and "Richard Roe," Constable Davis went to the plant of the Western Gas Construction company, on Summer street, late Thursday night and arrested two men who had assisted Patrolman Petgen in arresting Merle Marks, president of the striking moulders, last Wednesday.

The two men, who were J. J. Griffin, leader of the strike breakers, and one of his men, furnished bond in the sum of $50. At the preliminary hearing Friday afternoon they pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting Marks, when they were called to assist in his arrest. Griffin is accused of striking Marks in the face several times. He says he did not hit Marks.

Berlin, July 7.—(Via London 3:03 p. m.)—Official announcement was made today that the British steamship Lestris was held up by German warships near the English coast and seized as a prize.

The report says the Lestris was held up "by a portion of the German high sea forces." The announcement follows:

"The British steamship Lestris, from Liverpool has been held up by a portion of the German high sea forces not far from the English coast and seized as a prize."

The wording of the German statement indicates that a part, at least, of the German high sea fleet was near the British coast at the time the Lestris was seized.

Rail Man Believes Probe Into Political Work Unwarranted.

Washington, July 7.—The right of the interstate commerce commission to investigate political activities of railroads was challenged today by Milton H. Smith, president of the L. and N. railroad, in his answer to the commission's petition requesting the district of Columbia supreme court to compel him to give testimony regarding its alleged campaign contributions.

The answer declared the commission's investigation was entirely the result of personal animus of Senator Luke of Tennessee, and of an old controversy between the senator and the railroad.

The commission's petition was filed several months ago when Mr. Smith, testifying in an inquiry instituted as a result of a resolution introduced by Senator Lea in 1913, refused to answer questions as to the road's political relations. Hearing on the commission's request to compel Smith to testify has been set for August 11.

The answer says that at the time the senate resolution under which Mr Smith was questioned was introduced three years ago, Senator Lea, through his Nashville newspaper, was engaged in an attack on the railroad, "due to the fact that railroad and its officials had declined to do for him what he had requested." The resolution was adopted, Mr. Smith told the court, when only 14 members of the senate were present.

The commission reported to the senate after an investigation by its examiners, going into many details concerning alleged political activities. "Two years and four months later, after Lea had been defeated for re-election to the senate the question which had lain dormant so long was revived and a public hearing ordered." The answer says "at which the first ... knew of any funds of the railroad company expended in Tennessee for political campaign purposes during the year 1915, Tennessee being the state and 1915 the year in which Senator Lea made his unsuccessful campaign for re-election."

It was the refusal to answer this question that resulted in the suit. Whichever way the district court decides, it said, the case will be taken to the supreme court.

I, Jacob Warner, of 812 Anthony boulevard, will explain about my cancer of my left eye. Commenced six years ago and lost the use of my eye. Treating for it by some of our best physicians, but no relief, and my other eye became very weak, almost sightless. A friend of mine advised me to consult Dr. J. W. Coblentz, of 328 West DeWald St. He sent his nurse to treat me, and in four weeks he had it healed and am now well again, and feel fine for my age, which is 60 years.

KISSING DIVORCED WIFE NOT ASSAULT

Vincennes, Ind., July 7.—Kissing one's divorced wife does not constitute a case of assault and battery, according to a decision of the court here who discharged John Everhart, of Sullivan county, in the trial of a case brought by Mrs. Everhart. She alleged her former husband called her to his buggy and kissed her twice. The Everharts, who are the parents of eight children, were divorced recently after having been married for thirty-five years.

RICH IN PAPER MONEY BUT GO WITHOUT PAY

El Paso, July 7.—During their raid on Jiminez, the Villa troops captured the Carranza pay train, which was on its way north from Mexico City, filled with paper money for the army and civil government of northern Mexico, said a mining man, arriving from Chihuahua. While the Villa followers are rich in the new "uncounterfeitable paper," the military and civil employes must go without their June pay, he said.

"Paper money is an important factor in the present Villa campaign," he continued. "The peons of Chihuahua hold large sums of Villa paper, which they hope Villa will redeem, therefore they pray for his success.

"No doubt now remains among the people of Chihuahua that Villa is directing operations. That he should fall on the strongest section of the Carranza cordon and destroy it, killing its leader, General Ramos, before the various sections could effectively join it, is regarded as typical Villa strategy.

UNDECIDED AS TO PACKING INQUIRY

Washington, July 7.—Members of the house judiciary sub-committee were considering informally today whether they shall recommend a federal inquiry into the meat-packing industry.

The committeemen had before them a mass of testimony taken during hearing which began in March and ended yesterday on Representative Borland's resolution for an investigation by the federal trade commission. Representatives of the cattle producers favored such an inquiry, while the packers opposed it on the ground that it would be detrimental to their business. Cattlemen argued that the action was necessary to insure reasonable meat prices to consumers.

The sub-committee will hasten its deliberations in an attempt to report to the full committee which meets next Tuesday. It is considered doubtful, however, whether its work can be finished by that time.

The markings on a graduated measuring glass invented in Germany are made along a zigzag line instead of a vertical one, and, having wider spaces between, are said to be read more accurately.

Shortly you are going to have the pleasure of walking in a strange land, hearing an unknown but delightfully tantalizing tongue. The jargon of the sawdust and big top world has a never-failing delight, and it is that which will be in your ears.

For when the Sells-Floto circus, Buffalo Bill Wild West show, champion shows of the world, come to Fort Wayne July 13, it will be as if a foreign community had been plumped right down in the heart of our city.

To walk in such spicy places, smelling of sawdust, peanuts, animals and, well, just of "circus," is unalloyed delight. But when in the ears ring such names as "marquee," "punk," "eats" and a score more, there is a new tingle

At the front gate one may hear a circus man say something about the marquee. That is the entrance to the menagerie, where the tickets are taken. Passing through, the "big top"—main tent—is reached.

But on the way, the tourist in this strange land will observe the "punks," baby animals of all sorts; feed peanuts to the "bulls"—elephants; be hissed at by the "spots"—leopards. He will pass through the "connection"—the open space between the menagerie and the big show.

And in the big show will be "kinkers," "twisters," "Joeys," "menage riders" and scores more. The tourist may never learn the names—he knows them as performers, contortionists, iron jaw artists, equestrians and clowns.

Champions With Show.

So much for the jargon, the argot, of the circus. As to the stellar attractions, well! For one, there will be Jess Willard. For another, Frank Gotch. For a third, Mme. Zora, animal trainer. Willard and Gotch will take all comers. In addition, Willard will illustrate, with a sparring partner, the great Moran battle, round by round.

WILL COMPLETE SPY RUN RETAINING WALL

The retaining wall along Spy Run will be built twelve feet higher, according to the order of the city board of works in their meeting Thursday evening. The improvement will cost between $6,000 and $10,000, the board has been told. The wall is 550 feet long and stretches around a sharp bend of the St. Joseph river along Spy Run from State street to the Centlivre brewery.

The present wall is not as high as the street and at present is considered dangerous. The addition to the present wall will raise the structure four feet above the road and will safeguard traffic from a possible plunge down the embankment. There will be an iron railing along the top of the wall. City Engineer Randall was ordered to prepare plans, for the addition to the wall, as soon as possible. The wall will be completed this fall if possible.

Assessment rolls for the following paving improvements were adopted by the board: Harrison street, from Creighton avenue to Woodland avenue; Lillie street, from Maumee to Taylor street; Erie street from Francis to Hanover; Hanna street from Taber to McKee; Wayne Trace from Summer to Felican streets.

Resolutions for paving the following alleys were adopted:

Alley between Wayne and Washington from Monroe to Hanna streets; between Washington and Jefferson, from Monroe to Francis streets; between Jefferson and Madison, from Hanna to Division streets; between Lewis and Montgomery from Lafayette to Clay; between Calhoun and Harrison from Douglas to Breckenridge streets; between Douglas avenue and Breckenridge from Calhoun to Harrison streets; between Washington and Jefferson from Van Buren to Jackson; between Harrison and Webster from Suttenfield to Woodland; between Fairfield and Oakley from Taylor to Wallait; between Murray and Wallace from Calhoun to Clinton streets; between Calhoun and Clinton from Murray to Wallace; between Hanna and Weisser Park avenue from Pontiac to McKee streets; between Fairfield and South Wayne from Wildwood avenue to the first alley north: between Berry and Old Fort Place from Lafayette to Clay streets.

Vienna, June 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—After lengthy conferences between the ministers of the interior and of agriculture for both Austria and Hungary, a system for the equable distribution of grain of all sorts throughout the monarchy for the year 1916-1917, beginning August 1, has been settled upon. It will differ from last year's method and will be accompanied by a rise in prices.

Under the new plan the distribution will be direct, and under no circumstances through associations, guilds or other bodies that in the past have been the equivalent of middlemen. The war grain association for the empire will be the only organization entitled to give mills orders on storage houses for the grain, and when the grain has been milled, it must be turned over to the individual municipalities for distribution equally among the people.

The rise in prices that is in prospect promises to be due to the mills rather than to the crops, which are far better than last year, if not record-breaking all around. The mills in Austria-Hungary want, this year, six kronen instead of 4.20 as last year for milling the same quantity of grain, and will get it unless the protests of the cities are made effective.

Reports from all over Austria-Hungary, especially along the lower Danube and from Bulgaria and Roumania, indicate that there will be a bumper crop. In sharp contrast to last year the weather has been almost ideal with about the right proportion of sunshine and rain, and with little or no late frost to nip early planting. The same conditions, according to reports, prevail in Germany, which this year not only will have a big crop on her own territory, but also will harvest an untold amount from the land in occupied regions—territory either that she did not occupy a year ago, or that was taken too late for cultivation and planting.

Experts here believe that the central powers will be almost the only countries now at war to benefit from this year's big crops, this because of the loss of territory on the one hand and the lack of workmen and laborers on the other. The crops in certain parts of Russia, it is claimed, are about 80 per cent. behind normal, while France and England, which never did raise enough for themselves, will be at a disadvantage in importing a sufficient quantity by reason of the growing scarcity of tonnage and the high freight and insurance rates.

SUMMONS HER LAWYER BEFORE ENDING LIFE

Indianapolis Widow Writes Letter and Then Turns on Gas in Home.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—A letter written by Mrs. Mattie May Short, widow of the late William N. Short, summoning John M. Wall, her attorney, to her home, No. 4 Willard apartments, 38 West St. Joseph street, resulted in the discovery of Mrs. Short's body by Mr. Wall and Detectives Woolley and Larsh in the bedroom of her apartment yesterday afternoon, where she had committed suicide with gas. Dr. Richard A. Poole, coroner, said that Mrs. Short had died some time Wednesday night. The woman lived alone, and the rank odor of gas did not lead to a discovery of the suicide as the other three apartments of the building are vacant.

Wall, who has looked after Mrs. Short's business interests, said that she had been frail and that financial worries have recently preyed on her mind causing her to become despondent. In a note she left detailed instructions for her funeral and the carrying out of her business affairs. Several other notes were addressed to relatives, but these were consolatory in tone and did not offer explanations.

Receives Letter at Noon.

The letter was received by Mr. Wall at his office in the Lombard building yesterday about noon. The door key to the apartment was inclosed. The letter read:

"When you receive this come to my house at once as there will probably be need of your services."

The attorney was nonplused by the note and after failing to get Mrs. Short's apartment over the telephone went to the police. Captain of Detectives Quisley at once scented suicide and detailed Detectives Woolley and Larsh to go with Wall to the woman's home. The odor of gas was strong throughout the building.

She was found lying on the bed with a rubber tube attached to a gas jet extending down to her face. A handkerchief had been fastened to it and held under her head in order to keep the tube near her nose.

Burial Clothes Ready.

In an adjoining room was a gray silk dress and other articles of clothing, which she had evidently intended for her burial outfit, spread on a bed. Everything about the house indicated that the suicide had been carefully planned. The house was in scrupulous order and the window shades were drawn.

Mrs. Short's husband, who was a druggist at Illinois and Maryland street for many years, died suddenly in the same apartment about five years ago. He was afflicted with heart trouble. R. E. Bird, from whom Mrs. Short was divorced, was murdered, it is said, about one year ago near Kankakee, Ill. He was a railroad man and was thrown from a moving train by another man.

As far as Coroner Poole could learn yesterday all of the woman's relatives reside at Greensburg, Ind. She directed that personal effects be given to her sons, Russel and Ernest Bird. In a note to her father, Thomas Castor of Greensburg, she told him not to grieve and told him that her act was for the best.

FIRST HALF OF SHOP LEAGUE ENDS IN TIE

Four Teams in a Tie for First Place in the Shop League.

Saturday ends the first half of the Fort Wayne shop league schedule and with four teams in a tie for first place. In Saturday's contests there is likely to be a defeat of one of the league leaders, the Bowser and Electric works teams battling to stay in the first division. One of the two teams will be dropped as a leader after the contest Saturday. The other two leaders of the league have selected easy games as the Turners have the Dudlos and the Western Gas have the Pennsylvania company. These games should result in win games for the leaders and with the winner of the Bowser-Electric works game, the league cannot fare better than a three-team tie.

A playoff of the tie will be necessary and after the games Saturday the officials will make arrangements for the games which will be held in League park a week from Saturday, July 15.

The shop leaguers will hold a meeting at the offices of Cleary & Bailey Monday night and there the plans for the championship games of the first half of the schedul ewillbe discussed. Much interest has been shown by the fans since the race has developed into such a tight one. The schedule for Saturday's games is:

CLEARYITES GETTING IN SHAPE FOR GAME

Crows Will All Be in Fine Trim for the Game Sunday.

With all the near cripples back in the lineup Sunday, the dark ones under the guidance of Mart Cleary expect to wipe the league park grounds with the invading Payne bunch.

Word has been received from the Payne camp that Oestie Oestermeyer, late of the Southern league, will do the hurling for the visitors. Oestermeyer has always proved himself a pitcher of class in the semi-pro ranks and when he stacks up against the locals they will have to have their very best hitting eyes. White will be on the receiving end of the Payne battery.

Freese, the youth who has been pitching such fine ball for the Crows, will be in the box for the locals. Freese hurt his ankle in the game on the Fourth but says the hurt is past and he is feeling fine and in good shape for Sunday's game.

The Payne management sends word that they are bringing a large crowd than last time. When the Payne team played here before they brought 300 rooters and they say they will bring more this time. Sundays' game will be the third of the series, each team winning one game.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 7.—The purchase of the Nickel Plate in New York today by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen marks a further step in a movement to provide a large railroad and traction terminal in the heart of Cleveland's downtown section, according to associates of the Van Sweringens. It was asserted that the Nickel Plate will be electrified between Lorain and Painesville and that section of it used as a rapid transit line. Clevelanders interested in the project besides the Van Sweringens are J. R. Nutt, of the Citizens Savings and Trust company; M. B. Johnson, attorney, and Warren S. Hayden, of Hayden, Miller & Co.

Just when the speedy lead-off man of the first place Broadway contingent seemed on the road to his first success in three trials with major league society misfortune overtook him. Sliding to third base in a game at Washington July 3 the midget right fielder broke a small bone in his leg, and according to Manager Donovan will probably be out of the lineup six weeks.

Turned down by the Cardinals in 1912 and by the Yankees in 1914, Gilhooley came back to make his third fight for a big league berth when the Gothamites went south last spring. In certain quarters it was freely predicted that the Irish lad, though a corking minor leaguer, wouldn't make good in the exclusive set. Some said he had a bad throwing arm.

How Gilhooley silenced his critics is a matter of much ribald comment. Instead of fizzling again he has developed into the best lead-off man in the junior circuit.

At least two expert hammer throwers who predicted he would not stick with the Yankees until July 4 already have paid off bets made with Capt. Huston, part owner of the club.

Gilhooley might have passed the summer a bench warmer but for the injury to Fritz Maisel, who broke his collar bone May 15. Entering the lineup that day the former International leaguer proceeded to shine with pronounced lustre and in addition to getting on bases oftener than any of his shipmates boosted his batting mark from .280 to .286, which is just about his proper speed.

As first hitter his only close rival is Bert Shotten, of the St. Louis Browns. Gilhooley has it on the westerner in that he gets on first oftener and is just as fleet as the Brownie. Bush, of the Tigers, always rated a wonderful lead-off man, is batting fifty points lower than the Yankee.

On one stretch of 34 games Gilhooley reached first base 68 times, hitting safely on 36 occasions and arriving there 32 times by either errors or passes and scoring 23 runs. In 16 combats on the recent trip through the west he batted .319.

Doctors attending the player say the injury will not leave Gilhooley with a weak ankle. The fracture was in the small bone of the leg and the X-ray photo showed the break had been clean.

With both Maisel and Gilhooley out of commission, Manager Donovan has taken steps to plug the gaps by signing Rube Oldring, veteran, who recently left the Philadelphia Athletics. Maisel is due to resume work in a few days.

The price which the Cubs are to pay for Herzog is not given but it is said to be a large amount of money and one or two ball players.

Toledo, O., July 7.—The Mulberrys, a crack amateur team, had its winning streak broken Tuesday afternooon when they lost a close game to the Toledo Brews, 6 to 5. "Left" Dorbeck, their star pitcher, set a great record for himself. Relieving Powell in the fifth inning he held the winners without a hit the remainder of the game, and then pitched another no-hit game against the Gazorum A. C. He allowed the losers a run, however, the score in the second contest being 10 to 1. Dorbeck thus pitched fourteen innings without allowing a hit.

JOHNSON WOULD GIVE BATSMAN TWO BASES

Chicago, July 7—That the batter, whenever hit on the head with a pitched ball, should receive two bases instead of one, is the suggestion President B. B. Johnson, of the American league, makes for future baseball legislation to deter pitchers from intimidating the batsmen.

He disagrees with President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn National league club, who would have the umpire empowered to grant the batsman his base any time the pitcher tries, in the opinion of the umpire, to hit the batter on the head with the ball.

The Ebbets plan, Mr. Johnson believes, would only add to the troubles of the umpire and would lead to more wrangling. He said he is loath to believe pitchers try to injure the batsmen, but he admitted there is a growing belief that they are throwing balls at the players' heads in order to drive them away from the plate or to intimidate.

OWNS FUNGO RECORD.

Winnipeg, Man., July 7.—Hank Miller, the big center fielder of the Winnipeg ball team, who was tried out last spring by the Brooklyn Dodgers, only to be sent back, set a new fungo hitting record when he drove the ball 438 feet in a field celebration here. Miller shot past the mark held by Ed Walsh, of the White Sox by almost nineteen feet. Like Walsh, the local slugger hits right-handed.

EX-KING INJURED AT TENNIS.

London, July 7.—Former King Manuel, of Portugal, who has been winning new titles on the tennis courts sprained his ankle while playing in a mixed doubles match at the Queens club. He was carried off suffering intense pain.

FINNISH CHAMP KILLED.

Willie Kolehmainen, brother of the famous Hannes, is authority for the statement that A. R. Taipale, who scored five points for Finland in winning both discus events at the Stockholm Olympics four years ago, met death in the European war several weeks ago. Taipale was fighting for the Russians. He is one of many athletes who have fought and died for their countries in the great conflict on the other side.

NEW INVASIONS MAY CHANGE MAJOR RACES

New York, July 7.—With the league leaders, Brooklyn and New York, just a little farther away from the pack than at the first of the week the western American league teams are invading the east today while the teams of the older circuit head for the setting sun.

The Yankees returned to the Polo grounds with a record of sixteen victories out of twenty games on the road and gained half a notch on Cleveland since Sunday, while the Dodgers, taking advantage of the slipping Giants, are now four full games ahead of the Phillies. Pat Moran's men have been having a merry battle with the Braves for second place, and hold the honors today through Rixey's twirling yesterday. The Cubs and the Red Sox were the big gainers, each team climbing from sixth to fourth place.

The coming invasion of eastern diamonds by the western American league teams will probably shake loose one or two of the seven pennant contenders in Ban Johnson's circuit. The trouble will start today, with Chicago at New York and the Indians at Boston. The Tigers down in the mire of the second division, have a fine chance to climb high at Connie Mack's expense, while the leaders cut each other's throats.

The western swing of the National league clubs will mean just as much to the leaders as the eastern invasion in the American and interest will center in whether Brooklyn can hold the pace they have set, and how the Giants succeed in shaking off their home jinx repeating their former success on the road.

"I don't know whether I am better off in baseball than I was when I was working in the mines. I suppose I am, but when you are a miner and making $4 to $8 a day you have nothing to worry about. In baseball you've got to get two or three hits a day or worry a lot.

"The National league isn't a bit faster than was the Federal league. I haven't got started yet; that's why my batting average isn't as big as the one I always had in the Federal league.

FRANK BAKER, OF THE NEW YORK YANKEES:

"I might never have been a professional baseball player but for Charley Herzog and a man named Preston Day. I was playing on an amateur team in Trappe, Md., my home town, with little idea of adopting baseball as a profession when Mr. Day saw me one day and recommended me to Herzog, who was managing the team at Ridgley, Md.

"Herzog sent for me. He offered me $5 a week and my board. That was in 1906 and I was 19 years old. I was an outfielder when I joined Ridgley, but later moved to third, where I have since played.

JIMMY JOHNSON, OF THE BROOKLYN NATIONALS:

"I've seen freak homers in the Southern, Pacific coast, American and National leagues, but I will take off my hat to a couple I saw on the Brooklyn grounds this season. George Cutshaw, of our club, made the first one, beating the Phillies in eleven innings, when his drive climbed up the right field wall and dropped into Bedford avenue back of the park.

"Betzel, of the Cardinals, made the second freak wallop, in a recent series with us. He hit a low line drive to left in the fourth inning. Wheat came tearing in for a shoestring catch but the ball squirted off his leg and into the bleachers, where it was grabbed by a fan. The latter shot it to Wheat, who held Betzel to second.

"It looked like an assist for the fan, but Umpire Rigler ruled the hit a homer, so the fan didn't get the assist and Betzel was credited with a circuit smash."

Chilly Toward Proposed Closer Economic Union.

Vienna, June 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—German and Austrian aspirations for a closer economic union have received a setback at the hands of the Budapest chamber of commerce. In emphatically worded resolutions that body has declared that the new ausbleich with Austria shall be for only ten years, and has further expressed its conviction that Hungary must be independent of Austria in customs matters, and have her own tariffs.

The ausgleich is the working agreement between Austria and Hungary for carrying on the joint affairs of the dual monarchy, including provision for customs and finances. Originating in the compromise of 1867 the legal term of the agreement was fixed at ten years, but since the movement began for a closer economic union between Germany and Austria-Hungary it has been urged that the ausgleich, which expires next year, be extended to twenty or twenty-five years so as to make possible some of the readjustments that would not be possible in a shorter period. The leaders in the movement for the economic union, who have been meeting in Berlin, Vienna, Budapest, Munich, Dresden and Prague, have considered the extension of the ausgleich to be a most essential matter, and the action of the Budapest chamber of commerce in opposition to it has caused much irritation among those who hope that the new economic alliance will be perfected.

It is said that the Hungarian parliament, on the whole, is also opposed to the extension of the ausgleich. The negotiations every ten years for each new ausgleich have always been used by the politicians in Budapest to extract all sorts of compensation, political, financial and economic, from the government in Vienna, and the Hungarians will not readily sacrifice such a powerful weapon.

The determined stand by the Budapest chamber in the matter of a separation of the customs system of the monarchy has also opened up serious problems. While Hungary is chiefly an agricultural state, it has in the past few years been laboriously building up various industries with government subventions and all sorts of political assistance, to the point of competition with Austria, which is chiefly a manufacturing state. In Hungary it has been decreed that no official supplies are to be bought outside of Hungary, not even in Austria, if they can possibly be produced or bought in Hungary. Further, the leading industrial interests have insisted that a speedy development of home industry can only be brought about if Hungary has her own system of tariffs, so as to close her frontier against Austria, and make her own commercial treaties with other nations.

The agricultural interests, on the other hand, prefer the continuance of the common customs tariffs for the whole empire, as they desire to shut out the importation of foreign grain and cattle and meant in common with their Austrian associates, and then, too, they sell most of their produce in Austria.

Since the outbreak of the war the internal relations between Austria and Hungary had considerably improved and it was hoped that suffering under this common burden, the two nations would become still more closely united in the future.

But all the influences of the war and the necessity for showing an undivided front to the foe, have failed to make the Hungarian manufacturers recede from their demands for customs separation from Austria. It is true that the resolutions of the Chamber of Commerce admit that the time is not opportune for making such a tremendous change, but in the firm conviction is expressed that an independent customs territory is the only way of developing home industries. Even this statement of the situation was too mild for some of the speakers in the debate, who insisted that the separation should be pressed forward without delay and petitions sent to the parliament to this end.

With regard to Germany the resolutions demand that a new, reciprocal commercial treaty shall be entered into which shall pay the utmost possible regard to the interests of all the participants, without excluding foreign nations from the beinefits of the special concessions.

"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbryke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

INDIANA MAN DETAINED.

Reported Held in Canadian Hotel Because of German Name.

Washington, July 7.—J. H. Schroeder, a member of the Schroeder Headlight company, of Evansville, Ind., is being detained in a hotel in Canada.

Representative Lieb, who was appealed to for assistance, sent a letter to the state department in which he said: "I wish you would take immediate action toward providing the necessary papers for the safe return of Mr. Schroeder to his country."

Mr. Lieb was not informed as to the reasons the Canadian authorities advance for holding up Mr. Schroeder, but the state department suggests that his German name may have something to do with it, although he is an American citizen.

Taking Big Chances.

Vienna, June 25.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Dr. Max Herz, a well known Vienna scientist, has invented a sort of combination of talking machine and telegraph which will enable the blind to "read" with far greater ease than the present cumbersome and costly Braile books.

The principle of the new device lies in the conveying of "Morse" or other telegraphic signs, to the blind through the sense of hearing. On the machine are placed small records, each of which may contain a whole story, written out in code.

To produce these records a further instrument composed of two Morse keys and electric sounders is required, the sounders being connected with a needle which cuts into the prepared wax record. The records consist only of long and short sounds and they can be sold at extraordinarily low prices.

The annual report of the great Krupp works at Essen says that out of every 100 women employed there 77 claimed relief from the sick fund during the year, as compared with 62 men out of every 100.

The number of women employed by Krupps has risen more than ten-fold.

In August, 1914, just before the war broke out, the company's pay roll included 26,880 men and only 1,214 women. At the end of April last these figures had risen to 55,949 and 13,032 women.

Bertha Krupp, the "Cannon Queen," is credited with having received an income from the works last year of more than a hundred million marks, or $25,000,000.

WORK IS EASIER FOR FARMER NOW

Fred Blum Believes He Could Set a Record Since Taking Tanlac.

"I think I could do a bigger day's work today than I ever did in my life," Fred Blum, farmer, who lives on rural route No. 15, Fort Wayne, said recently, "And I think Tanlac will help others just as it did me," Mr. Blum added, indicating his present good condition is due to the Master Medicine's work.

"For fifteen years I suffered from kidney trouble and I also was bothered with muscular rheumatism," Mr. Blum continued. "Pains in the small of my back were so severe I had to walk stooped over. Often the pains prevented [illegible] also were very severe, especially in my knees and elbows.

"Since I've tried Tanlac the pains in my back have vanished completely. The rheumatic pains also are about gone. After the third day I could tell that Tanlac was helping me. The results I have gained are truly wonderful. I can do more work now than ever before and I believe Tanlac will help others just as it did me."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like and is a fine tonic.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Fort Wayne at Meyer's drug stores—Wayne and Calhoun, Calhoun and Columbia, 1420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor.—Advertisement.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

THE THESSALONIAN CHRISTIANS.

LESSON TEXT—I Thess. 2:17-20; 4:13-18; 5:14-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—If we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that are fallen asleep in Jesus will God bring with him.—I Thess. 4:14 R. V.

This epistle is probably one of the earliest of Paul's letters (A. D. 50-53?). It links itself closely with the seventeenth chapter of the Book of Acts. Driven from Berea, Paul goes to Athens and later to Corinth, while Timothy returns to Thessalonica and carries a report to Paul at Corinth. Whereupon, perhaps within six months, Paul writes his epistle. A study of the two letters addressed to this church teaches us how Paul advised and instructed his Gentile converts. The first is a particularly cheerful, positive and helpful exhortation.

I. Thanksgiving and Testimony (1:1-9:10; 2:17-20). (1) Salutation (1:1) The phrase, "the church of the Thessalonians which is in God" is nowhere else used. Some think it to be unique because Paul had so little to condemn or to criticize. The deity of Jesus Christ and that grace and peace proceed from God is clearly set forth. (2) Thanksgiving (vv. 2 and 3) (a) For works of faith; (b) for their "labor of love," and (c) their "patience" (endurance). That these works were "in the sight of God" is evidence of their genuineness, and such spiritual fruitage awakened (3) Knowledge in Paul's mind (v. 4). They were "elected" to salvation, holiness and likeness to Jesus (vv. 5-9; I Pet 1:2; Eph. 1:4, 5; Rom. 8:29). (4) Testimony (vv. 6-10). Paul could appeal to the known conduct of himself and his friends to substantiate, to prove, the standing of those candidates for holiness who had been "elected." His words had not come to them in mere exhortation and eloquence but "also in power," which governed their conduct. This was not to win applause, but in his own case he labored for their sakes (v. 5) and in their case they had received the word "with joy" in the midst of affliction to the end that they became examples (patterns or types; literally, like the far echoing notes of a trumpet) (v. 7) to all that dwelt in the regions thereabout. Their obedience, consistency and missionary spirit (vv. 8-10) sounded forth everywhere and all that needed to be done was to say, "Behold the church of Thessalonica!" (5) Paul's glory and joy (2:17-20). Paul sets forth his character as a Christian worker (2:1-16). (a) His physical boldness (vv. 1, 2); (b) his faithful, impartial teaching (vv. 3-6), affectionately kind (7,8), unselfish, working for his own support (v. 9), holy and consistent (13-16). No one "had anything on him," and such a life dares to be bold, though it is not free from persecution (v. 15). (6) Paul's desire (2:17-20). He here sets forth why this letter was written. Separated from them by persecution, he desires to return and supply the things they were yet lacking and to see face to face those whom he loved. Satan prevented (v. 18) doubtless using the bitter persecution stirred up against him. He had therefore sent Timothy from Berea to comfort them (3:15), who had made such a good report (3:1-10) that it urged Paul to greater prayer (vv. 11-13) on their behalf.

II. Ignorance Illumined (4:13-18). Paul rebukes certain sins (4:1-12), exhorting them to godliness and to love one another. He then touches upon a doctrine which was one of his strongest reasons for writing to these Thessalonians. The imminent return of Christ had been strongly emphasized, but in the months of Paul's absence some of their number had died, died without seeing Christ's promised glory. Would those who remained have any advantage over the dead saints when Christ should come? It is to set their thinking aright that Paul writes. This he does by outlining the great and blessed hope of the church in its "rapture" at Christ's coming. This is more clearly set forth here than anywhere else in the New Testament. Those who mourned over departed loved ones are not to "sorrow as those who had no hope." Jesus the risen, everlasting Savior and king, is certainly coming again in his kingdom of glory, "with a shout, with the voice of the archangel." Their sorrow is not that of the world, for those departed are but "sleeping" and will come back with Jesus when he comes. Together they who sleep and we who are alive shall be caught up "to meet the Lord in the air," all to dwell together forevermore with the Lord.

Paul's description of the events of this second coming, this rapture of the church, has not yet been fulfilled, but he and the disciples were not mistaken as to its nearness, its imminence.

III. The Hope of Church and State (5:14-24). The letter closes with moral exhortations with reference to spiritual leaders, care of one another, the spirit of prayer; and he exhorts them not to "quench the Spirit" by despising prophesying, that preaching and testifying which can be exercised by the weakest, feeblest member of the church if he be Spirit-endued.

BELGIAN REFUGEE COLONY DWINDLES

Million Once in Holland Has Declined Now to About 65,000.

The Hague, Netherlands, June 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—From a million after the fall of Antwerp, the number of Belgian refugees in Holland has declined to about 65,000 today, according to official information given to the Associated Press. The rest of the terror-stricken throngs which poured over the Dutch frontier have returned to their homes in Belgium, or gone to England or France and, to some small extent, to America.

Numerous Belgians are still arriving from over the border, driven out by the hard conditions of existence there, but this accession is apparently counterbalanced by the overflow from Holland in various directions. Of the 65,000 still enjoying Dutch hospitality, 15,000 are now accommodated in the four refugee camps at Ede, Nunspeet, Gouda and Uden, while the remainder are scattered among private families.

Apart from several million dollars provided by voluntary donations, the country's hospitality had up to the end of last year cost the Dutch government some $5,000,000, while a sum of $2,000,000 has been voted for the current year that will, unless peace arrives meantime, have to be raised to probably $3,000,000. The Belgian government's offer of reinforcement was generously declined.

Any needy Belgians are free to enter the refugee villages, or if private families care to keep them, and there is no objection on the part of the local authorities, the burgomaster is empowered to allow fourteen American cents a day per adult towards their maintenance and 8 cents per child, while the silent sufferers belonging to the better classes, socalled "pauvres honteux," of whom there are something under 2,000 receive 25 cents a day per person through a special committee.

Excellent arrangements have been made in the matter of education. Under the direction of a Dutch-Belgian commission, as many as 48 primary schools have been established, with 4,500 scholars, in which instruction is given by certificated Belgian teachers. Secondary schools have also been set up at The Hague, Amsterdam and Middelburg, while an "atheneum" established at Flushing numbers 125 pupils. There are, in addition, technical schools destined for both interned Belgian soldiers and refugees. Grants are made to these various institutions by the Dutch and Belgian governments.

The entire work of relief promises to be a lasting honor to Holland and its traditional hospitality.

DOWN THE STREET BUT IT PAYS TO WALK

Will Chain Wife-Beaters to Post on Street Corner

"Wife beaters' post for you" will be the sentence to wife beaters found guilty in Judge J. H. Brady's court hereafter, according to the judge.

Aroused by the number of wife beating cases that came before him, Judge Brady asked Mayor Green for permission to erect a post at one of the busiest corners in the city. Permission was granted.

"It does no good to send wife beaters to the workhouse," Brady said. "Henceforth we will chain them tothe post in a prominent place so everyone who passes may see the sort of brute who uses his fists and feet on a woman. Maybe the humiliation will do more good than workhouse sentences. It is a shame the law does not allow whipping posts."

Washington, July 7.—More than half a million Mexicans are residents of the United States!

When the census was taken in 1910 there were 394,115 persons of Mexican birth or Mexican parentage in the country. Of these, 221,915 were born in Mexico and 102,200 had one or both parents born in Mexico.

Just what the increase has been since is not know nexactly, but is rated at 50 per cent, which would mean 592,000 Mexicans are resident in the United States.

In 1890 there were only 77,853 persons of Mexican birth or parentage in the population of the United States. By 1900 this number had grown to 103,393, an increase of 32.8 per cent. Between 1900 and 1910 the increase was 114.6 per cent, but census officials say this large increase has not held good for the past six years.

As might be expected, the bulk of the Mexican population is in the four border states, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. But many Mexicans are scattered over the country, especially in the west. Some are to be found as far north as Wisconsin.

There are Mexicans in the United States army, too

The war department does not know how many because such information has never been compiled except in the classification of "white," "negro" and "Indians."

According to the 1910 census, there were at that time 232,920 persons of Mexican birth or parentage in Texas; 21,948 in New Mexico; 51,102 in Arizona, and 51,037 in California, a total of 357,007, or 91 per cent of all the Mexicans in the United States.

A special census taken in January, 1916, for El Paso, showed that of a total permanent population of 61,898 over half, 52.9 per cent, were Mexicans, who numbered 32,724.

In addition, and not included in the permanent population, there were then at El Paso 7,051 refugees, of whom 6,555 were Mexicans, making the total more than 30,000 of a total population of 71,000.

In 1910, the city of Laredo, Tex., had 7,081 citizens of Mexican birth, and an unknown number of Mexicans of Mexican parentage, in a total population of 14,855. San Antonio had 9,906 Mexicans of Mexican birth in a total population of 96,614.

In 1910, Yuma-co, Ariz., had 932 Mexican-born citizens in a total population of 7,733; Santa Cruz-co, in which the town of Nogales is situated, had 2,615 Mexican-born residents in a total population of 6,766; Cochise-co, in which are located Naco and Douglas, Ariz., had 5,512 Mexican-born residents in a total population of 34,591.

A large part of the Mexican population of the United States are laborers on construction work, on railroads and in mining. Some are engaged in ranching.

Schenectady, N. Y., July 7.—Electricity to do the cooking, run the electric fan, the wireless telephone and the aeroplane for every man and woman is the hope of Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, the wizard inventor of Schenectady.

Dr. Steinmetz is bending every effort on plans to produce this electric power at a cost within the reach of rich and poor alike.

"To make electricity the universal driving power it must be cheaper than anything now used in its place," says Steinmetz.

"I am working on a system to generate more and more electricity at a lower and lower rate, instead of specializing on any particular invention."

Throw Away Your Eye-Glasses!

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye-weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing, say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At times they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to the Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros. Co. or to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in ¼ glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid, bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

A prominent City Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."

By accident or chance some of the world's best known advertising phrases have been coined. Office boys often drop a word that is picked up and made famous where high salaried men have studied themselves gray headed to find a word or phrase that is "pat."

So many people have come to our office saying some friend told them "I could get better glasses at Meigs" that we decided we would advertise what we already knew and call our modern shop "the place to get better glasses." Find 1012 Calhoun street, the Lyric Theater Building, and let us show you—we really make better glasses.
